VICTORIA'S LOSS.

Intense Feeling Throughout the United Kingdom Over the Foundering of the Battle Ship Victoria.

An Immense Crowd Around the Admiralty Office Ready to Grasp Any Speck of Information.

The List of Those Saved Was Received and Relieved the Anxieties of Their Relatives.

On the Other Hand it Brought Sorrow to Friends of Those Who Were Drowned.

LONDON, June 24.—It would be hard to describe the feeling that prevails everywhere in the kingdom in regard to the calamity that has befallen this country, through the loss of the battle ship Victoria off Tripoli and the drowning of some of her officers and crew. Fear for the dead and sympathy for the relatives and friends of those who went down with the ship is widespread. In some quarters a certain amount of indignation is expressed that such an accident should occur, but so far as known there is no foundation for this feeling.

The lack of details caused by the remoteness of the scene of disaster allows of no expression of definite opinion and full reports of the accident are eagerly awaited. It is not believed that a full story of the sad affair can be obtained until the arrival at Malta of the Camperdown, which ran into the Victoria, or some other vessel belonging to the British Mediterranean squadron conveying survivors from the Victoria.

A special staff of officials was kept on duty all night at the admiralty office at Whitehall for the purpose of receiving any official dispatches that might arrive. The only information received, however, was the names of those who had been saved and it was all that came to hand at 8:30 this morning. In the meantime an immense crowd gathered around the admiralty office ready to grasp any speck of information. In the crowd were many sad faced women and children and young girls whose husbands, fathers, or sweethearts were members of the ill-fated crew.

Hundreds of persons living in the provinces, who had relatives or friends on board the Victoria, could not wait at home for the report of further details of the disaster. As soon as they heard of the foundering of the ship, they took trains for London in the belief that at the admiralty office they would soon learn whether their loved ones had escaped or gone down with the vessel.

When the women found that the names they were listening for were not on the list they cried bitterly, and turning from the crowd walked slowly and despondently away. Many of the women were violent in their demonstrations of sorrow, while still others fainted away and had to be attended by the police, extra numbers of whom were on duty in the vicinity.

The only touch of gladness to the scene was when some one in the crowd heard the name of husband, father or lover read. In an instant the look of despair would vanish and be replaced with a smile and a brightening of the eyes that brought forth reciprocal smiles from those who were only attracted to the place through curiosity. Many of the crowd still linger about the admiralty.

The vessel lies in 420 feet of water and it would be an almost impossible task to recover the dead. It is probable that in the course of a few days a number of the bodies will float out from the hull and these will be watched for and given burial on land.

Funds are being started in different parts of the country to aid those who have lost their supporters. Gratifying subscriptions are being made to these funds and it is believed that large sums of money will be raised. Among the prominent subscribers to the fund started by the lord mayor of London is the queen, who has donated £100 to aid the stricken families.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Malta states that the Victoria was cut in two. Most of those who lost their lives were drowned by being drawn under the water by the suction caused by the sinking ship.

Sir George Tryon was picked up shortly after the foundering of his vessel and carried on board the battleship Edinburgh, belonging to his fleet, where he died soon afterwards. The body will be conveyed to Malta. The remainder of the fleet is due to arrive at Malta on Monday.

CHARLES CRAMP'S VIEWS.
The Disaster Shows the Superiority of the English Ram.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Charles H. Cramp, head of the great ship and engine building company of William Cramp & Sons, and one of the most thoroughly versed men in marine architecture, when asked for his opinion in regard to the accident to the Victoria said:

"I cannot understand why she turned upside down, in fact, I know so little about the details of the accident that it is almost impossible for me to talk. Indeed, we may never know the reason of the quickness with which the Victoria sank, for those who could tell us best are probably among the dead. One thing the disaster shows is the superiority of the English ram. Ramming a vessel is a legitimate mode of naval warfare and the English have built their ram on excellent models.

"Yes, all our great battle ships are liable to such disasters. They cannot help but be. Their armor and the guns on top make them liable to sink in case of collision. War vessels are not constructed in regard to safety as much as they should be. The more a vessel's stability is increased, the more apt she is to roll in the sea. Cranky people therefore protest against too much stability, because the less stability there is the more comfortable the vessel will be for the officers and passengers. It will roll less when in the waves.

"Builders of vessels are not allowed scope enough in their plans by the government. I mean this to apply generally to all governments. They are brought down to a very narrow compass. Then when there is a disaster like this the rabble will cry out for reform and get something worse. I will make a careful study of the testimony taken in this case and after a while we may know just why the overturning of the Victoria occurred. But I would say generally that all the modern vessels are liable to such mishaps."

STUDYING THE VESSEL.

Crowds Visited the Model of the Victoria at the Fair.

CHICAGO, June 24.—A large crowd had gathered about the model of H. M. S. Victoria in transportation building as early as 9 o'clock this morning. The elevated platform and its approaches were crowded with people who with newspapers in hand were comparing the accounts with the model before them.

Many pointed out the place where the Camperdown's prow had struck the ill-fated ship while others were busy counting her guns, reading the description of the boat and her armor plate and inspecting the torpedo net which hung out from the water line.

It is understood a large placard giving a condensed account of yesterday's accident to the splendid battle ship will be placed in front of the vessel today by those in charge of the exhibit.

PERKINS' HEAD OFF.

The Superintendent of the Tenth Division of the Railroad Mail Service Has Been Removed.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—[Special to The Herald].—A few weeks ago Representative Baldwin tried to secure the removal of Norman Perkins, superintendent of the Tenth division railroad mail service, with headquarters at St. Paul. Mr. Perkins was informed at the time that his removal was in the classified service and could not be removed.

Perkins had fallen, however, into Postmaster General Bissell's official waste basket and it is believed Michael Doran is the man responsible for the removal. Perkins is charged with partisanship, it being claimed that he used his office to further the interests of the Republican party.

Mr. Baldwin has a Duluth candidate for Perkins' position, Mike Doran's son-in-law, T. J. McDermott is likely to get it.

George Frelers a Sleigh.
OTTAWA, Ont., June 24.—There having been considerable difference of opinion as to the proposed gift of the women of Canada to Prince George and Princess May on the occasion of their wedding, Lady Derby recently wrote to Prince George expressing her preference. Today a reply was received stating that a Canadian made sleigh would be most acceptable. Subscriptions are coming in rapidly and it is intended that the gift shall be a triumph of Canadian workmanship.

The Elitism of Championships.
TORONTO, June 25.—Champion Oarsman Stansbury has declined to accept Gaudaur's challenge to row three miles with a turn for the championship of the world. He offers to row Gaudaur three miles with a turn for the championship of America or will row him three miles straight away for the championship of the world, each of them for $5000. Stansbury claims that the championship of America has always been with a turn and the world's championship over a straight away course, and he refuses to change these conditions.

Heaps of Cigar Ashes.
NEW YORK, June 24.—The extensive cigar factory of S. S. Gable in this city was consumed by fire this morning. The loss will reach $100,000 with insurance of $4,000.

The Editor Lest.
BERLIN, June 24.—The second ballot in Perkins' position, Bissell, has resulted in the defeat of Editor Hoch, the Social Democratic candidate. The vote in the district stood: Burgomaster Stoh, Conservative, 17,760; Editor Hoch, 17,720; Conservative majority, 1010.

Ex-Senator Van Wyck Dying.
LONDON, June 24.—Reports from the country home of ex-Senator Van Wyck, who suffered a paralytic stroke a month ago, are to the effect that he is slowly sinking. Friends who visited him yesterday found him very weak and predict that he will never leave his home alive.

THE FINANCIAL ISSUE.

The Bankers' Congress at Chicago Today Drew a Large Crowd to Hear Financialists' Opinions.

Views Were Exchanged in regard to the Present Financial Situation in the United States.

Logan C. Murray, of New York, Urged the Necessity of Upholding the Hands of the President.

CHICAGO, June 24.—One of the large rooms of the art palace was crowded at noon today with the delegates in attendance on the international congress of banking and financing in response to a call for a special meeting to exchange views regarding the present financial situation in this country. The representatives of the local banks had also been invited to attend and the response from officers of these institutions was large.

The opening address was delivered by Logan C. Murray, of New York. He said such a storm and wave of liquidation had passed over the country, beginning in New York and now extending itself to the Pacific coast, that it would seem that the present low tide was a most appropriate time for the bankers and financiers of the country to discuss the root of the trouble. It could not be denied that the banking institutions of the country had met the crisis with a wonderful show of strength. The determination of the president to convene congress for the purpose of grappling with the root of the evil, the continued purchase of silver, was to be commended. The congress should give no uncertain sound to the sentiment that this evil must be eradicated from the commercial system.

The results of the resumption of gold payments in 1879 should not and must not be disturbed and the hands of the president should be upheld. All honor to Harrison and Cleveland for their refusal to inflict for a purpose which is tantamount to selling bonds for gold to buy more silver, and it should and would bring damnation to any party that would inflict a further interest bearing debt upon the United States. No party could justify itself in such action while it had command of a hundred millions of gold which has thus far and doubtless will continue to be sufficient to meet all requirements.

It would seem opportune at this time to assure the investors of Europe, who have been returning our securities and taking our gold for them, that we have both the ability and the intention to maintain the gold standard. This idea should not be too strongly impressed upon the minds of Europe, and the congress should emphasize with no uncertain sound this patriotic intention and thus quiet Europe on our intention of paying our debts in gold and not on a silver basis.

The idea of putting out an interest bearing debt in time of peace and prosperity, simply for the purpose of forcing a silver chain about the necks of the commercial world, was suicidal and unpatriotic and a wrong to the people. The country had barely escaped a day of reckoning, and further delay in meeting this question might mean greater disaster. The speaker impressed upon the congress the necessity of reassuring foreign investors, so that they would not turn back the great avalanche of securities held across the Atlantic for fear that the United States will reckon their value in silver instead of gold.

SHE FIRED AT HIM.
Two Members of Litt's Stock Company Met a Lone Highwayman.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 24.—Misses Belle Archer and Carrie Turner, of the Jacob Litt Stock company, now playing in Minneapolis, had a thrilling experience Thursday night. They live in St. Paul and started to drive home alone in a buggy after the play.

About midway between the two cities they were held up by a lone robber, who stopped their horse. Miss Archer, who was driving, gave the reins to Miss Turner and fired a revolver at the robber. He was frightened off and disappeared in the bushes.

HE HIT A BURGLAR.

E. F. Searing Shoots a Thief, Wounding Him in the Head.

MANHATTAN, Minn., June 24.—E. F. Searing, city editor of the Free Press, shot a burglar at 1:30 a. m. yesterday as he was making an entrance into the residence of Searing's father, President Edward Searing, of the state normal school.

The burglar was entering a kitchen window when Mr. Searing shot him in the head, inflicting a serious wound, which felled him. The man escaped, however, leaving trails of blood behind him. A search party was organized and the man will probably be found.

Reichert Was Victorious.
BERLIN, June 24.—The second ballot to decide who should represent Offenburger, Baden, in the Reichstag was held yesterday and resulted in the return of Herr Maximilian Reichert, Centerist, by a majority of 525 over Herr Von Schauenberg, the candidate of the National Liberals.

A Bandit Captured.
FERGUS FALLS, Minn., June 24.—The lone bandit who went through the Northern Pacific sleeping car between Wadena and Fergus Falls has been caught at Frazee. He was brought here for hearing.

A Statesman's Death.
LONDON, June 24.—A dispatch from Durban, Natal, announces the death of Hon. H. C. Shepstone, secretary for native affairs for that colony.

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A Large Attendance Despite the Great Racing Attraction.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUND, CHICAGO, June 24.—The $60,000 American Derby, to be run this afternoon at Washington Park, close to the White City, is the great rival of the exposition today. As a counter attraction the classic event will keep many thousands of people from contributing to the attendance at the fair, for such a derby will never be seen again probably in the life time of the people in Chicago. Fine weather, however, insures a large attendance at the exposition in spite of the sport of kings.

A large delegation representing the Arkansas Press association arrived at the park today. The newspaper men and women from that state have come here for business and social purposes as well as sightseeing like the press association from Minnesota, Tennessee, Kentucky, Illinois and other states have already done. The Arkansas visitors first visited their own state building and registered. This afternoon they were rendered a reception by the commissioners at the state building.

In the mining building this morning the only exhibit of pearls in the department was displayed to an admiring public in a velvet lined glass covered showcase in the Wisconsin pavilion. The exhibit is particularly interesting because the gems come from the river beds of Wisconsin and they are said by experts to compare favorably in size, color and shape with the gems which divers bring from the bed of the Indian ocean and other oriental pearl fisheries.

MURDER IN MISSOURI.

The Result of a Family Feud and More Trouble Expected.

WHEATLAND, Mo., June 24.—Wednesday morning, while Siegel Paxton and John Crites were crossing the river in a boat six miles north of here, they were fired on by a man standing on a bluff. The first shot struck Paxton in the right side. He pitched forward and as he fell a second bullet struck him in the head. He fell into the river and his body has not yet been recovered.

Crites leaped from the boat and swam to the opposite side unhurt. Men on shore recognized the two men with guns. One of them, Enos Quigg, a cousin of Paxton, has been arrested. The murder is the result of a family feud. Both parties have many friends and it is believed that more trouble will follow.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

The Author of a Finnish Murder to be Hanged Next Month.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 24.—Yesterday Walter E. Shaw, the lawyer who on March 31 last year brutally murdered his mother and an aged aunt by cutting their throats, was sentenced by Judge Cavin to be hanged July 28.

The scene in the court room was most dramatic. Shaw, when asked if he had anything to say, made a long speech. He declared that he had been tried by a "kangaroo court" and that his attorneys who had exhausted every resort known to the legal fraternity to permit a murderer to escape were bungling fools. He claims to be glad that the "kangaroo" show is over and that he is soon to be executed. His crime was the most heinous ever perpetrated in Texas.

THE FLURRY HAS PASSED.

The Banks in San Francisco Can Meet All Demands.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—The opinion of the bankers of San Francisco was that the Pacific bank was compelled to suspend because it made unwise investments in securities from which it could not get its money, and the People's Home Savings bank was compelled to suspend because it had not on hand coin enough to stand the run sure to follow the suspension of the Pacific bank, its business associate.

MURDER AT BRAINERD.

A Chinaman Killed by Another Chinaman and Then Cremated.

BRAINERD, Minn., June 24.—Intense excitement was occasioned here late yesterday afternoon over the finding of the ashes of a Chinaman under the floor of a rival's laundry. A little later one of the shoes of the dead man was found in a closet.

It seems that on Sunday evening Wing Sing and two other Chinamen invited Lee Chump to a green turtle supper. Since that time nothing has been seen of Lee Chump, and today Lee Sing, his partner, got the police to make an investigation, resulting in the discovery that a horrible butchery had been committed. The three Chinamen supposed to be implicated in the murder are under arrest.

Six of the Business Places of Leipsic, Ohio, Destroyed.

LEIPSIK, Ohio, June 24.—At midnight last night the saloon building occupied by Theo Gerdmann was discovered to be on fire. The flames spread to surrounding buildings and six of the best business places were destroyed.

Losses: Gerdmann, $800; Edwards Bros., hardware, $13,000; J. T. Timmerman, druggist, $3000; dwelling and contents, $5000, with no insurance. Lew Woods, building $500. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Two young men were arrested for stealing goods during the fire.

A SILVER MAN'S TALK.

Congressman Cobb, of Alabama, Does Not Think the Sherman Law Will be Unconditionally Repealed.

His Section Opposes its Appeal Without a Substitute to Relieve the Present Financial Stringency.

Prefer Free Silver Coinage But, Failing That, Insist on More Equal Distribution of Currency.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—"I hardly think there will be an unconditional repeal of the Sherman law," said Congressman James E. Cobb, of Alabama. "My section of country is not, especially, enamored of the Sherman law, but it opposes its repeal unless some substitute is found that will give relief from the present financial stringency. My constituents, first of all, advocates of free silver coinage, and still think congress should pass such a measure, but if that cannot be done they would prefer to see some measure that would approximate as nearly as possible to the benefit they believe would flow from placing silver on an equal status with gold. They want both a greater volume of money and such modification of the financial system, as far as legislation can effect it, as will bring about a more equal distribution of the currency.

WRECKED BY FORGERY.

An Indiana Investment Company Forced to the Wall.

ELWOOD, Ind., June 24.—The Alexandria Investment company has been wrecked by Frank P. Searce, of Lexington, Ky. He has forged papers obtaining over $50,000 in that way alone. His partner, J. P. Luck, also from Lexington, is a partner in the company. The affairs of the Alexandria concern have been assigned to J. S. Jackson, of Anderson, Searce gave himself up to jailer Wilkerson at Lexington, Ky., yesterday. The amount of the forgeries, as far as can be learned, is $35,000.

A Destructive Worm.
SATE RAPIDS, Minn., June 24.—A very peculiar worm is at work in the timbered portions of the country. It is said to be about an inch and a half to two inches long when full grown, striped in color underneath the gray and yellow spotted on the back. It eats everything clean as it goes. It destroys the gardens and in some places is attacking the fields and the trees and forests are as bare as in the middle of the winter. The worm is working its way southward.

President Oakes' Offer.
CHICAGO, June 24.—President T. F. Oakes, of the Northern Pacific, has been offered and will probably accept the presidency of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. He has not yet accepted the offer, but it was made with the full knowledge of his present salary, and is so much larger that he can hardly afford to refuse.

NEW FINANCIAL PROPOSALS.

The Changes That Are to Be Made in the Home Rule Bill.

LONDON, June 24.—The new financial proposals in connection with the proposed establishment of an Irish parliament were issued today. The original clauses, ten, relating to a separate consolidated fund and taxes; eleven relating to hereditary revenues and income tax; twelve relating to financial arrangements as between the United Kingdom and Ireland and thirteen relating to the treasury account of Ireland are omitted from the new proposals.

The new scheme provides that the revenue shall be divided into two classes, general and special. The general revenue shall consist of the gross taxes, Ireland's portion of the hereditary crown revenues and a certain amount of the customs and excise duties collected in England on articles consumed in Ireland. The residue of the general class of revenue, after Ireland's imperial contribution shall have been paid, shall form the special revenue. Ireland shall bear her own civil charges. A separate exchequer and consolidated fund shall be established.

The taxes imposed by the Irish parliament shall form part of the special revenue to be applied to the public service of Ireland. The postage duties of Ireland until the imperial contribution shall have been revised shall be imposed by the imperial parliament. If the post-office revenue shall be less than the expenditures the deficiency must be paid to the imperial exchequer out of the Irish exchequer.

An illustrative treasury statement, based upon the receipts and expenditures of 1892-93, shows a surplus of £512,000.

NO DOCUMENTS STOLEN.

The Story About Treasonable Papers Being Taken From the British Embassy.

LONDON, June 24.—The matter of the documents that the Paris diplomatist organ, the Cocarde, alleged had been stolen from their embassy in Paris came up in the house of commons yesterday on a question asked by Henry Labouchere, Radical, for Northampton, who desired to be informed by the government if there was any foundation for the story published by the Cocarde.

Timothy Healy, anti-Parnellite member for North Louth, asked in a satirical tone if forged documents had been supplied to M. Millevoye who, in the French chamber, caused an uproar by reading a portion of the alleged stolen documents from the office of the London Times, a sly allusion to the Pigott forgeries that were exposed by Parnell's special commission.

Mr. Healy's question caused considerable laughter among the Irish members and cries of "Oh" from others. Sir Edward Gatty, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, replied that no documents had been stolen from the British embassy. He added that the documents that M. Millevoye had read were gross forgeries, and said that he did not know from where or by whom the forgeries had been supplied to the Cocarde or M. Millevoye.

CLASS DAY AT HARVARD.

The Oration Delivered by Billings L. Hand of Albany.

BOSTON, June 24.—The Harvard class day exercises were opened with prayer by Dean Lawrence in Sanford's theater, Cambridge, yesterday. The oration was delivered by Billings L. Hand, of Albany, one of the brightest in his class. He is the editor of the Harvard Advocate, belongs to several of the leading college societies and has been a steady candidate for his class eleven and crew. The oration was of marked literary excellence and was clearly and forcibly given.

The poem was by William Vaughn Story Moody, of Lafayette, Ind. The oration was the most amusing feature of the morning exercises, James Mustin Wilder, of Honolulu, the funny man of his class, being the orator. The oration was full of wit and was highly appreciated by the audience. The singing of the class ode, which was written by David Saville Muzzey, of Lexington, Mass., closed the exercises in the theater, and the visitors and the seniors repaired to their various spreads.

The Maple Sugar Bounty.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 24.—The maple sugar laboratory at Montpelier has been closed for the season. There have been weighed for inspection 475,762 pounds, of which 85,000 pounds have tested 90 degrees and over; 4,043,880 pounds have tested between 80 degrees and 90 degrees, and 830,880 pounds less than 80 degrees. The amount of bounty will therefore be in the vicinity of $65,500. This covers the product of the New England states. The Vermont bounty will be close to $70,000.

Several Bank Failures.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Comptroller Eckels has been officially informed of the failure Thursday of the following national banks: The First National bank of Kendallville, Ind.; the First National bank of Santa Ana, California; the First National bank of Whitcom, Wash. The July Meeting.

All entries for the Duluth Driving Park Association's July meeting close today and a fine lot of horses are already entered, and others are coming in. The great derby, a three mile dash for trotters eligible to the 2:35 class is proving to be a popular event. The purse is $1,500 and the entries only 450. The meeting is being well advertised and there is every indication that it will be a success in every particular.

There will be no bookmaking on the track this year, but simply pool selling. In this connection the following from the Kentucky Stock Farm will be interesting and it will be concurred in by those who watched the operations of the bookmakers here last fall.

The position of the bookmaker is altogether different from that of the pool-seller. The bookmaker is a better himself and the heaviest bettor at the meeting. The pool-seller is a mere stockholder, and as he gets his percentage no matter which horse wins or loses, he has no interest in the results of the race. The bookmaker, on the other hand, is interested in the success of the horses he has bet on, and it is his business to cultivate the acquaintance of the owners, drivers and trainers, and thus to become thoroughly familiar with the merits and probabilities of winning of every horse entered. He bets from the inside and has an immense advantage over the general public, and it is this fact that throws the chances of winning greatly in his favor, even when there are no corrupt combinations entered, and as human nature is constituted, must in many instances be true. The presence of the book-maker is thus a continual menace to the purity of the turf and track.

It is undoubtedly true that while pool-selling, especially while betting on heats is permitted, is not without liability to fraud, the practice of book-making is far more conducive to dishonesty and trickery.

Banking and Currency.

The congress of bankers and financiers which has been held at Chicago during the past week has been the means of presenting to the public the views of many leading business men from all parts of the country on our present banking system and the currency problem. One of the speakers last Wednesday was Hon. J. H. Walker, whose work in finance in the Fifty-first and Fifty-second congresses, of which he was a member, has given him a national reputation.Mr. Walker was a member of the committees on banking and currency and coinage, weights and measures, in the house of representatives, and has done much toward securing sound financial legislation outside the halls of congress.He has written a number of able papers on financial subjects and has published a book, "Money, Trade and Banking," which attracted much attention at the time it appeared and has since become a standard book in all financial libraries.Mr. Walker is a member-elect of the Fifty-third congress and will therefore not only have a chance to talk in favor of sound money legislation, but to help shape it and vote for it as well.Mr. Walker's address at Chicago was able and exhaustive, discussing the banking and currency question at great length, and it was listened to with deep attention by the members of the congress. He concluded that there is but one sure and effective remedy for the financial ills that every candid man admits are now afflicting this country.There is no help for us, he maintained, while the government continues its purchases of silver to increase currency, or while the United States government is responsible for the "current redemption" in either gold or silver coin, of a single million of treasury notes or legal tender notes. We know the people will not justify congress in levying taxes to pay them; therefore some other practical method of disposing of them, of which the people will approve, must be devised. Neither can tax or state bank circulation be safely repeated until every government legal tender note is disposed of.The committee on banking and currency of the last congress reported to the house a bill (H. R. 10715) which will be before the next congress, which, in Mr.
Walker's opinion, fully meets and remedies every defect and difficulty of our financial situation. Repeat the purchase clause of the silver act of July 14, 1890, and pass the banking bill mentioned, and we shall, he argued, be immediately in a stronger financial situation, as well as in every other, than any country on the face of the earth.For security the bill provides that every bank shall keep its cash reserve in coin, at least half in gold coin, and may keep the other half in silver coin.For quantity and elasticity it provides that banks may issuecurrency notes at any time to an amount equal to their average reserve during any six consecutive months in the previous year, and the comptroller may reduce the sum to their average reserve during any other six consecutive months, thus earning income on the reserve, and giving elasticity of $100,000,000 to $200,- 000,000.It provides that banks must proportionately take upon themselves the "current redemption" of existing legal tender notes, by each bank taking a part of them equal to the currency it issues because of its reserves, the government to "finally redeem" them when the bank goes out of business.The bill also provides for more perfect examination and reports by the examiners; for an expert board of advisers (directors) associated with the comptroller; that banks may be used by the secretary of the treasury to do the work of current redemption of bank notes, etc.Bonds are eliminated, but every other beneficial feature of our present national banking system is kept and perfected, and a tax imposed upon banks of one mill per annum on each dollar they issue of currency. This tax, small as it is, will yield many times more money than the losses to holders of bills could possibly be, as shown by thirty years of experience. This tax to remain in the United States treasury in place of bond security.The scheme contains not a single new feature in banking. It would simply apply to banking in this country, those maxims and regulations concerning all things affecting banks, that are approved by the experience of the ages and are now in operation in the strongest European banks.

A Splendid Charity.

The New York Herald last summer organized and carried through a practical charity which took into poorer quarters of that city, comfort and life to many miserable sufferers. It endeavored to furnish ice to everybody in the city who was too poor to buy it. From July 1 to Sept. 15 it kept 15 dispensaries opened, and filled 210,000 applications at a cost of $10,000. Many people received ice every day during the term. Most of the applications were made out for a week, and altogether 16,000 people were pleased with this healing necessity.Ice by the quantity is cheap in New York—$2.50 a ton—but by the time this 200,000 pounds is divided up and gets down to the ice peddlers of the slums a lump the size of a man's two fists cost 2 cents, and the people who need it the most desperately are not likely to have 2 cents.The Herald received the subscription, bought the ice, managed the dispensaries and invited every charity worker and every charitable organization to furnish every needy person with an order for what ice was required. No lines were drawn anywhere and no person, good or bad, was shut out.This summer the Herald has taken up the work again. A balance of $1,400 was carried over from last year, and the subscriptions already received have brought the amount up to $1,600. This is a practical charity that might be profitably initiated in other cities.

Evidence of Prosperity.

And still Duluth continues to head the procession of leading cities in the matter of bank clearings. While other cities in the East and West appear to be suffering considerably from the stringency in the money market, Duluth is experiencing a continuous development that is in marked contrast. Business here is in good shape, barring a little slowness in collections, while on every hand new buildings are going up, indicating the faith that property owners have in the city's future. Our trade is growing daily, and new industries are constantly locating here, while the population shows a steady gain.All these facts are made evident in the statement of bank clearings published weekly by Bradstreet's publication. Week by week Duluth has made the most favorable showing, always exhibiting a big increase over the corresponding period of last year, while other cities show large decreases. The statement for the week ending yesterday shows an increase of 39.5 per cent, while on the other hand Minneapolis shows a decrease of 29.8 per cent, St. Paul a decrease of 12.7 per cent, Denver a decrease of 11.6 per cent, Chicago a decrease of 18 per cent, and Pittsburgh a falling off of 19.5 per cent. These figures speak in trump-pet tones of Duluth's prosperity and solidity.

Ask Them to Resign.

Referring to the disgraceful row that is going on among the members of the Minnesota Woman's board at the World's fair, the Winona Herald urges that, for the sacred honor of the stateand for the good name of the fair daughters who have been appointed to the distinguished positions they occupy, the governor should demand their resignations without qualification, and that other ladies be appointed as their successors, who will act in sweet communion together.The Herald endorses this idea. Minnesota is being disgraced by this feminine quarreling, that is as ridiculous as it is unnecessary. What difference does it make who installs the exhibits? The governor has been asked to settle the quarrel, and the best way he can do it is to request the whole lot to resign.

Another Infant Industry.

The maple sugar business of New England will receive $72,500 in bounty this year from the struggling industries, of course, that require protection, according to the McKinley idea, and therefore the country must pay a large amount out of the public treasury to keep it on its feet until it is able to meet foreign competition.If this were not done we might see the maple sugar manufacturers of Europe, with aid of cheap labor, crowding our own struggling manufacturers out of the home market by cutting down the price to unprofitable limits. Such an awful catastrophe cannot be permitted to occur, even if it takes ten times the present amount of bounty to prevent it.The maple sugar industry of America must and shall be preserved, and if a Democratic administration, at the diction of English free traders, shall attempt to abolish the bounty now paid, the McKinley protectionists will make its retention one of the leading planks of their platform.

The other strokes occurred before the

New York city on March 9, 1820. At 17 years of age he graduated from Columbia college and in 1837 he received from

In 1872 he commenced publishing court very brilliant, decisions rendered by him jurist to an associate justiceship in the supreme court of the United States, which position he has since held.

THE AMERICAN DERBY

An Immense Crowd Gathered at Washington Park, Chicago, This Afternoon to See the Race.

An International Flavor Given by the Presence of Many Englishmen, New Yorkers and Californians.

The Weather Was Beautiful, the Track Was in Good Condition and Everything Was Favorable.

WASHINGTON PARK, CHICAGO, June 24.—When Secretary Brewster called in the last harrow and drag this noon, Washington Park was as fit for the tenth American derby as any race track could be. The lowering clouds, that all morning threatened rain, were dispelled by a brisk southwest wind that dried everything up as crisp as a shaving. A better day for the derby was never planned and as early as 9 o'clock a majority of the local sports had possession of the track. By 11 o'clock an immense crowd had gathered and it might be said that it was but the vanguard of the veritable exodus that was streaming toward the track over every boulevard, avenue and channel of transportation from the heart of the city.

An international flavor, too, was given to the crowd by the presence of so many Englishmen, New Yorkers, Californians and last but not least, Hip Lung, the wealthy celestial who never misses a derby. It is estimated by Secretary Brewster that when all that seek admission reach the interior of the grounds the 100,000 mark will be passed.

Seventeen horses are carded to do battle in the derby, but no one can be found who will assure the officials that this number will not be reduced by the time the bugle sounds to at least twelve. Despite all sorts of talk about Johnny Campbell's sudden trick, Miles Standish sprang at the last moment as a probable starter, the bulk of the sentiment is with the colt Don Alonso. G. W. Johnson is not liked to any great degree and Ramapo is favored by the pickers.

Strathrose, whose presence gives England a rare possibility to take down the big $50,000 prize, is liked to run third. He cannot be expected to do better than look at the Keene entry or Don Alonso and Clifford, whose performances at Latonia are alluded to as track scorers.

Local betters are mostly following Jockey Fitzpatrick's tip upon St. Leonards.

Everything tends to show that today's derby will have a large field; that it will be the swiftest betting race Chicago ever had, and that the largest crowd that ever witnessed the great 3-year-old event of the world will either go broke or return home in their gaudy conveyances with plenty of bookmakers' money.

THE WHIST CONGRESS.

The Finals to Be Played Today by Minneapolis and Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 24.—Yesterday at the whist congress the semi-finals in the Hamilton trophy contest were played. Chicago drew against Wapausels and the result of the game was a tie. Minneapolis drew against Milwaukee and won by five points.

The Minnesota boys have played the best whist of the congress so far, all admit, and if they lose today they will come home with good feeling all around. If they win, Chicago will be too small to hold them. The game today promises to be very close, with the chances slightly in favor of Minneapolis.

In the free-for-all contest at progression duplicate last evening, twenty-five tables participated. John H. Briggs, of Minneapolis, and C. L. Buann, of St. Paul, of the Minneapolis team, played the north and south hands and made 9 points above the average, the highest score made with those hands and 4 points more than made by any other pair. Cavendish and Trist played the same hands and made eleven points less than Briggs and Buann against the same players. The business of the congress is nearly over. The officers of last year were re-elected. The next congress will be held at Philadelphia. Very few changes were made in the laws of whist.

A Big Public Works Scandal Unearthed at Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 24.—The government inquiry into the building of the two iron bridges across the Lachine canal at Montreal is unearthing one of the biggest public works scandals ever discovered in Canada.

The original sum voted for the two bridges was $175,000, but the work has already cost $600,000 and is not completed. The government has been robbed right and left by everybody connected with the work.

Another Crevasse Gone.

NEW ORLEANS, June 24.—The Rescue crevasse, twenty miles below Baton Rouge, is in a serious condition. Efforts were made to close it but as the levee was built of sand and yielded very quickly to the encroachments of the water the break quickly widened. The work was abandoned this morning at daylight. The crevasse will probably run until the river goes down. The Mississippi Valley railroad traffic is seriously interrupted.

Will Require Notice.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 24.—The clearing house banks of Portland, which include all the reorganized banks of the city, yesterday resolved to pay no more certificates of deposit in advance of their maturity without requiring the usual legal notice.

Two Men Killed.

CINCINNATI, O., June 24.—A freight on the Cincinnati & Georgetown & Portsmouth railroad left the trestle near Mount Washington and dropped down forty feet. David Homan, a freight conductor, who was in the cab, and Philip King, the fireman, were fatally injured. Court Simonson, the engineer, was cut about the head and arms. His injuries are not dangerous.

A shriek of anguish rent the air. Deluded pedestrians paused, listened and shuddered. Nay, more, a fellow chorister with a soprano robust voice stopped in the midst of a sustained tremolo and with one wild, terrified look over her shoulder fled among the shadows.

"Help, help!"
Strong men exchanged glances, muttered, and with set teeth proceeded upon the work of rescue.

"I'm being robbed!"

It was the cry of a despairing soul.
The strong men hastened lest they be too late.

"Protect me!"

An individual with pallid countenance and protruding eyes came rushing toward them and falling upon his knees implored their assistance.

"He wishes to rob me!" screamed the frightened creature.

They looked again and saw another individual. He was in pursuit. A vengeful light gleamed in his fiendish visage.

"My turn now!" he yelled and leaped ferociously upon his victim.

They waited just long enough to perceive that the pursued was a coal man and the pursuer the law man, and went their several ways, convinced that the compensating forces of nature would yet work substantial justice to all mankind.

One on Him.

The young man was strolling along quietly with the girl in the sweet June night because neither of them had anything else to do, when they passed a sign with an oyster legend on it.

"Oysters," she said dreamily, as if thinking of the winter time.

"Yes," he replied, "and what a pity oysters are not good in any month that hasn't an r in it."

The girl sighed as she saw another sign.

"Ice cream and strawberries," she murmured.

The young man started nervously.

"And did you know, Charlie," she went on, "that ice cream and strawberries are not good in those months which have a k or a q or a z in them?"

Then it was Charlie's time to think of the months when ice cream and strawberries were not good, and he smiled at the cute creature with him and gracefully capitulated.—Detroit Free Press.

Trouble Ahead.

"I wonder what's the matter with the pocket of this new coat of mine," said Mr. Bingo on Sunday morning. "I can't seem to get my hand in it."

porch and said sorrowfully to himself, "I wish I had found some other place to hide that chewing gum."—Clothes and Furtrate our topic sets before our minds a beautiful and comprehensive picture of an ideal "praise and consecration service," and in so doing, perhaps better than could be done in any other, impresses upon us what should be the essential characteristics of such service. This can be made evident by considering the circumstances and attendants of the service portrayed.

1. The preliminaries of the service. To discover these we need only read a few preceding verses of this chapter. It is well to note that it was prepared for.
It was not a spontaneous outburst of gratitude and joy. The people had not gone to the temple without preparation.
The priests were commanded to sanctify themselves and the temple. The temple had been closed. The people had been deprived of their service, and it was fitting that they should prepare themselves and the temple for their use.
Preparation should always be made for service in God's sanctuary. The mind should be prepared by cleansing it of all worry and thought in reference to the things of the world. The heart and life should be prepared by cleansing them of all uncleanness and impurity. Only with a pure heart and clean hands should we enter into God's house to praise Him and to consecrate ourselves to Him.

2. The occasion of the service. It was the occasion of the reopening of the doors of the temple by the good King Hezekiah after they had been closed by Ahaz.
It must certainly have been an occasion of great joy among the people, for it was the celebration of the fact that a man of God once more reigned over God's house and people, and no longer would the sanctuary be closed in neglect or desecrated by the presence of heathen gods.
All occasions of joy and gratitude to God because of some special favor or kindness are fit occasions for a public service of praise and consecration to Him.

3. The character of the service. In this service we have the usual characteristics of all such services and just what should naturally characterize them. There was music. The Levites, with cymbals, psalteries and harps, were set within the house, and there was music with these instruments and vocal music besides. Music is an essential to such a service. With the singing of praises there was also worship. The people bowed their heads and worshipped.
Reverent worship of God should not be omitted. There were also sacrifices and thank offerings. So we at such a time should offer ourselves anew to God with a firm determination to be more truly His children.

The Montreal Convention.

The Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Montreal will this year occupy five days instead of four, beginning Wednesday, July 5, and ending Sunday evening, July 9, none of the sessions to be more than two hours in length. Forty-five states, 5 territories and 11 provinces, also Great Britain and Europe, India, Australia, China, Japan and Africa are to be represented. Twenty-five different evangelical denominations will speak from the same platform.

It is expected that over 25,000 delegates will be present.

The reception committee is well organized and numbers several hundred young men and women. They will be distinguished by wearing white yachting caps, so that however large the crowd surrounding them they may be easily found when information is desired.

President Francis E. Clark's annual address will be delivered alternately in the Drill hall and the tent on Thursday, July 6, as will also Secretary John William Shaw's report. Treasurer William

Shaw will present his annual statement of the financial affairs of the society.

The convention is to be held in the Drill hall, seating 9,000, and an immense tent, seating 8,000, pitched opposite the hall on the drill grounds. Meetings will be held simultaneously, and programmes will vie with each other, so that delegates will require to study them carefully to determine which will be of greater interest. There are to be no overflow meetings. The tent is not an overflow for the Drill hall, nor the hall for the tent. Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, Mrs. Francis E. Clark, Hon. George E.
Foster, Canadian minister of finance, and Anthony Comstock are among those who will deliver addresses.

It is said "Some men are born great, some achieve greatness and some have greatness thrust upon them." This might have been true when advancement came through the favor of Kings and Queens. But in this American Republic and in this Nineteenth Century there is but one way for a man to become great. He must achieve greatness, and no man can achieve greatness without education.

With education the poorest boy may become the greatest man, though we cannot all be President. The most important question is: Would we be prepared to perform the duties of a great office were it thrust upon us? We probably would if we should do as one great President did.

He is said to have, as his constant companion, the Encyclopedia Britannica.

He is even said to have kept a set in his private car while making a campaign tour.

This mark of diligence and intelligence made him many friends and admirers.

There is a great principle involved in this idea. If you look up just one question each day you soon become an educated person, and you learn to enjoy it. These questions should be investigated right when they come up, while your mind is curious; then you won't forget what you read—you can't if you try.

But to do this you need the Encyclopedia Britannica, and THE MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE will get it for you at wholesale club rates. This chance of a lifetime will soon be gone forever.

The Explanation:

The Minneapolis Tribune realizing that there were hundreds of families deprived of this great and invaluable library on account of the high price, arranged with the publishers for an entire edition of 5,000 sets of it and are furnishing it to their readers at less than one-fourth the original price, and giving them the privilege to pay for it at the rate of TEN CENTS A DAY. The Herald has arranged to have this liberal offer extended to its readers in Duluth.

BEAR IN MIND

That you can secure the entire 25 volumes at once by paying $5 per month, or 12 volumes will be delivered at a time by paying 10 cents a day, payable monthly and we present you with a Dime Savings Bank, wherein you can deposit the dime each day.

ALSO TAKE NOTICE

That this is not a cheap edition, but is the BEST edition published, being superior to the Edinburgh, which sells for $200, or the Scribner which costs $125.

This Beautiful Set of Books can be Seen at the Large Encyclopedia Reading Room, 220 West Superior Street.

HE MAKES VIOLINS.

A Duluthian Who Manufactures Instruments of Rare Quality.

Duluth, or rather a citizen of Duluth, has an exhibit at the World's fair which is attracting great notice from musicians. This is a display of violins, seven in number, all of which were manufactured by Peter Lambert, of 127 East First street. One of the instruments is valued at $700. Robert C. Key was in Chicago recently and wrote to his friend, Sydney Brown, concerning this exhibit: "Last but not least is an exhibit of violins made by Peter Lambert, of Duluth. Seven fine instruments repose in a beautiful black walnut case and attract much attention. These instruments are modeled after the famous Stradivarius violin and show fine workmanship, are beautifully stained, and even the master violinmaker himself would have no need to be ashamed of the sweet, full tones they sound forth."

Sydney Brown himself plays one of Lambert's violins and paid $300 to the maker for it. None of the violins which he makes sell for less than this. He seems to have discovered a peculiar secret and every violin he makes is a masterpiece. When Ovide Musin, the virtuoso was here a few months ago Sydney Brown took one of Peter Lambert's violins to him and played it. The great violinist tried it and was delighted with expression his admiration and surprise in warm terms.

Peter Lambert is a French Canadian and studied violin making in Canada for twenty-five or thirty years. He gets all his wood, spruce and balsam from the Mesaba range and makes the very peculiar statement that the iron in the soil seems to give a particular resonance and tone to the wood. Mr. Lambert has heretofore plied his trade in a very modest way, always however finding ready purchasers for his instruments, but this exhibit will undoubtedly bring him into great prominence.

Passed Both Examinations.

Frank Maginitis, son of C. F. Maginitis, has passed the mental and physical examinations at West Point and is now a full fledged cadet. The mental examination he found far easier than he had anticipated and passed through it very easily. Much of the credit for this he feels is due to his tutor, Prof. John Loman, with whom he studied while here. He will finish the West Point course and will devote himself particularly to civil engineering.

A Successful Musicale.

There was a most enjoyable and successful musicale given by Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Frazer at their home, 222 East Third street, last evening, in honor of Mrs. Joseph Sill and Mrs. H. V. Winchell. Mrs. Winchell and Miss Monk presided at the piano, while Mrs. W. E. Kimball, who is a recent addition to Duluth's leading musical circles, wholly captivated the large company with her selections on the piano-forte.

The Municipal Court.

In municipal court this morning, Judge Winje took care of all the criminal business. A few drunks were all that defiled his attention and he finally enjoyed a suspension of sentence.
Before Judge Powell, the criminal list suit against J. L. Hiquell, the editor of La Sentinelle, which was continued from yesterday afternoon occupied all the morning and was given to the jury at noon.

HE WAS DROWNED OUT.

Alfred Sanders Carved His Wife With a Razor Last Night and Then Escaped.

He Was Captured on the Steamer City of Duluth by the Ashland Police This Morning.

He Fired at the Officers, Then Hid in the Hold and Had to be Drowned Out.

A serious cutting affray in which Alfred Sanders, a colored man and his wife were concerned occurred last night on Minnesota point. Sanders was employed on the City of Duluth and returned home yesterday going to his domicile at 358 St. Croix alley where his wife was. They were around town yesterday and seemed to be on good terms but during the evening they quarreled and as usual the razor was produced. He cut the woman across the throat, also the bone on the left arm, and across the abdomen. Her hands were also badly cut.

A policeman loomed up about this time but Sanders escaped. The woman was taken to a physician's office and her wounds were dressed. She is not dangerously hurt. Sanders was last seen making for the docks, and the City of Duluth was searched but he was not found. Telegrams were sent out at once and these resulted in his capture as the following special received by The Herald will indicate:

ASHLAND, June 24.—[Special to The Herald.]—Alfred Sanders, a colored man, who cut his wife's throat in Duluth yesterday, was captured on the steamer City of Duluth here after an exciting chase. He had concealed himself on the boat and was discovered by the captain who reported it to Chief of Police Schwartz. The fugitive kept firing at the officers as long as his ammunition held out, and then offered to cut their throats if they came near him. He was smuggled in the hold of the boat and it took some time to capture him. He was finally secured by turning on the hose and drowning him out of a dark hole in the boat. He was taken out well drenched and made a confession of cutting his wife's throat. He said he had witnesses against her and naturally carved her.

FRENCHMEN CELEBRATE.

This is St. Jean Baptiste Day and is Being Appropriately Observed.

This is St. Jean Baptiste day and the occasion was fittingly celebrated by the French residents of Duluth. At 9 o'clock there was a parade of St. Jean Baptiste societies headed by a platoon of police and the City band. The line of march was east on Superior street to the docks, and then turned west on First to the French hall. Here an hour was spent in conversation and getting ready for the picnic. At 11 o'clock a special train on the St. Paul & Duluth carried the merry-makers to Fond du Lac where the picnic was held. There were games, sports, dancing, speeches and plenty to eat and drink and fun and happiness to the brim.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

Procatheedral School and Sacred Heart Institute Held Theirs.

The closing exercises of the Institute of the Sacred Heart and the procatheedral school here given yesterday evening at the Temple. The theater was well filled. The program was nicely arranged and a very creditable exhibition was given, consisting of instrumental and vocal numbers and recitations.

Master Vincent, Grady recited "Independence Bell," Miss Nora Mitchell "Ideal," in a very creditable manner. The operatic fantasia by Epstene, a vocal duet, given by Misses Clara and Celia Kemper was finely rendered. The piano duet "Come Over the Moonlight Stream" by these young ladies was also a very pleasing number. Miss May Shaudley recited "The Baptist Head" with good feeling and dramatic force. Miss Frances Kirby's piano solo "Cathedral Chimes" was one of the finest numbers on the program. She plays with rare delicacy and expression.

The operetta, "The Guardian Angel," was presented in a charming manner. Miss Mary Kennedy sang several solos in an excellent manner and Misses A. Michael and M. Jones were also received with favor. The little Edith Petty fairly captivated the audience by her complete self-possession and cute manner.

Following this came the distribution of medals and premiums to the scholars of both schools, who had earned them by their diligence and exemplary conduct during the year.
Bishop McGrick delivered a short address, congratulating the pupils and teachers upon the results of their year's work. He spoke briefly of the necessity for forming character as well as for the acquisition of knowledge. His address was listened to with great attention.

THE GREAT SHOW.

Fine Performance by the Ringling Bros.' Circus This Afternoon.

The streets were crowded this morning long before the street parade began and at the hour of the procession coming down the street the sidewalks were a dense mass of humanity. The parade was without exception the finest ever given in Duluth by any circus. It was many blocks long and all the features were interesting. Many of the cages were open and the public was given a chance to see the animals.

A great crowd followed the parade direct to the circus lot where, pending the opening of the big show, hundreds whiled away the time in the side shows. Scores of people inquired for the big box that so nearly swallowed the little Norwegian boy at Irapoon early in the spring. The Ringling Bros. did not carry any bit snakes with the show this season, but rattlesnake Tom added a pleasing horror to the hour by his manipulation of a den of rattlers. The inevitable fat woman, male and female midgets, giant and Albinos were in evidence, with a most pleasing and accomplished young lady fresh from Vassar and with a lot of wonderfully trained canaries.

When the ticket sale opened for the big show there was a terrific rush. The seating and standing capacity were quickly monopolized, and when the grand spectacular march began there must have been fully 12,500 people in the tent. The procession from the start was a favorable one. Usually a circus band is but a unit and an unimportant one in a circus makeup. Professor Veldin's corps of musicians clarified the immense audience by their magnificent playing. They played music.

The spectacular grand march was a stunner and when the big hippodrome had been circled twice the performance properly began. Of course no one expects a detailed description of a circus performance. Suffice it that Ringling Brothers gave a show this afternoon that simply laid in the shade anything ever attempted in this line before. Barum, if alive, would have been glad to sit in a reserved seat this afternoon at the Ringling shows and punch old man Bailey and exclaim: "This is a circus. Get some pointers."

There were three rings and two big stages, and from start to finish they were all occupied by a succession of wondrous and novel acts that evoked a continued round of applause. Perhaps it was because a big audience is exhilarating, but in any event the performance this afternoon was spirited and excellent. The renowned Vernon brothers and their double somersault acts on the tightrope were a feature. In their splendid acrobatic feats, the trained bronchos, the beautiful Reno sisters, premier equestrians, who, in a grand overture, presented some novel acts standing on barebacked trotting horses; the Japanese acrobats and aerialists; and the wonderful troupe of Bedonkows, who in a series of swordsmanship, tumbling and startling pyramid act, in which one of them bears aloft nine strapping Bedonks, and Charles W. the back of a flying steed are one and all the finest exhibitions of acrobatic performance ever witnessed in Duluth.

The magnificent condition of Ringling's live stock is a subject of general comment. This also applies to the menagerie animals. The giraffe is the wonder and delight of children and adults alike. The beautiful long-maned gray stallion, the herds of trained elephants, the great array of lions, tigers, leopards, hyenas, and panthers, and the affectionate troupe of Shetland ponies constitute an aggregate of menagerie wonders fittingly rounded by the big, big hippopotamus. That no mere words can do justice to the immense outlay in money required to show as this of the Ringling Brothers. But to acquire anything like an adequate appreciation of it all, the eye must see and the mind absorb the splendid countenance.

It goes without saying that there will be a crush this evening, and our fatherly, motherly and brotherly advice is to get on your store clothes and get an early supper and make for the circus lot.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Lewis Sentenced a Baker's Dozen of Persons.

Judge Lewis yesterday sentenced the criminals whose cases were passed upon at the June term of the district court—an even baker's dozen of them, as follows: James Harrington, selling liquor without a license at Columbia Junction, $50 or thirty days in the county jail; Frank Parrish, grand larceny in the second degree, not to exceed three years in the state reformatory at Red Wing; Charley Lawrence, grand larceny in the second degree, to Stillwater, in the county jail; August Garrett, grand larceny first degree, same sentence; William Smith, the West Duluth pickpocket, grand larceny in the second degree, $150 or ninety days in the county jail; Tom DiMara, assault in second degree, two years at Stillwater, hard labor; Martin Svara, assault in second degree, in the second degree, three years at hard labor at Stillwater, although the latter may have his sentence reduced if his previous record entitled to the court justice leniency; John Huchbrandt, petty larceny, $50 fine or thirty days in the county jail; John Kellow, petty larceny, $50 or sixty days in jail.

The attorneys for Harvey Burger announced that his fine would be paid this afternoon. It does not now look as if any of the others could avoid themselves of the monetary alternative.

Judge Lewis granted the motion for arrest of judgment in Peter Carlo's case and he will have another trial—his third—at the next term.

The jury in the matter of extending Eighth avenue east, before Judge Lewis, rendered a verdict yesterday afternoon in favor of the plaintiff for $500. The case of William McKinney against G. G. Hartley was commenced and is still pending.

In Judge Ensign's room, the jury in William Poitier against Charles A. Beattie, rendered a verdict late yesterday afternoon for the plaintiff in the sum of $4,016. The case of Erik Maun against the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad company was commenced yesterday and went to the jury this morning. A verdict was returned for plaintiff for $565. The jury also found the value of four log houses in dispute to be $200.

In special term this morning Judge Ensign disposed of two divorce cases. Sarah A. Pankham was granted a divorce from Frederick E. Pankham on the grounds of adultery. Matthew Kennedy charged his wife Myrtle with adultery, bigamy and other naughty things and was granted a decree. The application of Stephen Fuchs and wife to adopt Mary Miller was granted.

The following cases were continued by Judge Lewis morning. A verdict was returned in the matter of the application of the Minnesota Cattle company to acquire lands; Dwight G. Cutler et al against Walter C. Dougherty; Damie A. Moore against John D. Moore. The matter of the assignment of A. H. Thompson and the case of Mary Jane Graham against Susan McGowan were stricken from the calendar.

Writes His Thanks.

The mayor of Fargo has written to the jobbers' union extending thanks for the relief offered. In response to a letter advising him that owing to the range fires the council may not send aid, he writes that charity should begin at home and Duluth has enough to do to take care of her own sufferers.

Much Money Now Being Spent in Chicago Had an Origin in the Inventive Brain.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Said I to a hotel-keeper with a cosmopolitan experience: "What estimate do you put upon the Americans as artists, manufacturers and exhibitors here?"

"I think there is more good hard sense among the Americans than you will find in another land. Sometimes we fall out of conceit with ourselves because we see another man executing some piece of fine work which we do not try to do, but you will notice that we never fail to employ the artist. Younder is a man making filigree work in plaster and putting down ancient mosaic floor in one of our buildings. He works very cheap. Somebody else probably controls his labor. Now, why should we despair because we do not furnish a native mechanic who can do just that work? It is derivative from what took place in his country thousands of years ago; it is European mosaic and a bit of Greek ceramic."

"At the rate we are progressing meantime, annexing all other races, we shall have workers in every branch right at hand. I see nothing new there in that exhibition which is not liable to be produced within a very brief time in the United States, if it is not here already. Out in the West we have many German sculptors, decorators, etc., more, I think, than you have in the East, and they are allowed to pursue the bent of their own feelings in the West, as they are not in the East. They can erect in one of our parks a statue of a German poet. They are not interfered with in their studios as to what models they have, and they can work on Sunday."

"That which detests American art in its most imaginative performances is the pressure of old religious and moral ideas. For the same reason we do not make native wines up to the foreign market; there are tens of thousands of native families in Chicago which make it a point never to have a glass of wine on the table or any liquor in the house. But you must understand that these buildings at the great show which the world has regarded with favor were all contrived in this country. A majority of them were done by native Americans. Here in Chicago we commenced the raising of buildings by screws and hydraulic power, and that was the way Pullman commenced."

The mills had so extended around Long Island and New Jersey that Governor Andrus in 1878 gave New York city a monopoly of the making and bottling of beer, refusing to let any be imported into New York but what should be ground there.

The Rochester mills, which ground 800,000 barrels of flour thirty years ago, had a beginning in 1789.

The Brandywine Creek, which empties into the Delaware at Wilmington, had, 200 years ago, 120 improved mill sites upon it, and one set of mills still standing ground 400,000 bushels of grain a year. In the midst of this superior mill industry, Oliver Evans commenced his inventions, a man well worth a statue somewhere in this country. He was the first important inventor of mill machinery for grain, and he made milestones near Philadelphia.

The course of inventors and inventions is toward the fields of conquest. I was looking through Kabda's Convent the other day and I found that Saint Die, the abbey of an old bishop or saint, who called himself the God-given, was the place where American received its name. Early in the Christian period this evangelist put up a chapel, which in time became a monastery, and then a wall, or fortified town, and finally a respectable place in the kingdom of Lorraine. It was administered by persons of literary quality, who had encouraged poetry in Provence and loved manuscripts and books. The German inventors of movable types came to Strasbourg, which is not very far from Saint Die. Seeing books containing matter which everybody could read, the desire arose to have a printing press, and they bought one, presumably from Strasbourg or Mayence, and set it up in St. Die. The press being there was an inducement to somebody to make a book.

So, about the time Columbus was dying in that mountain-bound region which was more German than French, a quiet man was making a geography to be disseminated for popular instruction.

Just as he was about finishing it up, a friend arrived from Paris, belonged to the same learned club with the author and told him about American Vespucci, whose book he had seen and perused. The friend said that Vespucci still lives in Washington City, at the age of about 87.—Z. C. Robbins. The model is in the patent office. This was a few years after Ericsson had patented the screw propeller.

I thought to myself again: "How many reaping machines are there? Lincoln was a lawyer in the McCormick reaper case. Who are the McCormicks?"

In the year 1831, Silas H. McCormick, of Rockbridge county, Va., and that is where the natural bridge stands, took out a patent for cutting grain of all kinds. It took the medal at the World's fair in London of 1851, cut twenty acres of grain a day, was renewed in 1855, and expired after the close of the civil war, yielding the patent between $100,000 and $200,000. Soon after 1850, J. Reid, of Illinois, and W. K. Ketchum patented reapers. It is to be observed that the great exhibition of 1851 mainly brought out the superiority of American agriculture machine patents. In 1852 a grand field trial of mowers and reapers was held at Geneva, N. Y., which was followed up, and in 1857, at Syracuse, fifteen mowing, nine reaping and fourteen combination mowers were entered for competition. We had then patented 176 harvesters and sixty-two mowing machines, and have added about 100 to 200 ever since. One of these mowing machines, invented in Illinois by John H. Manny, became the basis of the Hoeick Falls mowers. Looking over the history of such harvesters, it would seem that they were almost invariably invented in the harvest field or in shops adjacent to the harvest field. The McCormicks have acquired fine real estate in Chicago, have called a hotel there from their native Virginia, have given money to the university of Virginia where they have sent some of their children to be educated, and have intermarried with the Blaines, Medills and other efficient families in Chicago.

The West is full of windmills and they were not much known until recent years, and as I looked over the wide range of four and eight mowing machines I wondered if there was any place to find the successful story of the mill in this country. It seems that the sawmill was an American invention in very early days, and that we employed windmills on the American coasts before they were used in England. The Dutch colonies at Manhattan used them first, no doubt, and as their colony extended from the Coney to the East River, they were not far from the windmills.

The old chief, reported in 1795, when he visited the duck and cat factory at Boston, "They can undersell the imported cards, may, cards of this manufactory have been smuggled into England."

The leather industry in the United States was worth $130,000,000 in the administration of William Lloyd Garrison, employed 10,000 persons. Having imported some big cattle from Denmark, the Ingalls family of Lynn, near Boston, began to make shoes. The shoe-maker followed in five years, and from these beginnings we record the vast shoe industry of Lynn, which has produced a what is called the swamp, is a leather, curriers, shoemakers and tanners were expelled outside the walls in 1676. It was only 100 years ago that this industry was introduced into America. We began to send shoes to England in the seventeenth century. The reason why leather in New York is made in what is called the swamp, is a leather, curriers, shoemakers and tanners were expelled outside the walls in 1676. It was only 100 years ago that this industry was introduced into America.

After the revolution all the shoe manufacturers in this country were ruined by an avalanche of boots and shoes sent over from England and France. Virginia led off just before the constitution in putting a tariff on foreign leather shoes, and congress soon followed the example. Machinery moves the world, and standing amidst the world's machinery at Chicago I try to meet a popular skepticism, which may be partly in my own mind, namely, that we do not stick at anything, but we are ready to invent instead of making solid and improving things, and that the quality of our goods is not up to the foreign standard.

We probably are the only people who make the complaint against ourselves. It is partly the result of the machinery and foreign travel, which give a sunder to the unworthy receiver of the same, and this imparts to his father, who have not the same machinery, and other facts that the world holds him not at his own value. Mere wealth accomplishes but little in this country. There is too much of it, but it is not the right kind, and genuine wealth goes longer in this land than anywhere.

As I love among the American machinery I find that nearly every one of them has a respectable origin in time. Here is Tiffany's extensive pavilion, containing more diamonds and rich things than any exhibition there. Tiffany's to underline the French methods of doing business before they came to American stability. The commenced in 1837 as a stationery and gewgaw shop, and in 1841 sent one of their partners to Europe, where he brought Palais Royal jewels, which were pinhead, more brilliant and fixed up things. The Americans estimated that they would like to have something genuine, so the Tiffany's began to buy diamonds about 1846 when the revolution of that year made the court diamonds go cheap in the market. In 1850 they sent to Boston and got Mr. Reed, a first class jeweler of long antecedents, to go over to Paris and be their jeweler, and at the same time put their repair shop into condition to make it a manufactory. In consequence of this they appeared at all the great sales of diamonds in the world, and paid $100,000 at the sale of Princess Esterhazy's diamonds, and brought to the United States a headgear of diamonds worn by Marie Antoinette, hence Tiffany's establishment, which has lately developed into an extraordinary production of gold cloths, theater dresses, etc., is almost as old as the New York Herald, and seems to be in a healthier condition, for smut does not go down in this country as it used to do, and diamonds of the first water are not unworthy of any of our women.

Great Shipyards. Looking around among the shipbuilders who appear here from every country, I see Cramps, who have built so many of our ships of war. They date back to the first quarter of the century, and built the first propeller tugboat in this country, those little things you see lying around our harbors with the strength of giants towing the big steamships.

Many things we used to have in perfection we see no more. For instance, paper collars in 1853 were being manufactured by the million. Bismarck says that as late as the war of 1870, Bismarck came to camp with another American, who wore a paper collar. But celluloid has replaced paper and linen and cotton have become so cheap that hardly pays to wear the poor article.

Here I see Disston's great saw exhibit and am reminded of the time when Disston sold his common saws for a profit of only 7 cents on the dozen in order to underbid the English, who then controlled our market. Out of that manufacture the Disston boys have created from the everglades of Florida a substantial empire upon which they feed fibres which are woven into American carpets and other things. That single saw industry has built up a whole town, and no man in Australia or the British colonies would not prefer the American saw to any other.

In point of fact, the cheap hardware of the present day is German and not American. The German hardware is made to understand the English, while we are going on in our own lines, keeping up the standard.

I look around among the machines and I think of Morris & Taylor, who began their factory in Philadelphia in 1821, making gas pipes and other castings. They also went down to old Newcastle in Cornwall, and made it into something like a city.

The Sweet Girl Graduate Sings:

After the school is over, then comes commencement day, Time when the sweet girl graduates says her little say, Giving her counsel to us all, "Follow this simple rule: Use Kirk's Soap in the family, after the school."

"Just O'er the Alps like Italy," "Darkest Before the Dawn," "Never Give up in Trouble," "After the Clouds are Gone," "Then on the summit of wisdom, giving us the lesson rule: Use Kirk's Soap in the family, after the school."

There surely should be a stained glass window in some cathedral to these priests and these silkworms.

The English thought so much of bringing the silk trade up in their country, that a mechanic named Lister, of Bradford, who utilized waste silk in 1857, was made in the Lord Massey, a very good title, the equivalent of "mash em."

We look around the exhibition, and we see the Sevres china, which you admire, of course. Colbert established his china factory with glass which he brought from Venice for models; the same prime minister who introduced the stocking machine and the tin manufactory from England, but the French have lost the tin, and the English have gone conquering the people of Malacca for the crime of having tin when their own was about to give out.

No forks were used until the time of James I. When I was last in Morocco and saw the Arab boys there without any knife or fork I could see how the Last Supper was performed in the New Testament. Of course there were no knives and forks at that time, though the miracles were there to make them. They had baskets on the day when they multiplied the loaves and fishes, but as there were no forks until they came to Capt. John Smith and Shakespeare, of course the disciples had no forks.

The Saracens eat in the following manner, and so do the Arabs, and all the good Mohammedans everywhere: They roll a ball of flour or meal in a dish of grease where they have cooked a chicken or some other animal. The host then says to you, who are his guest, "Open your mouth, now wide!" You open your mouth and he claps the ball in there from his hand. All the pilgrims to Mecca and Jerusalem eat this way. So, that when you come to the New Testament where it says, "Judas got a sop from the Master," we may know that the ball was rolled for him. This date is 1543, in France, and were made in England in 1662. Before that time they used thorns and clasps in place of pins.

Umbrellas were not seen in England, though this exhibition is full of them, until 1768, when Gen. Washington was 36 years old. That distinguished old man feared to be rained on in early life, and became so accustomed to it that it brought him to his death. Authentic history says that he was surviving on a sherry day before Mount Vernon and his wife came to the door after the manner of wives and cried repeatedly, "George, now you come in here," but George thought it was better to die than to be rained on, and he went on surveying until he had a chill and the next morning he was dead. An umbrella would have saved the old man's life.

Population the Tiffing. I see very little here which dates back to 1688 except some old pictures, and in that year, when they changed the dynasty in England and ran out the real Stuarts to supplant them with the real Pretenders, the population of England was only 6,000,000.

A small problem the English have had to adapt their population to manufactures? We have here grown with such tremendous rapidity that but for the Brown & White and other manufactures we should have people going to seed on the cold prairies.

As to the relative character of mechanics raised in Europe and raised here it shows itself in such strikes as that at Pittsburgh. The Hungarian, Pole, Bohemian or whatnot come to America from their native oppression and forthwith proceed to drag each other and try to steal the mill.

A Democratic mayor in one of the New York towns, Charles Hutchinson, said to me some time ago: "I had a brief experience in manufacturing and I never want to touch again. I had loaned to a friend more money than I could afford to lose in a factory he had. He came to me one day and told me that unless I took the factory I would lose my money. I went in there and worked as I had never worked in my life. It was some distance and I was up at 5 o'clock in the morning, going around in a dingy place trying to employ these people, who had nothing to do unless I gave it to them. After a very long time, four or five days, to my delight the 'product' had gone up in New York sufficiently to give me for the first time some return."

Just then my foreman came from the mill and told me that a strike was on hand. Said I, "A strike now, when I have an opportunity open to get something back after paying these people out of my pockets all this time?" "Well," said he, "they have been watching the markets and they see that you are going to get something now, and they want more than half of it, or about as nearly as I can understand."

"Very well," said I, "I shall close up the mill and let them go to the devil, if that is all the feeling they have for me." So I sold the mill out," said Mr. Hutchinson, "and have nothing but profound admiration for the man who can operate a factory in these times without going to the poorhouse."

WEST END DRUG STORE

Every Line of Retail Trade is Well Represented in This Portion of the City.

The Drug Line Particularly Has a Worthy and Progressive Representative in George J. Sadler.

No well regulated locality in Duluth or any other town is without a first-class drug store. The West End, of course, is no exception to that rule. The Herald's readers have for the past few weeks perused the accounts of the advantages of the West End, its railroads, street car service, manufacturers, fine business blocks in general, special adaptation for homes, its hotels, dry goods houses, hardware stores and the fine people connected therewith, but nothing has been said about drug stores.

There is a drug store at the "West End" which is worth going many miles to see. It is owned and conducted by George J. Sadler, who, as a drug store man, is equal to anything you read about.

In 1870, just twenty-three years ago, George put in his appearance on this mundane sphere over the line in Canada. He was not at all pleased with the quality of the purgative, cascara, blackberry balsam and other childhood remedies which he found necessary to take from time to time, hence, at a very tender age, he saw that his mind was a drug store, and carry only the best and purest drugs and medicines.

With that idea always foremost while yet a boy—and not a very large one—either, he entered the employ of E. D. Martin, of Ottawa, Ontario, the head of the wholesale drug house of Martin, Koser & Co. of Montreal. There George learned the practical side of his business in a thorough manner. In time he commenced a course of study in the College of Pharmacy of Ontario, graduating with high honors May 1, 1891.

The next few months was spent in dispensing balm to the sick and wounded in the land under the paw of the British Lion. Thinking he would do well in the land sheltered by the wing of the American Eagle, "that proud bird of the cliff," Mr. Sadler came to Duluth, and on January 1, 1893, established his present place of business at 1028 West Superior street. The business has been an unequalled success from the start. A large trade in family receipts and prescriptions has been built up. Everything in drugs, toilet articles and druggists' sundries is kept and one of the finest soda water fountains in the city supplies refreshing drinks to the thirsty "West Enders." The store at 1028 West Superior street is 25 by 100 feet and has all the features of a metropolitan drug store. Richard Nixon assists in the business. He and Mr. Sadler make a very good team and with the help of an ad in The Herald's columns, have all that two men care to do.

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

Mrs. Mendenhall Tells Why the Doors of the Anthropology Building Have Not Been Opened.

Minnesota's Bath Where It Will Meet Enthusiasm From Kindling Eyes of the World's Thinkers.

Many Now See the Necessity for Having Hot Air for Daily Use in the House.

Daily, many have been denied admittance to anthropology, because the din of the jaller's carpenter, the dust of the mummy's sheathing, the litter of "man and his works" have deafened, choked or obstructed the picked way of even the initiated. Notwithstanding the desires of the rulers on the island, it has been impossible to open the doors. Last week Japan set herself down on her allowance of 8 feet by 12 with fourteen cases; but so desirous was that, like the umbrellas, some may get off or move closer, and stay she will. I rejoiced that I was so well established that I could not be moved off or closer. France is unpacking, as are also Germany, Paraguay, Greece, Ontario. Spain is there asking for room for twelve cases, for which no provision had been made. Russia is not yet there; ice in the Baltic has made her absence a feature in "Liberal Arts" and other places. Costa Rica is unpacking her last cases. Mexico's gay colors steadily grounded mark her as complete as also is New South Wales. Some of the Pacific Islands have not yet put into our harbor; but Ward's quarter of a million value of vertebrates and "what not" stand guard on the gallery above me. I went up to interview them intelligently by Mr. Ward's aid, but he had, perhaps, borrowed the keenness of scent belonging by natural gift to his colony, and by cultivation to my followers, for he had cleared out of my trail.

The Chicago World gave a very impartial explanation of the belated state of what I shall call "Anthropology," which I will here copy: "When the plan and scope of the exposition were first announced great stress was laid on its educational features. It was not only to be the greatest show of all history, but everything relating to public instruction was to be brought to the front as it had never been before. In point of greatness the show is undeniably supreme, but the educational part of it, to struggle for a place. This has been pointedly the fact in regard to the exhibits now finding room in the building known as 'Anthropology,' and devoted to the illustration of 'man and his works.' After a period of distressing uncertainty, highly prejudicial to the early installation of commercial exhibits in the great building devoted to manufactures and liberal arts, Fifty cents is a small doctor bill, but that is all it will cost you to cure any ordinary case of rheumatism if you use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The first application will cure the pain. 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May, while in Des Moines en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seventeen years and knowing its reliability, he procured a 50-cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhoea. Every one should procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. For sale by druggists.

Webb Eaton, a former resident of Duluth, but now of Lincoln, Neb., arrived in the city the first of the week accompanied by a distinguished party of Nebraska men who came to see Duluth and the iron ranges and enjoy an outing.

Among the party were Lieutenant Governor J. J. Majors and two sons, A. R. Humphrey, commissioner of public lands and buildings; W. W. Hackney, L. C. Dunn, John D. Knight and Rice Eaton. They all talked fish and went up to Tower to secure a couple of weeks fishing in Lake Vermilion and vicinity.

Al Pearsons and Phil Pastore had their outing at Deerwood and caught four muskallonge, forty-two black bass and croppies enough to feed the range sufferers a week. They report the pickerel as in poor condition but the black bass are lively and in the best of health.

Frank Greene, accompanied by Ed Chandler, John Gordon and R. A. Eva, returned from Sucker river with the largest and finest catch of the season.

Messrs. Carey and Cooley were at Deerwood and had lots of fun with the black bass.

Agent Young, of the Omaha, was out in Wisconsin. He got only seven trout, but they weighed 1/2 pound dressed.

R. P. Coburn and Chas. Carlson were up Knife river and report a good catch.

Good fishing is reported from Stewart parties out on the north shore. Joe Dodge and Louis Lang expect to go up today.

Dr. McNulty and party go to Deerwood this afternoon for black bass.

Fear of forest fires has kept several parties out of the woods of late. The only places likely to be dangerous are Iron river, the little streams down the Omaha road and on the lower Brule, but the recent rains have put out many of the forest fires.

Spirit Lake will be a popular resort today. The fishing is good and the gun club shoot, postponed from Thursday, will be worth seeing.

The tug Mystic took a large party out Saturday night, returning Monday morning.

The present season has been an unusual one in respect. Almost all of the best known shooters who for years past have taken to interest in all fishing matters are now enthusiastic anglers and go out as often as possible, and go without their guns.

To throw across the printed page a gleam Of country sunlight, or perchance, to bind And hold in spell the singing of the wind. And weaving shadows by a forest stream.

A CLOUD BURST

A Large Section of Missouri Visited by a Rain Storm That Did Great Damage.

Bridges Washed Away and the Water Inundated a Number of Houses in Low Parts.

The Railroads Were Heavy Sufferers by the Storm and There Are Numerous Bad Washouts.

At West Ely the Rain Was Accompanied by Hail Which Damaged the Growing Crops.

HANNIBAL, Mo., June 26.—A veritable cloud-burst visited this section of the state about 4 o'clock yesterday morning causing a great amount of damage in Bear Creek valley and other low parts of the city. Bridges were washed away and the water inundated a number of houses. The railroads were heavy sufferers. There were two washouts on the Hannibal & St. Joe between this city and Palmyra and trains ran by the Moody junction.

On the St. Louis, Keokuk & North-western a freight train went through a trestle that was weakened by high water. The engine crossed in safety, but several cars following went down and pulled the engine in on the wrecked cars. No one was injured. The last mail was the last train over the road. Trains are using the Chicago & Alton tracks in Illinois between Louisiana and St. Louis, and all are late.

The St. Louis & Hannibal was also a heavy sufferer. Seventeen benches of the pile bridge at the mouth of Bear creek are damaged and twenty feet of the approach to the Lindell avenue bridge are washed out. Trains are running as far as St. Louis junction over the Missouri, Kansas & Texas track.

The damage to the crops is probably 5000 feet of lumber and all of the lumber yards suffered more or less.

Intelligence from West Ely, this country, to the effect that the rain was accompanied by hail there as large as hen's eggs and that great damage was done to growing crops and domestic animals.

NEW HAMPSHIRE'S DAY.

A Unique Exhibit Characteristic of the State.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO.

June 26.—This is New Hampshire's day at the fair. Fine weather drew a multitude of visitors to the grounds early in the day. In the pretty structure is an exhibit unique and particularly characteristic of the state.

In an upper special room is a production from the famous granite grotto and an immense relief map of the state, 30 by 15 feet. The windows of this room are of stained glass each depicting famous picturesque scenes in the White mountains. On the ground floor is another attractive exhibit of New Hampshire scenery to be seen nowhere else in the grounds. The Livermore falls are reproduced in a magnificent grotto scene, and the walls are covered with a set of transparencies showing spots in the White mountains so familiar to tourists. The interior of the grotto is lighted with three colors of incandescents.

The members of the dedication party, headed by Governor J. B. Smith, include the members of his staff, councilors, Secretary of State Stearns, Chief Justice Doe and members of the supreme bench. President John McLane and members of the senate, representatives of the lower house, the exposition commissioners and private citizens with their wives, daughters and sisters. They assembled in the state building with many other invited guests and applauded the sentiments expressed by the official speakers from New Hampshire and the commissioners.

Charles H. Amundsen, president of the state board, presented the keys of the building to Governor Smith, who responded and handed back the keys to the commission to keep for the people. Speeches followed from the state officials, speaker of the senate and the speaker of the house. The Iowa state band played and refreshments were served.

A DISCOVERY OF COAL.

A Rich Deposit Found While Blasting in a Connecticut Town.

DANBURY, Conn., June 26.—There is much excitement here caused by the accidental discovery of an apparently rich deposit of coal in the center of the city. It was found on Liberty street a block east of the city hall. A few days ago Isaac B. Thomas began to dig a cellar. The workmen found some peculiar looking black stone a few feet below the surface. No attention was paid to it until Saturday, when an unusually heavy blast uncovered a large vein of the same substance. Experts pronounced it coal. The vein partly uncovered for twenty-five feet and it appears to extend in a ledge beneath one of the public school houses. Coal has been found before but always in inferior quality.

Christian Endeavorers.

CINCINNATI, O., June 26.—The eighth annual convention of the Ohio Christian Endeavor union commenced in Music hall this afternoon. There will be 1000 delegates from all over the state and about 500 visiting members are expected by tomorrow.

Making a Tour of Ireland.

DUBLIN, June 26.—Lord Houghton, lieutenant of Ireland, is making a tour of Ireland. He has been heartily welcomed at every place he has visited.

IT MADE A SENSATION

Count Honore Mercier, ex-Premier of the Province of Quebec, Issues an Address to Frenchmen.

He Claims the English Majority is Violating the Treaty Laws and Oppressing His People.

Only Remedy Against British Oppression is the Alliance of French Canadians and All Catholics.

MONTREAL, June 26.—A most sensational feature of the anniversary of the French Canadian patron saint, St. Jean Baptiste, and the 250th anniversary of the founding of Montreal, is an address issued to the French Canadians and all Catholics by Count Honore Mercier, ex-premier of the province of Quebec. He refers in inflammatory language to the aggression of the English majority in Canada, which he claims is violating treaty laws with audacity.

English tyranny is seen in Canada by (to use Mr. Mercier's words) the abolition of the French language, by exile and confiscation, by political scaffolds and inhuman execution of young men whose crime is to love their country too well, by expulsion, in Canada, of men, women and children, having waste our fields and by robbing and plundering our farmers, defenceless as they all were; and at last by the execution of Kiel. The story tells what British fair play, as understood by the French Canadian, is, and the English means, by the butchery of Joan of Arc, the noble heroine buried alive at Rouen, by the blowing from the cannon's mouth of prisoners of war in India by the English, and by her arbitrary laws whereby Irish Catholics were obliged to pay tithes to Protestant ministers.

Mr. Mercier warns his compatriots that the only remedy against British oppression is by the alliance of French Canadian Catholics, and that if they do not combine to protect themselves both their nationalities and their religion will be done away with.

The address is being widely criticized throughout the province and is creating a great sensation, as it is thought it will make the breach between the English and French in the province of Quebec wider than ever.

AND "BINGO" WAS SUNG.

The Class Day Exercises at Yale Were Interesting as Usual.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 26.—The 103rd commencement exercises at Yale which began yesterday with President Dwight's baccalaureate sermon, were continued today by the class day exercises under the direction of the following class day committee: W. R. Begg, of Hartford; T. I. Chaffield, of Oswego, N. Y.; J. H. Field, of Rutland, Vt.; Logan Hay, of Springfield, Ill.; Robert H. Wade, of St. Louis.

At 10:15, the graduating class numbering 156 men, marched in a body to the chapel where the presentation exercises were held. President Dwight had charge of the exercises and opened with prayer. The exercises were then read by Rufus McQueen Gibbs, of Baltimore, and the class oration delivered by Lemuel A. Wells, of Hartford. The subject of Mr. Wells was "Some Ideals of University Life."

After the oration the class ode, written by Charles Macaulay Pope, of St. Louis, was sung. The presentation exercises closed with the benediction.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the most popular of all exercises of the week, the reading of the class histories took place. In the center of a large amphitheater of seats erected in the rear of the old brick row the class of '93 gathered, surrounded by about 600 guests of the occasion who were seated on the encircling tier of seats. After the class pipes had been blown, the old Yale squib "Bingo" was sung.

The historians were Charles W. Miller, of Denver; John H. Morgan, of Brooklyn; Arthur L. Wheeler, of Hartford; Frank E. Gatchel, of Louisville, and Henry H. Ficken, of Charleston, S. C.

A ST. PAUL HORSE WON.

Boundless Captured the American Derby in Very Fast Time.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The great American Derby was won by J. E. Cushing's brown colt Boundless, with the renowned "Snapper" Garrison in the saddle, after a delay at the post of one hour and thirty minutes, in the remarkable time of 2:35 flat, thus beating the previous best time for the Derby of 2:36 1/2.

The Keene colt, St. Leonards, with Tatal up, finished second, three lengths behind, and the much touted Clifford captured third money. It was the greatest Derby ever run in this country, and the honors belong mostly to Garrison who rode the race of his life. Fully 75,000 people witnessed the race.

TRIED BY A COURT MARTIAL.

Admiral Markham Held Responsible for the Victoria Disaster.

LONDON, June 26.—It has been decided that Rear Admiral Albert H. Markham, who was second in command to Rear Admiral Tryon, of the vessel at Tripoli, the flagship of the British Mediterranean squadron, will be tried by a court martial that will sit at Portsmouth. This court will be presided over by admiral the earl of Canwillism, command-in-chief at Portsmouth, whose son, Lord Gifford, was flag lieutenant of the Victoria.

Rear Admiral Markham's flagship is the Trafalgar, but advises here show that his flag had been transferred to the Camperdown and that he was in charge of the maneuvers of the fleet at the time the collision occurred.

The telegram of sympathy sent by President Cleveland through Secretary of State Gresham and Ambassador Bayard to Queen Victoria was forwarded to her majesty immediately upon its receipt. The queen in reply has informed Ambassador Bayard that she was deeply touched by the message of the president of the United States.

The British cruiser Barham, with Rear Admiral Markham's official report of the loss of the Victoria is expected to arrive at Port Said tonight. The rear admiral's report will be sent by cable from Port Said to the admiralty office here. All the survivors of the disaster sailed from Tripoli today, presumably for Malta. They embarked on board the cruisers Edgar and Phoebe.

"JACK THE RIPPER" AGAIN.

An Unfortunate Woman in London Murdered in the Street.

LONDON, June 26.—The foul crimes of "Jack the Ripper" were again called to mind last night by a murder that was committed in Rotherhithe, a suburb at short distance to the southeast of London. The body of a woman belonging to the unfortunate class was found with her throat cut, the wound showing that the knife had been passed from left to right as was the case in all the murders committed by the ripper in the Whitechapel district of London.

Persons in the street at a late hour, after the murder was done, say they heard the woman scream two or three times. They ran in the direction from which the sounds came and found the woman lying on the pavement and the blood streaming from an awful gash in her throat. She was unconscious when found and died a few moments after. The police were promptly on the scene, having been attracted by the screaming, but the murderer had effected his escape, leaving not the slightest clue to his identity.

The degraded women of Rotherhithe are panic stricken by the fact that has fallen one of their number. The body of the dead woman was not mutilated in the disgusting manner that characterized the work of Jack the Ripper, but it is believed the murderer was frightened away and had no time to mutilate the body.

The police are searching among the friends of the dead woman for a possible clue to the murderer. They do not believe that Jack the Ripper has commenced operations again, but think the crime was due to jealousy or to a drunken quarrel between the woman and some man whose acquaintance she had made on the street.

The Deadly Cholera.

IT MADE A SENSATION

Count Honore Mercier, ex-Premier of the Province of Quebec, Issues an Address to Frenchmen.

Only Remedy Against British Oppression is the Alliance of French Canadians and All Catholics.

MONTREAL, June 26.—A most sensational feature of the anniversary of the French Canadian patron saint, St. Jean Baptiste, and the 250th anniversary of the founding of Montreal, is an address issued to the French Canadians and all Catholics by Count Honore Mercier, ex-premier of the province of Quebec. He refers in inflammatory language to the aggression of the English majority in Canada, which he claims is violating treaty laws with audacity.

English tyranny is seen in Canada by (to use Mr. Mercier's words) the abolition of the French language, by exile and confiscation, by political scaffolds and inhuman execution of young men whose crime is to love their country too well, by expulsion, in Canada, of men, women and children, having waste our fields and by robbing and plundering our farmers, defenceless as they all were; and at last by the execution of Kiel. The story tells what British fair play, as understood by the French Canadian, is, and the English means, by the butchery of Joan of Arc, the noble heroine buried alive at Rouen, by the blowing from the cannon's mouth of prisoners of war in India by the English, and by her arbitrary laws whereby Irish Catholics were obliged to pay tithes to Protestant ministers.

Mr. Mercier warns his compatriots that the only remedy against British oppression is by the alliance of French Canadian Catholics, and that if they do not combine to protect themselves both their nationalities and their religion will be done away with.

The address is being widely criticized throughout the province and is creating a great sensation, as it is thought it will make the breach between the English and French in the province of Quebec wider than ever.

AND "BINGO" WAS SUNG.

The Class Day Exercises at Yale Were Interesting as Usual.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 26.—The 103rd commencement exercises at Yale which began yesterday with President Dwight's baccalaureate sermon, were continued today by the class day exercises under the direction of the following class day committee: W. R. Begg, of Hartford; T. I. Chaffield, of Oswego, N. Y.; J. H. Field, of Rutland, Vt.; Logan Hay, of Springfield, Ill.; Robert H. Wade, of St. Louis.

At 10:15, the graduating class numbering 156 men, marched in a body to the chapel where the presentation exercises were held. President Dwight had charge of the exercises and opened with prayer. The exercises were then read by Rufus McQueen Gibbs, of Baltimore, and the class oration delivered by Lemuel A. Wells, of Hartford. The subject of Mr. Wells was "Some Ideals of University Life."

After the oration the class ode, written by Charles Macaulay Pope, of St. Louis, was sung. The presentation exercises closed with the benediction.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the most popular of all exercises of the week, the reading of the class histories took place. In the center of a large amphitheater of seats erected in the rear of the old brick row the class of '93 gathered, surrounded by about 600 guests of the occasion who were seated on the encircling tier of seats. After the class pipes had been blown, the old Yale squib "Bingo" was sung.

WANTS A SOUND CURRENCY.

An Indiana Democrat Commission Opposed to State Bank Issues.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—"I think the Sherman act will be repealed," said Representative Jason Brown, of Indiana, "and the sooner the better, but I am not one of those who favor substituting in its stead a repeal of the 10 per cent tax on state banks. I look issue outright with that plank in the Chicago platform and proclaimed hostility to it all through my district in the last campaign."

"We want the government to issue the money and not forty-four states with varying grades of credit. The government can make money a legal tender, as for the states, they cannot, and we have seen too much lately of disaster in monetary transactions to want to take chances with any other sort of currency than that issued by Uncle Sam."

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Council Tonight Will Give Considerable Consideration to the Financial Situation of the Village.

Some Steps Must Be Taken To Relieve Matters and Several Methods Are Being Suggested.

The New Duluth Council Has Decided Not To Purchase the West Duluth Chemical Engine.

The financial condition of the village will probably receive the earnest consideration of the village council at the meeting this evening. It is conceded that some steps must be taken to relieve the situation as the village has undoubtedly gone beyond proper bounds in the matter of street improvements. The contractors at the present time find difficulty in disposing of village orders even at good discount.

Two methods have been proposed for relief, one to curtail the running expenses of the village, and the other to raise bonds to the full limit authorized by law. The village can yet increase its bonded indebtedness to the extent of $10,000 to $20,000. This will find assessments soon to come in and the funds from the county treasurer will cover the shortage. Many think it would be advisable to cut down the general expense of the village. The police department now consists of fifteen men, which is thought to be too many for present needs. There are other branches, it is said, in which economy can be practiced with commendable action.

Were Nearly Drowned.
Two men narrowly escaped drowning this morning at the Merrill & King dock. They were loading lumber upon one of the boats when a board upon which they were standing broke, precipitating them into the water beneath. It was some seconds before they were rescued, and the services of a physician were required to resuscitate them.

Haberstadt & Levander have sold their meat market on the corner of Third and Second streets to J. H. McDonald, who will continue the business.

Children's day was celebrated yesterday at the Presbyterian church with appropriate exercises by the Sunday school. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns and a flowing fountain of water lent pleasing charm to the scene.

The concert given at the Bethel church last night by Professor Scammon, which was highly praised as a meritorious performance, will be repeated at the Congregational church on Thursday evening of this week for the benefit of the carpenter fund.

A. J. Crawford, of Minneapolis, Pa., is in the city looking over his property interests here.

G. A. Pope, superintendent of the Mitchell & McClure mill, will move his family into his new home on First avenue east the latter part of this week.

A party of West Duluth young people will picnic at Spirit Lake on Wednesday afternoon, returning in the evening by moonlight.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Chinese advisers by the steamer China state that at a council convened to discuss the Geary act, Prince Ching and two other members of the yamen proposed recalling the Chinese minister at Washington in the event of the United States government enforcing the act. The statement is alleged to have been made at one time in the presence of the Chinese minister at the Yangtze for the United States should be delayed until something had been done to repeal the obnoxious clauses of the act. The instructions sent to him at Washington were that he was to return to China on the expiration of his term without waiting for his successor.

It is said that the principal reason for the recent proclamation against the sale of American oil is that it is the first of retaliatory measures against everything American. Canton and Swatow are expected to follow suit soon.

WHEAT WAS FIRM TODAY.

Trading Not Active But the Market Was Firm and Advancing.

The wheat market here today was quite firm, and although prices fluctuated nominally with those in the other markets there was no unusual disposition towards weakness here. All the trading here was done at the advance, and whenever any weak spots appeared there were promptly covered. The opening was higher than Saturday for cash, the higher for July and the higher for September. The market was active here, there were good sales of cash wheat, and the futures were fairly active. The close was strong at 10 1/2 for July, following were the closing prices:

No. 1 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/2; No. 2 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/4; No. 3 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/4; No. 4 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/4; No. 5 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/4; No. 6 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/4; No. 7 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/4; No. 8 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/4; No. 9 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/4; No. 10 hard wheat, June 26, 10 1/4.

DID WIRES CAUSE IT?

The Coroner's Inquest in the Bunnell Block Fire Matter Taken Up Again Today.

Mr. Bunnell, the Proprietor, Thinks it Was Caused by Electric Wires or Was Set Afire.

A Peculiar Provision in Reference to Fire Escapes Which is Contained in the Ordinance.

When the coroner's inquest on the Bunnell block fire was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon it was announced that juror Frank Burke Jr., was confined to his home by illness and probably would not be well enough to appear for several days. It was decided after a discussion of the circumstances to substitute James L. Crawford and proceed with the inquest. Assisting county attorney Bureau appeared for the county.

Robert Hemp, Jr., an accountant, of 224 Lake avenue south, was the first witness. He happened along just as the flames were bursting out; ran into his father's store with his father; asked a few hurried questions as to what was the matter if the safe was all right; then saw that the building was going and ran out. The fire apparently started under Mr. Hemp's store, the flames were crackling loud underneath, and as witness and his father ran out the flames were running up the window and door sills.

"If I am not mistaken," said the witness, "the wires to a certain electric motor ran down right in front there where the fire was. My father had electric lights in his store and I think was just turning them off when we went in."

Relative to what part of the building the parties occupied who were burned Mr. Hemp was not certain. He thought the seamstress, Mrs. Meagher, was in the southeast corner of the building. There was no fire in the Hemp store; steam heat was used when heat was necessary.

M. Bunnell, owner of the block, was the next witness. He testified that he had lived in Duluth eleven years. He first heard of the fire between 1 and 2 o'clock. A nephew brought word that the building was all gone and Mr. Bunnell did not think it worth while to go to the ruins until the next morning.

"As to the origin of the fire," said the witness in reply to a question by Coroner Eklund, "I am satisfied in my own mind that it came from one of two causes. It was either set afire or caught from the wires leading to a little motor used in hay and produce establishment to work over butter. I believe. The motor set upon an icebox right under Mr. Hemp's store—exactly in the center of the building as near as I can get at it. There was nothing in that produce store but butter and cheese. A fire would not start very readily there."

Mr. Bunnell proceeded to describe in detail the arrangement of his building; sketch plans, giving the location of each tenant and his business.

It is the desire of all parties concerned to go to the very bottom of the matter and a good many witnesses have been summoned. It is not probable that the inquest will be concluded before some time tomorrow.

A question is likely to arise as to what class of building the Bunnell block was. The ordinance exempts from the fire escape provisions "private residences unoccupied." It is not probable that a few houses attention has been called to it. Just what object there should be in excepting tenement houses is not clear.

When the ambulance arrived Chase had a bad sprain and was telling all about it to a crowd of admirers. Beyond the hole in the roof there was no damage.

BIG SUIT ANNOUNCED.
George Charles Howard Sues Forty-three People to Collect a Debt.

Complaint has been filed in Clerk Sinclair's office in a suit which, indirectly at least, involves three-quarters of a million dollars and several people of high standing in the financial and political circles of Minnesota. George Charles Howard is plaintiff and the defendants are the Iron and Land company of Duluth (incorporated), a corporation organized under the laws of the kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Emil Hartmann, the American Loan and Trust company of Minnesota, Albert Scheffer, the Central Vermilion Iron company and forty-three others.

It is alleged that on or about April 8, 1893, the defendant Iron and Land company extended and issued 474 mortgage debenture bonds of $50 each, bearing 7 per cent interest. About the same time plaintiff loaned to the said company $2300, or $11,500 in the lawful money of the United States, taking as security 46 of such bonds. It was expressly stipulated, it is alleged, that these bonds should be a first lien upon all property whatsoever of the Iron & Land company. The remainder of such 474 bonds are held by certain of the defendants in amounts set forth in particular in the complaint. The defendant Iron & Land company wholly defaulted in all payments of interest. Said company was the owner of certain valuable lands in 62-14 and 63-12, St. Louis county, and 63-11 and 63-10, Lake county.

Defendant Albert Scheffer, the complaint alleges, claims an interest in or lien on such lands by virtue of a judgment rendered Dec. 9, 1891, for $765, 733.50. Scheffer's judgment was entered in a suit brought on certain second mortgage debenture bonds issued by the Iron and Land company. These second mortgage bonds, plaintiff alleges, expressly recited and set forth the existence of the first mortgage bonds and were in all ways subject to such first bonds; that Scheffer had full notice of the prior lien; that said judgment was entered without due notice to the Iron and Land company and the company did not appear in said action in any way.

It is further alleged that Emil Hartmann et al, the Central Vermilion Iron company and the American Loan and Trust company claim certain interests in said lands, the extent of which is to plaintiff unknown; but that whatever such claim or interest it is subject to the prior and superior claim of plaintiff under the first mortgage bonds.

Plaintiff demands judgment that he be adjudged the amount due him upon said first mortgage bonds with costs and disbursements; that he be held to have a first lien upon said lands and that the lands may be sold according to law to satisfy his claim.

Complaints in two other cases were filed this morning as follows: Oma S. Langellier against Francis Soutar and A. V. Kelly, on promissory note for $300, held by plaintiff; and John J. Endion against P. Christie against P. Crosby, action for $283.36 on promissory note.

The papers were filed as follows: Satisfaction of judgment, $25.50, against George M. Holmes et al in favor of State Bank of Duluth.

R. Costello against Dodge & Dailey, deposition of defendant Dailey taken at Milwaukee on stipulation.

In the matter of assignment of the Phenix Electric company, release of claim by Electric Appliance company, of Chicago.

Damie A. Moore, nee Damie A. Brown, suit for divorce against J. D. Brown, affidavit of default on part of defendant.

Awarded Some Contracts.
Bids for public work have been awarded as follows by the board of public works, subject to the approval of the council this evening:

For grading and constructing Fourth alley sanitary sewer, from Piedmont avenue west to Twenty-third avenue west, there were seven bidders. The contract was awarded to C. M. Johnson. For constructing a sanitary sewer in Toga street, from Second avenue to Lincoln street, H. B. Hutchart, $325.05.

For constructing a ditch sewer in Fir street, L. C. Meinert & Co. bid $803.50 and secured the job. For improving Twenty-eighth avenue west, from Michigan street to St. Louis bay, Sang & Nicholson bid $803.75 and were given the plum.

SILVER COINAGE

The Action of the British India Authorities in Suspending Silver Coinage Created a Sensation.

Views of Prominent Financiers and Bankers in This Country on the Effect of This Move.

The Repeal of the Sherman Silver Purchase Law is Now More Necessary Than Ever.

This Disposes Altogether of the Talk of Another Meeting of the International Monetary Conference.

NEW YORK, June 27.—A Herald dispatch from Providence, R. I., says: President Andrews, of Brown university, and who was one of the American delegates to the Brussels conference, in an interview in regard to the action of the Indian government suspending the free coinage of silver, said: "It is impossible that this scheme should bring any relief to the silver situation in England. It will make the condition of exchange a little more stable as between the traders of England and the big merchants and exchanges of Bombay and Calcutta. This is to say, it will arrest the fall in the intrinsic value of our silver, if this will cause a break between the value of Indian silver as money and its value as bullion just as exists between the silver money of the United States and France and the corresponding bullion."

"The result of the system, if persisted in, would be to impose on India full prices such as prevail over the entire gold-using world. Further, the value of the rupee being so much greater than the value of the same silver, there would be an overwhelming temptation to introduce the rupee from other countries. It could be copied exactly and made of the same weight and fineness. It would be as good a coin in every respect as the one minted in India."

"Another difficulty arises in connection with the habit of the Indian people of turning their silver into ornaments and jewelry. A native Indian does not speak of these as being worth many rupees. He believes there is no difference in his mind between the silver in the form of an ornament and in the form of a coin. Brackets are often used for money. It is said these trinkets in India amount to $10,000,000 in value. Now suppose these mints are closed to silver, this vast property is at once devalued and it is hardly possible that such a scheme can be carried into effect without riot or bloodshed."

"As for America, I believe this action will be fortunate. Silver will drop in gold prices and it may be necessary to repeal the Sherman law. It will then drop still more and the price of gold will be forced to take concerted action with other nations."

MR. CANNON'S VIEWS.
This Country Cannot Safely Continue Silver Coinage.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Henry W. Cannon, president of the Chase National bank, and also one of the delegates to the monetary conference at Brussels, said regarding the Indian silver suspension: "The importance of the action of the government of India in suspending the free coinage of silver cannot be overestimated at this time. It was the only country, with the exception of Mexico, in the world the mint of which was open to the coinage of silver without limitation. Therefore at the present time, the only countries in the world which are continuing to produce silver legal tender money are the United States and Mexico, and it must be clear, even to a casual observer, that it is impossible for the United States to safely continue the coinage of silver or the issuance of money against bullion purchases."

"In all Europe silver is dishonored and gold is fast becoming the only money of full debt-paying power. The course of the United States is clear. We must immediately stop the further purchase of silver and the issuance of silver legal tender money. If this course is pursued there is very little doubt that the other nations will be brought to a realizing sense of the condition of monetary affairs, and the place of silver as a money metal throughout the world will be settled within a reasonable time. Our government is pledged to maintain all of our money on a gold basis, and some action should be taken at once to remove the prevailing feeling of distrust and discomfort."

FROM A SILVER SENATOR.
Wolcott Believes the Sherman Law Could Not be Repealed Now.

NEW YORK, June 27.—A special from Denver says: In an interview on the financial situation, Senator Wolcott said: "If an extra session of congress should be called today, the Sherman law would not be repealed. The times are dark enough to indicate that a streak of light must break in from some direction soon. It means immediate disaster to Western interests, but it may be a blessing in disguise if we can hold on. Much as we suffer, the disaster entailed to Great Britain is worse and a continued falling in the price of silver must force an international agreement."

NEW YORK BANKERS.
They Express Their Views Upon the Action in India.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Joseph Heuclricks, president of the Union National bank, said: "The supersaturation of our currency with silver in the face of the preference of civilized nations for gold is fast becoming an historical absurdity, and when a silver using country is forced by the sternness of natural laws to weaken its faith and perpetuate the money fashions of the world, not try to make new ones."

Edward O. Leach, who was director of the United States mint when the Brussels conference was held, attended the meetings of that body in an advisory capacity. In an interview Mr. Leach said: "Silver, as is well known, is the only legal tender money in British India. It is estimated that there is in circulation about $5,000,000,000. It forms the entire circulation medium of the country, for while there is some rupee paper in circulation in Bombay, Madras and a few large cities, there are no banks; no substitutes for money like checks, etc., throughout the country and everything in the shape of money consists of silver rupees and half rupees. Gold is not legal tender in India although the gold mohur and divisions are coined. The ratio in India being gold being silver is 15 to 1, so that an ounce of silver in such coinage is valued at about $1.35."

India has always been the silver sink of the world, the natural receptacle of all silver for which there was no actual demand. India absorbs in coinage more silver than any other country in the world, about $40,000,000 annually. This fact will give some idea of the tremendous effect the closing of the India mints to silver coinage will have upon the price of the white metal. It is a warning to the United States that we cannot safely go further in the absorption of a depreciated silver coinage without seriously embarrassing our financial system."

William P. St. John, president of the Mercantile bank, said: "As to the effect upon our silver, if this will have upon the price of the white metal, it is a warning to the United States that we cannot safely go further in the absorption of a depreciated silver coinage without seriously embarrassing our financial system."

TO PREVENT A FURTHER FALL.
This Was Why Silver Coinage Was Stopped in India.

SIMLA, June 27.—In explaining to the India council the bill providing for the stoppage of free coinage of silver and other monetary measures, the adoption of which was announced yesterday, the marquis of Lansdowne, viceroy of India, said: "It is hoped the government would not be criticized for disposing of the important question at a single sitting. The keynote of the scheme was rather to prevent a further fall in exchange than to raise the value of the rupee."

The fixing of the provisional rate of exchange at 15 to 1 provided an automatic means of stopping the closing of the mints and the violent disturbing of exchange rates. The rate of exchange has been fixed high enough to relieve the government of the most pressing necessities, while it is well within the limits of the recent fluctuations. There should be no mistake, the viceroy said, about the fact that the government is not to substitute gold for silver currency. No attempt would be made at present to fix a legal tender price for gold. While the ratio of value was mentioned, it was only provisional."

In conclusion, the viceroy expressed the government's sense of the gravity of the step it was about to take. Personally he was averse to all attempts to give money commodities a fictitious value, but the time had arrived when to remain inactive was impossible. The government would be unworthy of the name if it left these things alone. It had not which are continuing to step with light hearts. He hoped its action would be fruitful in good results, and that a sufficient reserve of gold would be accumulated to make an effective gold standard possible."

SILVER AT A LOW POINT.
It Has Reached the Lowest Figure Ever Known.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Silver is lower today than ever before, according to official advices received by Acting Mint Director Preston, from London. The London price regulates the price of silver throughout the world and the price there today is 35 pence per ounce, or about 77 cents per ounce. United States money counting in the exchange expenses.

The lowest figure at which silver has been purchased by the treasury department heretofore was $0.8225 per ounce. The cause for the decline in the price of silver is stated to be the determination of the English government to shut down its mints in India which are almost exclusively devoted to the coinage of white metal.

SILVER PROBLEM IN INDIA.
There is no Gold Coined There at the Present Time.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Rai T. N. Singh, Bahadur, and his son D. N. Singh, a couple of high class gentlemen of India, whose estate is near Calcutta, are in this city on route to the World's fair. In speaking of the discontinuance of free silver coinage in his native country, Mr. Singh, Jr., said:

"The great question in India just now is exactly the problem that is disturbing the people of the United States, and that is the question of the low price of the rupee, which ought to be worth two shillings, but which has declined to one shilling two pence, has made times very hard and produced a general depression in business all over India. Among the various propositions for relief that have been urged by our financiers is to begin the coining of gold. At present we are without a single piece of gold coin. Whether this will relieve us or not, I am not a sufficient expert in finance to tell."

INDIA'S MONETARY SYSTEM.
Silver Coinage Stopped and the Gold Standard to be Introduced.

LONDON, June 27.—In the house of lords yesterday the earl of Kimberley, lord of the council and state for India, stated that the Indian council had passed an act immediately closing the India mints to the free coinage of silver. He added that arrangements are being made to issue rupees from the mints in exchange for gold at the rate of 16 pence per rupee and for receiving sovereigns and half sovereigns at the treasury in payment of duties at the same rate. The earl of Kimberley further said that it is intended to introduce the gold standard in India, but that old gold and the mint will not be made the sole legal tender.

A Rise in Securities.
CALCUTTA, June 27.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the action regarding the course taken by the India council yesterday. Government securities rose rapidly.

NARROWLY ESCAPED LYINGHING.
A Drunken Policeman in St. Louis Clubbed a Man Into Insensibility.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—Police Officer Christopher J. Verdon narrowly escaped lyinghing last night by a crowd of citizens who were horrified and incensed at his brutal treatment of Hugh McGuire, whom he had arrested after an argument about religion.

Verdon was in full uniform and, crazy drunk, he became involved in a dispute with McGuire in a saloon and finally clubbed him into insensibility. He then handcuffed him so tightly that the circulation of the blood in his arm was stopped. A crowd of citizens surrounded the drunken officer and his victim and made threats of lynching. All that was necessary was a leader and a rope, just before these could be secured Verdon and his victim were landed in the police station.

ROBBED BY BANDITS.
Two Americans Have a Thrilling Experience in Mexico.

DURANGO, Mex., June 27.—J. H. Todd, a prominent American contractor of this city, while taking a morning horseback ride, accompanied by Miss Laura Moore, was stopped by five bandits on the edge of the city. Miss Moore attempted to escape but was seized. Mr. Todd was severely beaten over the head and robbed of his horse and a considerable sum of money. Miss Moore was also robbed of her horse and valuable jewelry. A force of men at once started in pursuit, but up to the present time none of the outlaws have been captured.

ROASTED TO DEATH.
A Mexican Woman Forced Her Child Into a Baker's Oven.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—A special to the Globe Democrat from the City of Mexico says a woman named Anita Sanchez has been arrested at Piedra Groda, charged with a terrible crime. She became angry at her 8-year-old daughter and forced her into a large baker's oven. The woman woman then lighted a fire and the child was roasted to death. She confessed the crime and committed the crime and will receive a life sentence, as the law does not provide a death penalty.

A DESPERATE FIGHT.
Eighty-Seven Natives of Mindanao Killed by Spanish Troops.

MADRID, June 27.—Advices from Manila show that a desperate fight has occurred on the island of Mindanao the largest of the Philippine group.

A force of 6000 rebellious natives, under the leadership of their sultan, made an attack upon Fort Manguingay, Mindanao. The Spanish garrison succeeded in repulsing the natives after a stubbornly contested fight.

The natives lost eighty-seven killed, including the sultan, while 300 of their number were wounded. The Spanish loss, if any, is not stated.

Day Is Under Treatment.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 27.—Detectives are looking for Frederick T. Day, ex-president of the Parkington bank of Milwaukee. Dr. W. N. Wisshard, of this city, admits that he is treating Mr. Day, but declines to state where his patient is hiding. He says that as soon as Mr. Day is able he will return to Milwaukee and tell all he knows about the affairs of the suspended bank.

The United Workmen.
TORONTO, Ont., June 27.—After a long debate yesterday the grand lodge of A. O. U. W. adopted a maximum rate of assignment for their various jurisdictions for the next three years. Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, New York, Iowa, Indiana, Texas and the supreme lodge are placed in a group at $30. The other jurisdictions average $10.

Will Probably Resume.
SEATTLE, Wash., June 27.—A special from Port Angeles says: The First National bank of this city closed its doors yesterday after having been open thirty minutes. The bank will probably resume business in a short time. The management have the entire confidence of the people of this city.

Mines Shut Down.
ISPERING, Mich., June 27.—Superintendent Frank P. Mills received orders yesterday afternoon to close down the mines here, so, consequent upon a thousand men will be thrown out of employment next Friday evening. All mining operations will be suspended except at the Salisbury and Fitch mines, which have contracts to fill.

ALTGELD CONDEMNED

The Action of the Governor of Illinois in Pardoning the Anarchists Received With Surprise.

A Chicago Paper Says He Was Always in Sympathy With Socialists and Their Ideas.

He Was Elected Governor by the Votes of the Anarchists and Half-Baked Americans.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The Tribune and the Herald are the only morning papers that comment editorially on the pardoning of the Chicago anarchists. The Tribune says: "Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, has assumed a responsibility of the gravest character in pardoning the three Chicago anarchists who have been undergoing imprisonment at Joliet. His reasons for so doing will not bear examination although he has set them forth at great length. That the anarchists had a fair trial and were justly condemned is the universal opinion of Americans whose opinions are worth regarding. Moreover, the case was carried to the supreme court of the nation and the finds of the state tribunal were upheld. It is late in the day for Governor Altgeld to come forward with the assertion that they were not fairly treated and that Judge Gary manifested prejudice against them."

The Herald says: "The announcement that all the Chicago anarchists in the Illinois state prison have been unconditionally pardoned by Governor Altgeld is well calculated to startle the public. Not less extraordinary are the reasons given for this action. These constitute a sweeping arraignment of the court, jury, prosecutors and police for what Governor Altgeld considers an unwarranted conviction of the anarchists. That conviction he treats as a scandalous outrage on justice. It is strange that Governor Altgeld, who has been in office six months, has just made this amazing discovery. It is more remarkable that it was not made by any of his predecessors during seven years, nor by either the supreme court of Illinois or the supreme court of the United States, both of which affirmed the conviction."

"Anarchy in this country never received a more deadly blow than when justice was meted out to the diabolical bomb throwers who terrified Chicago some years ago. It is no time to silence the warning then given to anarchists, now that the cable almost daily brings news of anarchistic outrages in various parts of Europe, and we even read of a monument to anarchy just erected in Chicago."

The afternoon papers say: The Evening World: Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, is added to the list of men who will be remembered for something they ought not to have done.

Evening Sun: Governor Altgeld thinks 17,000 words would be enough to justify him and the law-abiding citizens of Illinois in over-riding the decrees of courts and juries with a document that will be received with acclaim only by the enemies of law and order.

Evening Post: Governor Altgeld's reasons for setting the verdict aside are even more astonishing than his action itself. He sets these forth in a message of 17,000 words, which is a long and angry arraignment of everybody concerned in bringing the anarchists to justice. In fact, the document reads almost as if the governor himself were an anarchist. It shows very clearly that he has always been in sympathy with them and has improved his first opportunity to nullify the courts which did not agree with his views. Unquestionably, if the four other anarchists had not been pardoned, they would have been pardoned with their associates now.

GOVERNOR ALTGELD'S RECORD.
Anarchists and Half-Baked Americans Voted For Him.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The Tribune has the following this morning: "The anarchists unveiled their monument to Spies and Parsons a few days too soon. Had they waited, Fielden, Schwab and Neebe could have been with them to unite in honoring the memory of their dead comrades. The monument was unveiled Sunday and yesterday Governor Altgeld released the three men who have been in Joliet since November of 1887. It was generally understood that they were to be let go in the event of Altgeld's election."

"The anarchists believed that he was not merely an alien by birth, but an alien by temperament and sympathies, and they were right. He has apparently not a drop of true American blood in his veins. He does not reason like an American, nor feel like one, and consequently he does not behave like one. He did not approve of the result of the trial held before Judge Gary, and for that reason the anarchists and half-baked Americans supported him at the polls whenever they had an opportunity. They voted for him for judge and for governor and they have their reward."

There are many who feel that it was wrong to commute the sentences of Fielden and Schwab, if the consequence was to be such an act of mistaken clemency as that of Governor Altgeld. We cannot feel that the brave fellows who lost their lives in the Haymarket massacre have been remembered as long as these resurrections in a short time. At least, of their murderers are turned loose upon the community after a scant term of imprisonment."

HIS HIDE IS TOUGH.
Governor Altgeld Says He Cares Nothing About Press Comments.

AN UNPOPULAR STAGE

Cleveland's Administration Now at the Period When its Popularity is at a Low Point.

The Disappointed Place Hunters Talk Real Mean About Cleveland and Some of His Advisers.

Secretary of State Gresham the Most Popular Man in the Cabinet, Even Among Politicians.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—[The Herald.]—The admirers and critics of President Cleveland and his present cabinet are saying some very nice and severe things as the case may be, about the men who are now conducting the affairs of this government. So far as President Cleveland is concerned, this is doubtless the most unpopular stage of his present administration. This is the period in which the patronage back-ers and place hunters are doing their utmost to convince him that their views in reference to the filling of offices are the correct ones, and those who are unable to do so, naturally are disappointed and talk real mean about Cleveland and some of his advisers.

Those Democrats who are not satisfied with Mr. Cleveland's course up to the present time are doing the most of the talking. Those who expect nothing further from the president are those who are making the harshest remarks about him. Those who are playing a waiting game are very quiet. Mr. Cleveland, however, pursues the even tenor of his way and whether all his decisions are right or not, he is a man who is sure to stand by them in a nearly every instance. While he is unpopular to some extent just at the present time, after the office brokerage business is over there may be a revival of his popularity.

Leaving Mr. Cleveland out of the question, however, a great deal of gossip is just now being indulged in reference to the popularity or unpopularity of the different members of his cabinet. It will probably surprise the ordinary Democrats outside the national capital to learn that Secretary of State Gresham is at this time the most popular man, not only with the ordinary people who meet him but with the Democratic politicians as well, and it is a well known fact that the majority of them despised him when it became known that he was to accept the position of premier of Mr. Cleveland's present administration.

Though a Republican all his years, Judge Gresham now appears to be the most Democratic member of this Democratic cabinet. Every caller at the state department finds Secretary Gresham accessible. All the red tape rules heretofore in existence in this department have been set aside by Mr. Gresham and the only thing required of one of his callers is to step into his room, and he will be in the case in any other public office in the country. The caller is then required to take his turn and as soon as Judge Gresham gets to him he receives a lengthy handshake and is asked to make known his business.

To newspaper men Judge Gresham is extremely agreeable. He answers every question promptly, tells them frankly whether he can give out any information or not and the newspaper caller is a crank indeed if he does not leave the presence of the present secretary of state feeling extremely satisfied with this official.

Secretary Morton, of the agricultural department, is another pleasant man to meet. There is no red tape under the Nebraska's rule in that department. Like Judge Gresham, he believes in giving every caller an opportunity to see and talk with him. He, too, is very agreeable to the average newspaper man.

Secretary Herbert of the navy is also a very pleasant gentleman and is making hosts of friends in that position.

Secretary Lamont of the war department is not the agreeable Lamont he was when he was private secretary to the president. He is not as popular as he was during that period.

Postmaster General Bissell is fairly popular with everybody but the average office seeker. It is extremely improbable, however, that he is at all popular with those who are obliged to submit to his ironclad rules in the department. It is becoming a well known fact that there is not an official under him who does not vouchsafe any information or even an opinion. The general impression of Bissell is that he will not be a huge success in his present position.

Secretary Smith is considerably puffed up with his own importance, but Smith is a new man, a young man, and an inexperienced man, and his critics are disposed to give him an opportunity to right himself. Experience will probably teach him that there have been cabinet ministers before he was born, and that there will be cabinet ministers after he is dead. Secretary Smith, however, probably does his duty to the best of his ability, and may yet be able to leave a far better record when he retires from the department, than did John W. Noble, of St. Louis, his predecessor.

BREACH OF COURTESY

The Supplying of Coal to an Italian Warship at New York Resulted in Trouble.

A Creditor of the Coal Dealer Attached His Deposit of $1000 With the Italian Consul.

The Consul Mad Because the Court Granted an Attachment and Italy Asks an Explanation.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Secretary Gresham, the Italian consul in this city, the sheriff, a coal dealer and a creditor of the coal dealer are indirectly concerned in a lawsuit for $300 which has led to a complication between this country and Italy. The trouble began two months ago when the Italian warship which came to take part in the naval review found it necessary to buy coal of a New York dealer.

The coal dealer contracted to supply them with a certain amount of coal, and he deposited $1000 with the Italian consul in this city for the faithful performance of his contract. Now the coal dealer had a creditor to whom he owed $200. The creditor heard that the coal dealer had deposited $1000 with the Italian consul and he immediately brought suit in the city court to recover his money from the coal dealer.

The plaintiff's lawyer applied to the court for an order directing the Italian consul to turn over to the custody of the court $200 of the $1000 deposited by the defendant. Judge Fitzsimmons issued the order and gave it to the sheriff to receive. A representative from the sheriff's office left the papers at the Italian consul's office.

The consul did not think that the state court had a right to serve a process upon him and he refused to turn over to the custody of the court the $200. Instead, however, he wrote to the home government immediately communicated to the state department of this country and Secretary Gresham wrote to this city to get the facts of the case. These were forwarded to the secretary and he now has them under consideration.

The Italian consul says that Judge Fitzsimmons' action in granting the order against him was a breach of international courtesy. There is much anxiety among those interested in the affair as to what decision Secretary Gresham will give.

GEN. WEISERT TAKES.

Says Farnham Post Will Not Be Reinstated.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Gen. Weissert, who is stopping at the St. James hotel in this city, said yesterday regarding the report that the disbanded Farnham post would seek re-admittance into the G. A. R. through the national encampment: "The national G. A. R. authorities will hear no appeal from the decision of the New York state authorities by which the order Farnham post was declared to be disbanded. It is not within our jurisdiction. Besides there is now no organization as the Farnham post in existence, so an appeal from them as an organization is out of the question. Even the state authorities could not recognize them. There will, I think, be no objection to admitting them individually."

She accuses him of having struck her in the face with his fist and with having threatened to place her in an insane asylum. She further charges Henry Rothschild with having entered into a fraudulent scheme with Thurston to hold title to valuable property to prevent the complainant from entering a claim.

She seeks a divorce and alimony, claiming her rightful share of his property, which is said to exceed $20,000. They were married in Massachusetts in 1866 and have no children.

DIED FROM YELLOW FEVER.

The Master of a Vessel Succumbed to the Disease in Georgia.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., June 27.—A special from a lumber dock fifty-six miles distant on the Satilla river announced the death of Alfred J. Biddle, master of the American barkentine Anita, Brunswick, from yellow fever. Health Officer John A. Dunwoody has given the press the following official statement:

"The barkentine Anita, from Brunswick, Ga., arrived at Brunswick on June 15. All were well on board and reported no illness on passage. She was fumigated, entered and then went up the Satilla river fifty-six miles. Master of the barkentine Anita, Alfred J. Biddle, died of yellow fever on June 26. The vessel was loaded and ready to sail, was ordered to leave for the national quarantine at Sapelo. All the crew and the vessel were thoroughly fumigated before leaving and those in the country who came in contact with Biddle have been isolated. No more danger is apprehended, every precaution having been taken and the distance from many houses being a number of miles."

Sluggers in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 27.—There was a very slim attendance at the Columbian club on the night of its second great event, the fight between Bobby Burns and Napier, the Australian, who the Maher and Flood "go" as a curtain raiser. Flood was knocked out in the fourth round. The Burns-Napier fight lasted eight rounds and was quite lively. In the eighth round Napier led with the right and landed on his opponent's wind. Burns fell back in a sitting position in his own camp and failed to respond at the call of time. Amid mingled cheers and hooting the fight was awarded to the Australian.

A Sensational Suit.

PITTSBURGH, June 27.—The jury in the suit of Mrs. Dr. Frank Buffum against her father-in-law, J. C. Buffum, her husband, Dr. Frank Buffum, and her brother-in-law, Eugene Buffum, for assault and battery, returned a verdict this morning. They find J. C. Buffum not guilty, but must pay one-half of the costs of the suit. Dr. Frank and Eugene are found guilty of assault and battery.

The many truthful testimonials in behalf of Ayer's Sarsaparilla prove that it is a blood-purifier, even when all other remedies fail. Try it once.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May, while in Des Moines en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seventeen years and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25-cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhoea. Every one should procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. For sale by druggists.

HIS REQUEST IGNORED

The Mayor Asked the Aldermen to Confirm Four Patrolmen But They Refused To Do It.

Attention of the Council Called to the Necessity for Action in the Matter of Fire Escapes.

Only one Bid Received for the Bonds—The Hartman Proposition Laid Over Another Week.

When President Spencer commenced last evening to pound the varnish off his desk as a sign for the city fathers to take their positions and play ball, as it were, the slender front finger of time pointed to nine minutes to 8 o'clock. All the aldermen were present except James Dingwall, who was in Port Huron, many miles away. Alderman Cox, who now is experiencing a bit of his mother-in-law, bore a look of sadness. T.W. Hugo was thinking of his useless trips up to the municipal court as a witness against W. C. Sherman. Alderman Myers looked sicker than ever with his whiskers newly trimmed. Alderman Thomas presented the appearance of a man who had been wrestling with a Lester river mosquito, with the result that the blood-loving insect had worked in a half Nelson on the alderman's nose. The second ward and then dined freely off his person. Taken as a whole, the meeting was uneventful and shorter than some sessions in the past. Harmony reigned with a fairly good-sized H.

Petitions and communications came first last evening as usual. A communication from the mayor headed the list. City Clerk Richardson, greatly refreshed by a week's visit to the Midway Plaisance and art rooms down at the World's Fair, read in a rapid voice. Mayor d'Auremont expressed regret that the council had turned down three of his nominees for policemen at the meeting last week. If the friction between him and the council was the cause, he was always ready to meet the members half way. In naming the men rejected politics and religion had not been considered. A most careful inquiry as to the character and standing of the men had also been made. The fact was pointed out that lately several members of the force have dropped out, which makes the city short of police protection. All but one of the men at Lakeside have been brought into the main part of the city, as well as the man stationed at Woodland and in the western limits of the city. His honor requested the aldermen to reconsider their previous action.

The communication was referred to the committee on public offices and officers. That committee later on reported in favor of sustaining the action taken the week before and that report was adopted in a resolution introduced near the close of the session. Aldermen Spencer, Howard, Wilson and Thomas voting no, Alderman Cox also stated that whereas Mr. Swanson had asked that no report be made on his confirmation as fire commissioner, the matter would be held over another week.

A second communication from the mayor called the attention of the council to the necessity of attention to the matter of fire escapes. The late Bonnell fire was pointed out as a severe lesson and the recommendation that some person be appointed to act under the direction of the fire warden, or fire commissioners and whose duty it shall be to inspect the tenement houses, learn the number of families therein, note the means for escape from fire and then report.

Last evening was the time advertised for receiving and opening bids for the $50,000 of general bonds. The only offer to buy was from the American Loan and Trust company of Duluth, which offered par value and demanded further a commission of 7 1/2 per cent. Referred to the finance committee.

An opinion was received from the city attorney to the effect that the city must pay the expenses of the late Mississippi canal elections. Later on, the sum of $31 was voted each judge of election and $5 per day allowed for the use of each voting place. The total was over $2800.

The application of J. B. Holmes for the calling of an election to vote bonds in the sum of $150,000 to aid the Duluth & Great Western railway, was laid on the table quicker than a seat. The application was accompanied by a proposition in which the promoters of the new railroad in consideration of $150,000 thirty year 4 1/2 per cent bonds, guarantee 20 miles of road will be completed before Dec. 1, 1893.

Sketches and estimates for a new fire hall were received and referred to the fire department committee. A proposition from the Highland Improvement company to furnish lumber for the city was to be used as a protection against fire on Duluth Heights was referred to the same committee.

The city attorney reported the terms of the contract between the Hartman Electric Light company but as yet he had not had time to look into its legality. A resolution was adopted accepting the proposition of the Hartman company by which the present price of city lights is reduced about 15 per cent on condition a six year contract be entered into from the present time. In consideration of the city attorney's need of more time, the whole matter was laid over for another week.

Four ordinances were passed as follows: Giving certain right of way to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway; extending gas and water mains down

Seventh avenue west; fixing the standing places for drays and regulating the speed of riding and driving in the city. An ordinance extending and defining the pound limits was introduced and referred to the proper committee.

An adjournment was taken until Saturday evening. The meeting will be held simply to pass the pay rolls, so that the city employees may purchase a fire cracker or two and join the youthful population of the city in making the day noisy.

THE SAENGERBUND.

Duluth Gets the Officers and the Next Saengerfest as Well.

The Duluth Concordia Singing society returned yesterday from the Saengerfest held in St. Paul last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The singing of this society was excellent only by those from other cities having twice the membership, and the Duluthians received high praise for their work.

The annual business meeting was held Sunday morning, the Duluth society being represented by Franz Schultz, R. Krojanker and Carl P. Haerle. The next saengerfest, to be held in 1895, was secured for Duluth and all of the officers elected were Duluthians. They are as follows: Carl P. Haerle, president; Franz Schultz, secretary; and Fred Knaare, treasurer. The newly elected officers were made a committee to solicit the various singing societies of the state to join the band.

NO ONE TO BLAME.

So Says the Jury in the Matter of the Bunnell Block Fire.

Contrary to general expectation the inquest in the Bunnell disaster was concluded yesterday afternoon. After Mr. Bunnell's testimony Fire Warden Emil Applehagen was put on the stand. The building was regarded as a two-story structure, he said, and the fire commissioners therefore had never ordered that it be equipped with fire escapes. Mr. Applehagen considered the present ordinance relating to fire escapes very weak.

After ten minutes consultation the jury returned the following verdict:
We, the jury, find that Mary A. Foard came to her death by being burned in the fire which destroyed the Bunnell block in Duluth on June 20, 1893, and that no blame attaches to anyone.
It was stated on the inquest that a new fire ordinance is being prepared to cure the weak points now existing.

THE TUNNEL MATTER.

Nothing Further to be Done Till the Act is Declared Valid.

Some days ago City Engineer Reed wrote Consulting Engineer Artingstall at Chicago, to suspend all work on the tunnel plans and estimates until the courts pass on the validity of the bill passed by the legislature and the plan for assessment. The following reply has been received:
"Your communication of the 21st, in relation to the case in the supreme court regarding tunnel under ship canal, is received. I will delay all work on plans until I hear from you further. The specifications are completed excepting that I wish to make a final revision, when I will send a copy of them."
"If the decision of the supreme court is given favorably in the fall, I think it would be a good time to advertise and get propositions from responsible contractors for the work during the winter, so that the successful men would have abundant opportunity to make special preparation for commencing work as soon as favorable weather opens."

At the Pavilion.

Jessie Miller is attracting great crowds at the Pavilion. She played yesterday afternoon and evening to large audiences and gave some brilliant selections. The city laid concerts are growing more popular and fine programs are presented every evening. In the afternoon Hoare's orchestra plays and delights the women and children.

Adopted No Plan.

The board of fire commissioners met yesterday afternoon and examined plans for the new First street fire hall. Those who submitted plans were Radcliffe & Wilby, Trappenberg & Fitzpatrick and Wangenstein & Bellie. The estimates ranged from $8,000 to $10,000. No decision was reached and it was finally decided to turn the matter over to the council.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

George E. Arbury up Again—Innocent Blind Pig Keepers.

George E. Arbury made his second appearance in police court this morning. Some weeks ago, he was up for assault, being charged with kicking a boy out of his front yard. This time the charge is assault and battery. The complaint is made by William A. Martin, who alleges that Arbury pushed him from the sidewalk on Third avenue east near Third street. The defendant pleaded not guilty and the case was set for trial at 3 p. m.

M. McCormick, Peter Hart, Frank Ainsley, Charles Crane, and Frank Gallagher have lately opened boozing parlors at Iron Junction. This morning, as the result of neglecting the formality of securing licenses, they were up before Judge Powell, having been brought down from the range by one of Paul Sharry's emissaries. All waived examination and were placed under $100 bonds to appear before the next grand jury.

William Hellman, a Duluth saloon-keeper came in to answer a charge of keeping a disorderly saloon. He denied the truth of the charge. His trial will come off July 3.

Twelve vags and three drunks were on the anxious bench. The former were discharged on condition that they get work or leave the city. The drunks were sent up for ten days.

AN EXCELLENT LECTURE.

Dr. Simmons Talked to a Small Audience at Unity Church.

A great many people missed an excellent lecture last night. In fact little Unity chapel was scarcely quarter full when Rev. H. M. Simmons arose to speak. Mr. Simmons' fame as a scholarly and entertaining lecturer reached Duluth long ago. Besides the lecture of last night was the closing one in a course which had been largely listened to by crowds. In Duluth Mr. Simmons is a general favorite beyond a doubt. But the novelty of a warm night at the head of Lake Superior is too strong a card for any man to draw against. People do not want to stay indoors for any purpose.

Samuel Johnson was the subject of Mr. Simmons' talk. He carefully reviewed the life of this great genius from the cradle to the grave, bringing out his peculiarities by amusing anecdotes and dwelling upon his strong points. Anything like an abstract would not do justice to the lecture.

Simmons thought Johnson an able, powerful and finished writer, but more of his fame and influence in this country came from Boswell's biography through which Johnson has been talking on another hundred years.

A Volunteer Department.

A volunteer fire department has been organized on Duluth Heights, the officers being: President, J. Hart; vice president, G. R. Free; secretary, William McEwen; foreman, Sam Maghan; assistant foreman, John Frazer. The department will have its headquarters temporarily in H. Newton's building at Highland avenue and Palmetto street. The city has already provided two ladders and extinguishers and seventy-five buckets are expected in a few days. The company meets every Tuesday for drill and will have a business meeting on the first Tuesday of each month.

Held to the Grand Jury.

John McCarthy was taken before United States Court Commissioner Carey last evening on a charge of assaulting an Indian with a sling shot, on the Fond du Lac reservation. He was held to the grand jury. John Betzler and Louis La Frairie must also answer to the grand jury for selling liquor to Indians. Assistant District Attorney J. E. Stryker prosecuted.

LIFE INSURANCE

POLICY

—YOU HAVE—

Been Waiting For.

In the early days of Life Insurance it was thought necessary to encumber the policy contract with numerous conditions and restrictions, and not a few of these have been continued until the present time. These limitations have necessarily made the contract more burdensome and less valuable than it would have otherwise been, and caused much annoyance and no little loss to policy-holders. Progress in knowledge, in morals, and in business methods has, indeed, brought some improvements, the most notable being the non-forfeiture provisions first introduced by THE NEW YORK LIFE in 1860.

This company believes the time has now come for another radical departure from old methods, with respect to limitations on the conduct of the insured. Life Insurance is safe or possible only on the supposition that a mass of mankind, life is no precious thing. Yet its history shows a certain timidity, or reluctance on the part of the companies to accept this principle to its fullest extent. The result has been that life policies have never furnished immediate, complete, and unquestionable protection.

After an experience of nearly fifty years now takes its stand upon the principle that the present physical conditions, habits, etc., of an applicant being satisfactory, it is not to insure him absolutely, without imposing any restrictions whatever with respect to occupation, residence, travel, habits of life or manner of death.

WILL MAKE REPORTS.

The Work of the Chamber of Commerce Will Hereafter be Presented Quarterly.

At the chamber of commerce meeting this morning, Railroad Commissioner Beriah Magoffin presented a communication in reference to the conditions imposed by law upon the conduct of his office and citing the fact that the city council had agreed with him that quarterly reports of the commissioner should be rendered. This the chamber agreed to and the reports will be prepared.

Mr. Magoffin takes the ground that as the chamber derives its support from the city it must be responsible to the city for what it does. In the beginning it was intended to be an independent body but as soon as it began to receive its maintenance from the city it lost that independence.

Railroad Commissioner Magoffin also presented to the chamber the fact that people in southern and southwestern points are getting tourists' rates to Minnesota, White Bear and other resorts but cannot to Duluth, which is as much a summer resort as any of the others. The secretary and Mr. Magoffin were instructed to confer with the railroad.

Secretary Thompson presented a report on the relief map and urged the necessity of having someone down there in charge of it. A resolution was passed expressing it as the sense of the chamber that someone should be kept there. Mr. Moore reported that some glass signs had been sent down to be put over the map.

The matter of the extension of the fire limits was referred to a committee. The question of a division of the expense of constructing the float in the James J. Hill parade was referred to the finance committee. Secretary Thompson presented a report of the financial condition of the chamber.

THERE WILL BE WORK

A Number of Street Improvements to be Made in Duluth, Despite the Financial Stringency.

Several Streets to be Graded and Paved and a Number of Sewers to be Laid.

City Engineer Reed, After a Careful Estimate, Thinks the Total Will Run to $300,000.

Despite the close times and undue shyness of the big round dollars public improvements in Duluth will not be an unknown quantity this season. Some time ago the prospects seemed pretty slim for anything in that line but the wheels of affairs have slowly and steadily turned until there is considerable already decided upon and more not unlikely to be determined upon later.

One first class improvement will be the paving and grading of Fourteenth avenue east from South to Fourth streets. Cedar blocks will be laid on a substantial concrete foundation. West Fourth street from Piedmont avenue west to Twenty-eighth avenue west will be macadamized and a sanitary sewer put in. Work will begin in about ten days.

The contract has already been let for grading and graveling Twenty-eighth avenue west from the Saint Paul & Duluth Railway tracks. Aside from the grading and graveling, a storm sewer will also be constructed. The grading and graveling of Sixth street from Twelfth avenue east to Fourteenth avenue west has been settled upon and will be carried forward as soon as the profiles are finished. This improvement alone, will cost in the neighborhood of $125,000. Then the same improvement will be made on Twelfth avenue east from Fourth to Sixth streets, and on Roslyn avenue from Princeton over to Carlisle avenue. Up on Duluth Heights, Palmetto street in fifth division and Orange street in sixth division will be graded ere the summer passes by. Thirteenth street from Highland avenue westward to Willard & Ipper's division will also be improved in the same manner.

On Fifth avenue west paving will be done immediately for the St. Paul & Duluth railway tracks to Superior street and from the south end of the present improvement to the dock line. All that has been outlined will necessitate an aggregate outlay of not less than $250,000. Then with the addition of sewers and smaller jobs that will be imperative from time to time, City Engineer Reed, after a careful estimate, says that the improvements for the season will not be less than $300,000.

COMMENCED ANEW.

The Minnesota Canal Company's Commemorative Proceedings Began Over Again.

The Minnesota Canal company made another move in its game today. Notice and stipulation were filed in Clerk Sinclair's office dismissing the condemnation proceedings begun just before the late election, which proved so disastrous to the hope for county aid. At the same time papers were filed commencing the same proceedings anew. July 15 is set for the hearing in district court. The land affected is all that part of section 16-50-17 which lies north of the St. Louis river. The petition is verified by the affidavits of Henry Curtis Spaulding, president, and Frank F. Davis, secretary, of the canal company.

A decree was filed this morning granting John Erik Kjelman an absolute divorce from Britta Sena Kjelman on the ground of adultery.

Another New Building.
The plans for the new building which will be erected at the corner of First avenue west and Superior street on the site of the frame ones now being torn down, are in the hands of the architects for figures. It will be three stories on Superior street and four on Michigan, 50x15 feet in size and will be built of brick and stone. Mrs. Gammell is to build it.

Will Soon Be Married.
George Maxwell who was a resident of Duluth a few years ago and was employed on the Tribune and later removed to Mexico will soon be married to an heiress, a daughter of one of the big magnates of the Mexican Central railway. He went to Mexico to engage in silver mining and has been there ever since.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

In the Ingalls vs. Hartley Case the Jury Reported a Disagreement.

The case of Edmond Ingalls et al. against G. C. Hartley was given to the jury at 5:30 o'clock last evening. They wrestled with the problem all night and this morning announced that they could not agree. The last ballot, it is understood, was just the same as the first taken.

This morning the jury in Owen Fargusson against D. K. Pearson returned a verdict for plaintiff for $335.16, under instructions from Judge Lewis. The following cases have been continued: Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company against David T. Adams, Security Land and Exploration company, respondent; Huntington W. Merchant against Patrick McDonald.

In George H. Foster and George A. Foster against Frankie A. Breeze, before Judge Engstrom, there was no appearance on behalf of plaintiffs yesterday morning and on motion of defendant the case was dismissed. In the afternoon plaintiffs' attorneys appeared and by consent the order of dismissal was set aside, a jury waived and the case heard by the court. Judgment was rendered for defendant. The case of Adolph H. Schuler against the Pabst Brewing company et al. is on trial. Plaintiff asks $25,000 damages for injuries sustained by being thrown from a beer wagon last Fourth of July. John Jensen, Jr., appears for plaintiff and Cash, Williams & Chester for defendants.

AGAIN CONVICTED OF LIBEL.

Rector Ahlwardt Must Serve Three Months More in Prison.

BERLIN, June 27.—Rector Ahlwardt, the notorious Jew baiter of the reichstag who was re-elected in two consecutive elections and who has chosen to sit for the Arnswalde district, the constituency he represented in the last reichstag, has again been convicted of libeling Prussian officials and sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

He is now in the Plötzensee prison serving out the sentence imposed on him for libeling Herr Von Lowow, Hebrew gunmaker and German officials. The trial of Herr Ahlwardt on the charge of which he has just been convicted began in Berlin, June 9.

The libel was uttered in a speech made by Ahlwardt at Essen, October, 1901, and consisted of statements to the effect that German and more particularly Prussian official life was corrupted by Jewish influences. As to the highest officials, he declared that the corruptions were in most cases the result of the relations between them and the Hebrew brite givers.

The best previous record was that of Tom Rice, who finished the 1000 miles last Thursday in 11 days and 5 hours. Wylie looked in good condition. His best day was 140 miles. He broke the record between New York and Philadelphia in 11 days and 5 hours. He also rode faster across the state of Ohio than had any other man before him.

THE SILVER SIDE

Congressman Bland Does Not Consider India's Move a Knockout For Silver in This Country.

Believes It Part of a Conspiracy to Build Congress Into Accepting the Single Gold Standard.

Chicago Bankers Think the Only Method of Relief is Immediate Repeal of the Sherman Law.

Mexicans Say It is a Great Opportunity to Force Bimetallism on the European Countries.

St. Louis, June 28.—In an interview today Congressman Richard P. Bland, of Lebanon, gave as his opinion that the suspension of free silver coinage in India would have a serious effect on the financial policy of this government and more especially the silver advocates. He said: "Heroic measures will be required on the part of this government for the re-monetization of silver. The demonetization of silver is meant by its authors to have an effect upon our legislators in favor of the gold standard. There may be some timid persons who will be influenced thereby."

"Most emphatically I do not think it is a knock-out for silver in this country. On the contrary, I think that if congress does not adopt some measure looking to a bi-metallic standard, it will make the battle of standards the coming issue in this country. This battle will disrupt political parties and cause a contest between the commercial centers and the agricultural districts of the country. The demonetization of silver is a conspiracy between the banking institutions of England and the eastern portions of the United States, and the suspension of silver coinage in India is part of this conspiracy to bulldoze the congress of the United States into the adoption of the single gold standard. I do not believe that they will succeed."

CHICAGO BANKERS TALK.

The Only Method of Relief is Repeal of the Sherman Law.

CHICAGO, June 28.—That the action of the Indian government in suspending the coinage of silver will have a depressing influence in the United States is the general opinion in banking circles of Chicago. Many consider that the only method of relief lies in the immediate repeal of the Sherman law. "The suspension of silver is a conspiracy to force the United States into the adoption of the single gold standard," said one of the leading financiers. "The demonetization of silver is a conspiracy between the banking institutions of England and the eastern portions of the United States, and the suspension of silver coinage in India is part of this conspiracy to bulldoze the congress of the United States into the adoption of the single gold standard. FRANCE AT WAR

A French Gunboat Has Made Preparations to Fire Upon the Capital of the Siamese Kingdom.

Siam, Though Anxious to Maintain Friendship With the French, Determined to Resist Any Aggression.

The Country Has Strong Defenses and a Population of Six Millions to Draw Upon.

The Government Ready at a Moment's Notice to Complete the Blockade of Meinam River.

LONDON, June 28.—A dispatch to the Times from Bangkok, capital of Siam, says that the French gunboat Lutin has anchored in the river opposite the center of Bangkok and has made preparations to fire upon the city. The topmasts of the gunboat have been struck and guns have been mounted in the fighting tops. The French admiral in his flagship is expected to arrive in Siamese waters from Saigon.

Siam, the dispatch adds, though most anxious to maintain friendship with the French, is quietly determined to resist aggression and is preparing herself for any contingency that may arise. The defenses of the country will prove stronger than expected. Three ships have been sunk at the entrance of the Meinam river, on which Bangkok is situated about twenty miles from its mouth. This reduced the channel to the narrow limits possible for use, and the government is ready at a moment's notice to complete the blockade to the ingress and egress of vessels.

Siam has a standing army of 12,000 men and a population of about 6,000,000 to draw from in the event of war. The army is to some extent officered by Europeans. The government possesses ten fully equipped war vessels. Ports with heavy guns are at the mouth of the river into which vessels drawing thirteen feet of water cannot enter.

The population of Bangkok is about 500,000, about half of whom are Chinese. The city presents a beautiful appearance from the river, the numerous temples adding to its picturesque aspect. The floating houses which are built on rafts. There are a few houses in the city built of brick and stone, but the greater part of the buildings are of wood. Catholic, Baptist and Presbyterian missionary schools are located in the capital.

The troubles between France and Siam, which are of long standing, appear from the Times dispatch to have reached a most acute phase. The troubles had their origin in a boundary dispute, and considerable fighting between the French and Siam has been done along the Annam frontier.

THE BERING SEA CASE.

It May Not Be Settled Quite to the Liking of Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 28.—C. H. Macintosh, M. P., lieutenant governor of the Northwest territory and intimate friend of Sir John Thompson, the Canadian premier, who is one of the British Bering sea arbitrators, has returned from Paris. He says that while the United States is considered weak there, the question may not be settled quite to the liking of Canada. This is taken to mean that the Canadians in the case in Paris have an intimation that Great Britain is preparing, even if she wins, to enter into arrangements with the United States that will restrict the seal fishing and bar out the British Columbia sealers to a considerable extent, if not completely.

SHOT HIMSELF IN THE HEAD.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., June 28.—Frank Applegate, of this city, committed suicide in the Amboy house early this morning. When found a revolver was clamped in his right hand and there was a bullet hole in his temple. He had been drinking heavily of late and it is believed that he became despondent. He leaves a widow and three children.

A TRUSTEE APPOINTED.

SIoux CITY, Ia., June 28.—James Doughty has been appointed trustee for the purpose of discharging the liabilities of creditors and stockholders of the Union Trust company. The company's liabilities are not large and are mainly secured. The stockholders will incur little loss. The confounding of this concern with the Union Loan and Trust company, which failed so sensationally some time ago, is the principal cause of the failure.

A SMALL FAILURE.

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., June 28.—The firm of H. G. Renner & Co., hardware dealers of Grant Park, have failed. The liabilities are upwards of $31,000 and the assets, so far as ascertained, about $27,000. St. Louis houses are the principal creditors.

THE BRAZILIAN REBELS.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Herald's Valparaiso special says: The Rio Grande do Sul revolutionists have seized all the horses in the vicinity of Santa Anna. Gen. Sarayoi with a force of 500 revolutionists is besieging San Luis.

ONLY ONE WAS SAVED.

A Woman and Four Children Fatally Burned at Saginaw.

SAGINAW, Mich., June 28.—A fire, insignificant in its financial loss, wiped out an entire family, with a single exception, here last night. Catherine Neumann and four children occupied a small two-story frame building at No. 127 North Jefferson avenue, within a stone throw of the business part of the city.

Mrs. Neumann was fatally burned and three of her children smothered by the smoke and flames. The victims are Tilda Neumann, aged 20 years; Lena Neumann, aged 15; Frank Neumann, aged 12. Mrs. Catherine Neumann was taken to St. Mary's hospital; she is terribly burned about the head and face and will die.

The only person in the building saved was Alma Neumann, aged 17, who was taken out, having sustained only slight injuries. The financial loss will not exceed $500 and is partly covered by insurance.

VICTIM OF THE GUARDS.

Another Blunder by the Guards at the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, June 28.—More than 500 arrests, of which less than two score were deemed serious enough to give formal hearing, is the record of the Columbian guards. Dr. Emil Hasler, commissioner from Paraguay, is the latest victim of note of Capt. Rice's men. In consequence the exhibits from that country are covered and the council of administration will have a task trying to straighten matters out.

Dr. Hasler was arrested by a Columbian guard on a trivial charge and the doctor says he will keep the exhibit from Paraguay closed until the insult offered to that country has been satisfactorily explained.

LEGAL TALENT IN FARGO.

FARGO, N. D., June 28.—Fargo has some big legal talent in her midst from Duluth and St. Paul. They are here in connection with the famous Northern Pacific elevator attachments, in which the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Bank of Toronto and John Henry Harrison are the plaintiffs and the Northern Pacific Elevator company the defendant. The action is brought on promissory notes to the amount of $200,000, on which attachment was made three weeks ago. The defendants have a motion before Judge McConnell to dissolve the attachments. Newman, Spalding & Phelps, of Fargo, and Billson & Congdon, of Duluth, appear for the plaintiffs; Benton & Amiel, of Fargo, and Davis, Kellogg & Severance, of St. Paul, appear for the defendants. Senator Cushman K. Davis is here himself, and has personal charge of the motion. Three expert bookkeepers and a cart load of account books will figure in the case.

WILL PAY IN ADVANCE.

NEW YORK, June 28.—President Depew has arranged that the interest and dividends due to the stockholders and bond holders of the Vanderbilt system on July 1 shall be paid today. "We believe if money is worth 25 per cent we might as well let our people have it at once," said Mr. Depew. The total amount to be paid in advance is $2,700,000, including the semi-annual interest on $500,000,000 7 per cent New York Central bonds, the guaranteed interest on the Beech Creek line, the guaranteed interest on the $500,000,000 of West Shore 4 per cent and dividends on the New York & Harlem.

ST. PAUL, June 28.—In the United States district court yesterday before Judge Nelson there came on to be heard the order to show cause to a number of the commission firms of Duluth and Chicago why they should not turn over to M. J. Forbes, the receiver of the Northern Pacific Elevator company, certain wheat and wheat receipts given them by the company and which they refuse to pay over at the present time. Judge Nelson said the matter must be continued to Monday morning, when it would be heard by Judge Williams in the circuit court.

A HAYLEN STATESMAN DEAD.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Times prints the following from Kingston, Jamaica: Edmond Paul, a distinguished Haylen statesman, died here of progressive anemia Sunday last. He was educated in Paris and was a pupil of Michael Chevelier, the noted French writer on political economy. Following his master Edmond Paul devoted himself to the study of political economy and was known as a writer outside the bounds of his native land.

WILL PAY IN FULL.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 28.—The suspension of the St. Paul & Minneapolis Trust company is announced. A card from the president says that its assets exceed its liabilities by $200,000, and that it will pay in full. The general belief is that it will do so and resume business. Its president is ex-Governor McGill and its vice president is Congressman Loren Fletcher. The capital stock is $500,000.

Pietro Will Hang.

READING, Pa., June 28.—In court yesterday counsel for Pietro Bucciari, the Italian murderer, to be hanged tomorrow, asked for an injunction to prevent the sheriff from hanging him and questioning the right of Governor Pattison to issue a death warrant, but the matter was overruled and the hanging will take place.

SHOT BY THE GUARDS.

FOLSOM, Cal., June 28.—George Sonntag, the train robber, whose brother is badly wounded at Fresno, and who is himself in Folsom prison for life, headed a desperate break of convicts yesterday morning, which resulted in his own dangerous wounding, the death of three convicts and the wounding of three others.

FARMERS ARE THE LOSERS.

LONG PRAIRIE, June 28.—Though no definite statement has been made, the liabilities of the defunct Tont County Bank, which closed its doors Saturday, are placed at $65,000 and the assets $55,000. Farmers are the greatest losers as they had about $55,000 on deposit. Business men lose but little.

THE HOME RULE BILL

Mr. Gladstone Determined to Put an End to the Obstruction to the Home Rule Bill.

He Will Introduce a Resolution Under Which Passage of the Bill Will be Expedited.

The Announcement Has Given Cause For Joy Among the Irish Members and the Radicals.

LONDON, June 28.—Mr. Gladstone made an announcement in the house of commons today, which caused much joy among the Irish members and those of the Radical party who believe that the time has come for throwing out many of the amendments to the home rule bill offered by the opposition for the purpose of delaying the passage of the measure. Mr. Gladstone stated that tomorrow he would move the adoption of a resolution calling upon the house to expedite the passage of the bill.

This announcement was greeted by cheers from the supporters of the government. Mr. Gladstone added that the terms of the resolution were nearly prepared and he hoped to communicate it to the house before today's session closed.

In reply to a question asked by the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, Mr. Gladstone said that the resolution he proposed to move would be on the same principle as the resolution offered in 1887, though it would contain some important modifications. Mr. Gladstone was again cheered upon making this announcement.

The Ford Theater Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The grand jury investigation into the cause of the catastrophe at the old Ford's theater is nearing conclusion. Meanwhile, the building stands unused and empty, with watchmen to guard it and keep out the curious. The war department does not know what to do with the old structure, having no particular use for it, and will let its future be decided by congress.

A Problem to Solve.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—United States Commissioner Edmunds yesterday afternoon decided that Lee Kee, a Chinese laborer, is undesirable within the United States and directed that he be removed to China at the cost of his government. Of the 1500 Chinamen in Philadelphia, only one is undesirable. His disposition will be made of the remaining 1499 is not known.

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the nervous system is the seat of life and mind. It is the seat of the soul, the seat of the intellect, the seat of the emotions, the seat of the passions, the seat of the will, the seat of the power, the seat of the glory, the seat of the life, the seat of the death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nervous system. The brain, the seat of the mind, is the seat of the life, the seat of the death. The nervous system is the seat of the life, the seat of the death. The nervous system is the seat of the life, the seat of the death.

SENATOR DOLPH'S VIEWS.

He Feels That the Sherman Law's Repeal Will be Disastrous.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Senator Dolph, of Oregon, who is the only Pacific slope senator in the city, said yesterday: "I am opposed to my colleague, as you know, on the subject of free coinage and am in favor of maintaining the currency on a par with gold, but it seems to me this action of the Indian government will diminish instead of increase the prospect of passing a repeal of the Sherman law by the senate."

"I think the effect will be to make thoughtful members of congress hesitate before they further depreciate the value of silver by suddenly throwing upon the markets of the world the 4,500,000 ounces of silver—equivalent to nearly the whole American product, now purchased and stored by the government. I do not know that anything better than the repeal of the Sherman act can be done to relieve the situation, but I am fearful that the repeal of that act would be disastrous to the finances of the government and to silver."

The senator further desired to correct a published statement that he had said in substance that Mr. Cleveland would not be able to command the presence of congresses at the special session, and that for himself he should not come to Washington prior to September 30. He might have said that congress should not be convened earlier than September 20, or that he did not expect to be in Washington until the 20th, but he had said nothing indicating any opposition to Mr. Cleveland, or that he would not be on hand whenever congress was called.

No senator, he said, was more constant in attendance on the senate than he was, and he would probably be a better supporter of Mr. Cleveland's financial measures than the majority of the Democratic senators.

WILL AGAIN BEGIN LIFE.

Fielden Returns From Prison With His Views Modified.

CHICAGO, June 28.—At least one of the pardoned anarchists, Samuel Fielden, has no resentment against anyone connected with his trial and imprisonment. He will let the dead past bury its dead and begin life all over again. "I have never hurt anybody yet and do not intend to begin now," he said. "I do not like to be hurt myself and though I have been very badly hurt myself I do not feel like subjecting those who are to blame to the same treatment. No changes have occurred in my family during my imprisonment to mar the happiness of our reunion, except that my children have grown older. I would rather have a 2-year-old than a 4-year-old."

"No, I have no plans laid out for the future. My wife is very anxious that we should return to England, but I think that it is wholly impracticable. Still I cannot say anything positive about it. I will have to consult my friends and think over the whole matter before I decide anything."

In appearance Fielden is strong and healthy and looks younger than his 46 years. He talks fluently, although in a subdued manner and his doctrine have been considerably modified. "I still hold the same ideas of right and wrong," he said, "but as to the carrying out of the principles my views have changed some. The utility of some of our plans has appeared to me, and I have become more conservative."

Gen. M. M. Trumbull expressed his delight with the conduct of the governor and especially with the reasons given for as they showed that it was not an act of clemency but one of strict right and justice.

CHARGE AGAINST RAILWAYS.

It is Alleged They Discriminate Against Chicago Merchants.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Seventeen big Chicago firms made a formal protest yesterday before the meeting of the railway and warehouse commissioners that they were being unjustly discriminated against by the railroads, to such an extent that merchants in Indiana, Michigan and Ohio were able to compete with lower prices in goods shipped to Illinois points because of lower freight rates than those accorded local merchants from Chicago to Illinois points.

The roads accused of discriminating are the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Illinois Central, the Wabash, the Alton, the Chicago & Northwestern, the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, and the Rock Island. As the charge affects every railroad in Illinois the defendants, under the interstate rules, are allowed twenty days in which to perfect answers. The chairman, Carroll, announced that the matter would come to trial September 7.

An Inhuman Captain.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Both the schooners ashore on the Jersey coast are full of water. The bodies of the two drowned seamen have not yet been recovered. The steamer which passed the schooner Haven while she was flying signals of distress and was inhuman enough to ignore them proves to have been the Berks, Capt. Peterson, of Philadelphia, and bound east, coal laden.

MADRID WAS EXCITED

Receipt by the Police of a Hint That Another Anarchist Conspiracy Was on Foot.

It Was Stated They Intended to Blow up the Chamber of Deputies With Dynamite.

The Building and Vaults Searched For Hidden Bombs or Infernal Machines, But None Found.

MADRID, June 28.—Considerable excitement prevailed in official circles yesterday caused by the receipt by the police of a hint from an anonymous source that the anarchists intended to blow up the chamber of deputies with dynamite in revenge for the arrests made in connection with the explosion that occurred a few days ago at the residence of ex-Prime Minister Canovas Del Castillo.

All the rooms in the building and the vaults beneath it were most carefully searched by the police for hidden bombs or infernal machines, but nothing of a dangerous nature was found. It is not known whether the anonymous communication was simply intended for a hoax or whether the writer had actual knowledge of the existence of a plot to blow up the chamber of deputies. At any rate, a close watch is kept upon the building and all strangers are carefully scrutinized before they are permitted to enter.

A NEW READING DEAL.

The Speyer Loan of Three Million Dollars to Be Paid.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—The negotiations which have been carried on for several days between the management of the Reading railroad, the Finance company of Pennsylvania and the New York banking house of Speyer & Co., are nearing a satisfactory conclusion, and it is now virtually settled that the Speyer loan of $3,000,000 to the Reading will be carried out at maturity in such manner as to preclude the possibility of a sale of the collateral securities of the loan.

The matter was considered at length by the receivers yesterday and while the deal is not finally decided upon it is known that only a few unimportant details remain to be adjusted. The precise nature of the settlement which it is thought will be effected has not yet been disclosed, but the report that the Reading's note for $3,000,000 with the accompanying collateral will be taken off the Speyer's hands by the Finance company is authoritatively denied.

No Discrimination.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 28.—Complaint having been made that the Canadian government is continuing its discrimination against United States vessels in the use of the Dominion canals, the minister of railways says the statement is absolutely false and challenges the production of evidence of a case where the same rule regarding tolls has not been applied to both American and Canadian vessels alike.

Norman Perkins' Head.

The case of Norman Perkins, the railway mail service inspector for this district, whose head was suddenly removed by Postmaster General Bissell for offensive partisanship, is attracting more than usual attention because it is said that P. H. Kelly, of St. Paul, has gone to Washington to endeavor to secure Perkins' reinstatement or an opportunity to reply to the charges made against him. Although Perkins is a pronounced Republican and devoted more time to politics than to the mail service last November, he appears to have the friendship of P. H. Kelly and upon this is building hopes of having his official head restored.

Mr. Perkins, however, will hope in vain. Pat Kelly may have had great influence with the first Cleveland administration, when his "O. K." was regarded as a certificate of appointment, but there has been a change since then and "O. K. P. H. K." has lost its potency. Michael Doran is the sole Democratic boss of Minnesota now, and his old political brokerage partner has lost his pull at the White House. While Michael remained loyal and true to the fortunes of Grover previous to the Chicago convention, Pat was consorting with strange gods and was quoted several times in support of other candidates than Grover.

There is a story that during Mr. Cleveland's first term in the presidency, Mr. Kelly decided him in regard to the record of a certain candidate for an appointment in Minnesota, and when Grover found out how he was deceived he lost confidence in Mr. Kelly and has never regarded him with favor since that time. Therefore, Mr. Kelly's efforts on behalf of Perkins are hardly likely to meet with any success.

Then it must be remembered that Perkins' removal was ordered by Postmaster General Bissell after he had fully considered the case. Anything that may be said in his defense now will hardly alter the decision. In the same connection there appears in the St. Paul Dispatch a brief, but very significant interview with Mr. Doran, which reads as follows:

"Is Norman gone?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, he's gone."

"Did not Mr. Kelly go down to Washington to save him?"

"Yes, but he can't save him."

"What did he want to save him for?"

"I don't know; perhaps he wanted to make bacon or hog belly of him."

"Who will succeed him?"

"I don't know."

"McDermott?"

"I don't know; probably Mr. Kelly will appoint some one while he is down there."

"He can't save Perkins?"

"No, he can't."

Evidently Mr. Kelly is wasting his time at Washington and Mr. Perkins may as well accept the inevitable gracefully and stop kicking.

The Weather Service.

The weather bureau has been receiving a great amount of criticism and censure recently from various newspapers that appear to be entirely misinformed regarding the subject. Statements have been published that the weather bureau is inefficient and has been steadily retrograding since its transfer from the war department to the control of the agricultural department. These assertions appear to have originated from the investigation which recently took place into certain matters connected with the management of the bureau at Washington, but they are utterly unfounded so far as they relate to the efficiency of the service given throughout the country.

The business men and vessel men at Duluth have an especial interest in the weather service, and they are unanimous in declaring that the service at this station has never been better than it is at present. What is true of Duluth is true of every weather station along the chain of the great lakes. The masters of vessels doing business on Lake Superior have found the weather service of great help to them and they have been gratified at its steady improvement. Most of these adverse criticisms are made by papers in inland towns that can never appreciate the benefits of the weather bureau to the same extent as do the lake cities. It is but justice to the bureau that it should be given credit for the excellent results that are attending its operations.

One of the most striking successes in modern journalism is the Chicago Dispatch, started several months ago by the veteran newspaper man, Joseph R. Dunlop, formerly of the Chicago Times. The Dispatch is an independent afternoon daily and has departed from the old run of newspapering into which the other Chicago papers have fallen. The result is that it is printing almost daily exclusive stories of life in Chicago and the surrounding country, and it has already attained a circulation and an advertising patronage that place it in the front rank of Chicago's evening papers. The Dispatch is bright and sparkling and an example of what clever newspaper men can produce.

The Republican papers who are declaring that President Cleveland cannot rely upon the Democratic majority in congress to repeal the Sherman silver purchase law, and on that account are endeavoring to make political capital, should remember that every senator who voted for the Sherman law was a Republican and every senator who voted against it was a Democrat, while in the house it received a solid Republican vote.

John Quincy Adams Ward, the sculptor, who has almost completed his statue of Roscoe Conkling, says he has never before been so enthusiastic over any of his work. His idea for the statue was gained while Conkling was speaking during the Garfield-Hancock campaign. In the middle of a sentence, while he was speaking most eloquently, Conkling stopped, took a step toward the audience and raising his hand, said in a low voice: "The die is cast. Garfield will be elected."

A reporter for the Fairbury, Kas., Gazette scrupulously kept tab one week, and according to the actual count was asked, "Is it hot enough for you?" just 713 times. He is now trying to discover why people will go right on torturing suffering humanity with this question when the answer is inevitably the same. He should be patient. Some day the fool killer will deal with these people.

Queen Victoria has issued a statement that she is deeply touched by the Victoria disaster. Another dispatch says she has given $100 to the families of the men who were lost, which shows how deeply she is "touched." Yet she is worth millions.

Not one Minneapolis man put up a cent on Bondless that won the American derby. Next time Bondless is in a race they will be tumbling over each other to place their money on him, and then he will probably lose.

The people are still waiting for the railroads to sell tickets to Chicago and return at a single fare for the round trip. Thousands of people will not go to the World's fair until such rates are made.

In Georgia recently a stroke of lightning killed two persons and left unharmed a hook agent who was sitting between them. It is supposed to have hit him on the cheek and glanced off.

According to the last census, there are 3,000,000 men in this country who have never been married, but who have reached the age of 30 years. This promises to become a serious question.

Again The Herald would remind its readers that communications unaccompanied by the names of their authors will not be published.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

John E. Fuller, a Real Estate Man, Ended His Own Life This Afternoon With a Bullet.

Body Was Found Lying in a Boat on Rice's Point—Shot Himself in the Ear.

He Was in Good Circumstances and No Cause Can be Given For the Deed.

John E. Fuller ended his life sometime between 12 and 1 o'clock today by firing a shot through his head. About 11 o'clock the deceased entered the saloon of Francis Taylor at the corner of Pine and Garfield avenues. He talked with the boys, smoked, whistled and seemed in the usual spirits. About 12 o'clock he stepped out and started down the avenue. At Miss Wright's candy store he made a purchase of some tobacco and then continued his coast southward.

Fuller was next seen by Mrs. Alex. Winquist, who lives near the back of 1000 Garfield avenue. By the shore was anchored a sailboat belonging to Taylor. Almost in less time than it takes to tell it, Fuller stepped into the bow of the boat, drew from his pocket a revolver, raised it to his head, fired and fell to the bottom of the craft. Mrs. Winquist at once aroused her husband who was sleeping in the house. He gave the alarm and police headquarters were at once notified.

Chief Horgan and Coroner Eklund at once repaired to the scene and ordered the boat taken with the deceased further up the bay front, not far from the Imperial mill. There the remains were taken up by the undertaker's wagon and borne to the morgue. Fuller has lived in Duluth for some years and has been in the real estate business. He made his headquarters at the office of W. C. Sherwood & Co., received his mail there and called there daily. A Herald reporter went there to learn something of him and the men in the office were thunderstruck when told of his death, they not having heard of it before. Taylor was in during the morning and seemed to be all right. He has complained lately of being out of sorts, troubled with loss of sleep and restlessness, but has appeared to be perfectly rational. He is in good circumstances and owns some property. His father lives in Clinton, Mass., and is a wealthy man. He has a number of papers and a pocket-book in W. C. Sherwood's safe.

THE DISTRICT COURT.
Big Damage Suit Against the Pabst Brewing Company on Trial.

In room No. 2, before Judge Ensign, the trial of the case of Adolph H. Schlegel against the Pabst Brewing company et al, was continued today. Plaintiff was thrown from a wagon belonging to the brewing company, for which he worked, and lost an eye and a piece of an ear. He asks $25,000 as compensation. In all ten witnesses were examined and some of them were on the stand several hours. At noon the attorneys began the arguments and the case will probably go to the jury between 3 and 4 o'clock. Judge Lewis and a jury are listening to the case of Otto Mattson and five others against D. K. Curtis et al. The six plaintiffs contend to clear up the townsite of Biwabik and claim they were not paid for their labor. On the other hand, defendants allege that the work was not done according to contract.

In the following cases a jury has been waived: Arvo T. Crosley, assignee of Andrew Jackson, against Iron Exchange bank of Duluth; W. J. Holmes et al, against the Lakeside Railway company.

THE COURT FILINGS.

RANG IN A BLUFF.

How a Preacher Got a Loan From a Reluctant Banker.

In Duluth for some weeks past there has been a gentleman who wears the clerical title of "doctor" and who some years ago was pastor of a Duluth church. A few days ago this reverend gentleman, so the story goes, went into a Duluth bank, braced up to the cashier and said: "I have a note soon due that must be fixed up. I wish to borrow $1000." "Very sorry," said the bank officer, "but we cannot accommodate you."

"What's the matter?" asked the reverend gentleman, "hasn't your bank got it?"

"Yes, we've got it, but we're not making any loans now. During this money stringency we don't dare do it. Banks are failing and we feel that we must keep on the safe side. We don't dare let out any of our cash—in fact are calling in our loans as fast as possible."

"Well," said the "doctor," with a cool nerve, that showed he had wasted many years preaching the gospel when he might have been piling up treasures on earth; "if that's the shape you are in and that's the way times are, I don't know but it's my duty to speak to some of my old parishioners who are heavy depositors there and warn them so that they can draw out their money and be on the safe side also. Yes, sir, I don't know but it's my duty to do that very thing."

The banker gasped, grew thoughtful, saw visions of heavy withdrawals, probably a run and possibly serious consequences to his business. A reluctant look came across his features and a clerk was called forward to receive an order.

When that preacher passed out of the bank door his inside pocket held $1000 not there when he went in.

THE ACTION IN INDIA

Free Coinage of Silver Refused But the Mints Used for Coinage of Government Silver.

One of the Reasons for the Change Was That It Will Increase the Revenue.

Another Probable Motive of the Indian Authorities Was to Check the Over-production of Silver.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Col. Trencham, president of the American Surety company, who on a recent visit to India, made a special study of the currency of that country, has the following to say about the recent action of the government of India: "News about the closing of the mints of India is to the effect that the mints will no longer coin rupees for private account. That means, if I am not mistaken, that the Indian government is going to do something like our government—refuse the free coinage of silver, but use the mints for the coinage of government silver.

"There is, however, this difference between our action and that which is supposed about to be taken in India and that is that the action of this government was under the direction of the law which prescribed periodic purchases while the Indian government buys silver and has it coined they may buy where they like when they like and will probably be able to buy very cheaply. I think it likely the Indian government was influenced to take this step by several considerations:

"1. As a revenue measure.

"2. As a measure favorable to the improvement of the market in India for English manufactures.

"3. As a means of checking the over-production of silver which has been going on now for a number of years and is really the cause of all the trouble.

"The finances of the government of India have been for a long time very much embarrassed. The 30,000,000 people in India have no other standard of value in their minds than that which is represented by the silver rupee; consequently, during the fifteen years of the declining prices in the value of silver the masses in India have been going on giving the same amount of rupees for the same amount of property for the rupee that they have been accustomed to give to that coin during long antecedent periods.

"In closing the mints to private individuals, the government tacitly reserves to itself the monopoly of the use of the mints for coining silver bullion and silver coins and it is very likely that in that way the revenues from the mints will hereafter form a very large and much needed addition to the resources of the Indian government for now they can buy for the gold value of one rupee nearly enough silver bullion to coin into two rupees and out of these two rupees will be paid out through the government expenditures in India each, or a full rupee's value in the time, labor and products of the people of India, the government will make 100 per cent profit on every rupee that it coins.

"The second reason assigned for the action of the government is to improve the market in India for English manufactures. As long as the price of silver was constantly declining in England and the estimated value of the rupee in India remained fixed in the minds of the people there was a very considerable profit in exporting silver bullion from England to India and one of the effects of this was to greatly stimulate the exports of the products of India to Great Britain.

"The effect of this was felt in the United States through the medium of the English markets for wheat and cotton, because, as the wheat and cotton of this country which were sold in England came into competition there with the wheat and cotton that came from India, the larger the Indian supplies and the more cheaply they were obtained the more restricted was the demand for products and lower prices were paid for the increased exports of Indian products to England were not as great as the increased shipments of silver to India and therefore the anxious of English manufacturers shipped to India was diminished first, because a large part of such exports were displaced by the increased exports of silver; and secondly, because the rising rates of sterling exchange in India made English goods too dear for the impoverished people of India to buy in as large quantities as they had previously been accustomed to.

"No doubt the government of India in deciding to close the mints had in view the probable effect of thereby increasing the volume of English products exported to India, which might be used on favorable occasions to cheapen English goods in India, and so to increase their consumption.

"The third motive which may have operated on the government of India was to check the over-production of silver. It has been abundantly proved that the decline in the value of silver which began about 1873 was caused primarily by cheaper process of production leading to increased volume of production. When the disturbance of the normal relation between demand and supply had begun to show lower prices for silver bullion the silver using nations of the world began to limit their coinage of that metal and a few years afterward nearly all the European mints were closed to the free coinage of silver. This, of course, aggravated the decline because to increased supply was now added diminished demand.

"We tried to counteract this latter effect by creating in this country a silver coinage, first, under the act of 1878, commonly known as the Bland law, and when that failed, by the increasing purchase under the Sherman act of 1890. It is now practically demonstrated that this latter measure has not only failed to accomplish the purpose for which it was designed, but has produced calamities all over this country, and the closing of the mints of India now comes as a result of the effect of the Sherman act which operated to keep silver mining going on in the face of conditions which should long ago have diminished the output of that metal if natural laws had not been interfered with by our statutes.

"This may be said with absolute certainty: our present troubles cannot end until the Sherman law is repealed; after that is done it may be necessary to do more."

WILL CONTINUE THE FIGHT.

Congressman Bland Says He Will Strive for Free Silver Coinage.

St. Louis, June 29.—In a letter to a morning paper Richard P. Bland defines his position in regard to the silver question. He says:

"The Sherman bill met with my determined opposition when it was before congress. It did not receive a single Democratic vote in either house of congress. I do not now defend it per se. I sought to repeal the Sherman law at the first session of the last congress by a bill substituting a free coinage law. I propose to continue the fighting on that line. The repeal of the Sherman law is not to my mind the issue now presented. The issue made by the gold party is: Shall we totally demonetize silver by the repeal of the only law we have looking to the future use of silver as a money in this country? In other words, shall we return to the demonetizing policy of the Sherman act of 1873? Shall we ratify and condone this legislation?

"The law of 1873 every Democratic orator in this state has denounced as the monumental fraud of the nineteenth century. This present issue is prepared for us by the gold standard party. They boast that the Sherman law was enacted to prevent free coinage. I am opposed to assisting in the accomplishment of this purpose by repealing it and stopping at that point. The Democratic platform is not to repeal the Sherman law but only the repeal of the Sherman law by something more, to-wit: The free coinage of silver.

"The enormous demand now comes from the party on Wall street that we keep our pledges as to repealing the Sherman law, but break faith with the people on the free coinage promises. We are invited to give all it asks, but to leave Missouri the 'anxious seat.' We are coolly asked to repeal the Sherman law and put our people with a vague resolve that at some future convenient time we will attend to bimetallicism. This is the trap I do not intend to be caught in. The law that repeals the Sherman law must also embrace the principles of the old part of our platform; that is, the restoration of silver as the co-equal of gold in our monetary system. This must be done by legislative enactment, not mere empty resolve."

PEPPER IS PESSIMISTIC.

The Kansas Senator Predicts a General Financial Panic.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 29.—Senator Pepper of Kansas, was here yesterday. He said the repeal of the Sherman law would destroy both the old parties and a new political party would form with the People's party as its preliminary make-up, receiving recruits from the larger organizations which he said were now closing their ranks.

"What is to be the foundation of the new party?" was asked.

"Its fundamental principle will be the country rights of men. It will be based upon the right which people should have to manage their own affairs in their own way."

"What effect will the Indian silver movement have?"

"It will hasten the demonetization of gold. There will be the reduction of the price of property. After that will follow financial crashes over the country. It means a general panic. Out of this will come the strength in the People's party now."

NO ALARM IS CAUSED.

Cholera's Reappearance in Europe Not Considered Serious.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The reappearance of cholera in Europe does not cause any alarm among the treasury officials. Reports are daily received from United States consuls and other agents abroad and they concur that the climatic conditions that have so far obtained in Europe are not conducive to the spread of cholera.

There have been sporadic cases of cholera and some deaths from it, but the disease has not spread as it did last year and they express the opinion that it will not reach this country.

Assistant Secretary Curtis, of the treasury department who has been in the United States since his return from the Crimea war and in the China war. He was formerly a naval aide-de-camp to the queen. From 1885 to 1887 he was commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, and in 1890 was appointed commander-in-chief of the channel squadron.

THE HASSLER INSULT

The Paraguayan Exhibits at the World's Fair Remain Covered While the Trouble is Uncertified.

Seventeen Foreign Commissioners Filed a Protest With Director General Davis But Nothing Yet Done.

They Resent the Outrages Perpetrated by Columbian Guards Who are Ignorant of Their Authority.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, June 29.—The Paraguayan exhibits remain closed and covered today while the officials are endeavoring to shirk responsibility for the insult to Commissioner Hassler or have else deliberately ignored the protest. The decision recently reached by the council of administration and confirmed by the local directors that the director general shall be the chief executive officer of the fair from whom all orders shall emanate and to whom subordinate officers shall report does not appear to have wrought any change or improvement in the system of governing the Columbian guard.

The director general has been waiting for official reports from the commander of the guard and the chief of the foreign affairs department, but neither of those officers have shown any disposition to act in the matter. Seventeen of the foreign commissioners representing Austria, Belgium, Germany, Guatemala, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Liberia, the Netherlands, Norway, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Venezuela, joined with Commissioner Hassler in a formal protest to the director general June 23. The document was received by Col. Davis the following day, yet it was denied at his office yesterday that any letter of protest had been received.

The letter says in part:

"We must see in this incident not only an evidence that Columbian guards to whom all the care for safety within the World's fair grounds is entrusted do not know all the limits of their duties and rights, but it involves for us also a violation of the international courtesy and rights which give to foreign commissioners sent here by their governments and duly accredited to the directors of an enterprise, protection by the United States government control within their sections and buildings and full immunity against local police of the exposition."

"This incident regarding our colleague, Dr. Hassler, is only one—though one of the most important—among several expositions happening where guards, gatekeepers and other servants of the exposition have violated the rule universally adopted and governing all international affairs, especially exhibitions and congresses."

The incident regarding Dr. Hassler we think a proper reason to protest before you as the chief executive officer of the exhibition against that unlawful, impolite and unjustifiable treatment of an official representative of a foreign government and trust you will be of the kindness to advocate before the proper authorities a proper satisfaction and to order that instructions be given preventing such disagreeable happenings and protecting the international right and claims generally granted to commissioners sent by foreign governments to the exposition."

Representative protests from all parts of the country gathered at the fair grounds this morning. During the afternoon an elaborate program was carried out and a number of interesting papers were read.

A MURDER AT WINONA.

The Assassin Was Captured After a Hot Chase.

WINONA, Minn., June 29.—In a row yesterday afternoon over an inmate of a bawling, P. Rich was fatally shot. The woman in the case is Edna O'Connell, whose account Edward Goddard said three weeks ago.

Rich picked a row with his assassin, Frank Murphy and his partner. Murphy pulled a gun and shot him. The bullet penetrated the man's body and entered the spinal column, paralyzing his lower extremities. Murphy and his companion then intimidated a police officer and made their escape. Murphy was trailed and located by Municipal Judge Allen and police Captain Howard in a slough opposite the city, and at 8 o'clock, last evening a posse of hundreds of citizens armed with Winchester shot guns, revolvers, hatchets and clubs, scoured the swamps and drove the murderer out of the woods almost into the arms of Chief Diogart, who brought him to the city.

THE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

Director Powell's Plan of Operations for the Coming Year.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Professor J. W. Powell, the director of the geological survey, has submitted to Secretary Smith a proposed detailed plan of operations for the fiscal year of 1893-94. The appropriations for the survey aggregate $141,100 and $35,000 for printing and binding its publications. For topographic work there will be employed twenty-two parties in the Eastern division and eighteen in the Western. For geologic work twenty-four parties will be maintained. For the greater part the work now in hand will be continued during the coming year.

Smoking Works Close.

St. Louis, June 29.—The St. Louis Smelting & Refining company, one of the largest in the country, has decided to shut down work owing to the silver trouble.

Duty on Mexican Dollars.

St. Louis, June 29.—A special from the City of Mexico says: The government contemplates placing an export duty on Mexican dollars in order to aid the silver market.

GERMAN OFFICIALS PIQUED.

They Feel That Postmaster General Bissell Snubbed Them.

CHICAGO, June 29.—The Record today publishes the following: Four high officials of the German empire are in the city. They are much chagrined and piqued at the cool reception they have met and in a few days will return to Europe with no friendly feeling for Postmaster General Bissell and his cohorts. In April Dr. Von Stephen, the director of the German imperial post, wrote to Postmaster General Bissell informing him that four representatives of the postal department of the empire would visit America to confer with the postal authorities of this country in regard to better mail service for packages and make an inquiry into the conduct of American postal affairs.

The representatives were Imperial Privy Councillor Fritsch, Imperial Privy Councillor Grahwinkel, Herr Kusch, supervising architect of the postal department, and Herr Knaul, superior postal director of Alsace-Lorraine. They arrived at New York June 14 and proceeded direct to Washington. They waited upon the postmaster general and told him the object of their visit. He received them very coolly, so they say, and regretted that for several weeks at least his time would be so occupied that he could not confer with the German representatives on needed postal reform.

After this introductory interview, the officials from the empire did not see anything of Mr. Bissell. They arrived in Chicago June 21 and set about to prepare a report on the postal exhibits at the fair. Herr Kusch, the architect, has inspected the postoffice building and the other officials the management of the office. MANY MINES SHUT DOWN.

Cleveland Men Take Steps Injurious to Northern Michigan.

CLEVELAND, O., June 29.—The situation in Northern Michigan ore mining is in a greatly depressed condition. Mine after mine is shut down, and W. G. Mather, president of the Cleveland Cliffs Mining company, all of whose shafts and mines will be closed down Friday night, says that the shipments of ores down the lakes will be curtailed nearly 50 per cent this season.

In the same range with the Iron Cliffs mine is the Champion, which has decided to pull up its pumps and allow the mines to fill with water. The stoppage of the pumps may be regarded as the final abandonment of the Champion mine, as it will require six months to a year to draw the water out of it when once filled. The Champion has made fortunes in its day, having been one of the largest and most profitable properties on the Upper Peninsula.

The Republic Iron company, of this city, has wired its superintendent to shut down the Republic mine for sixty days. It is known, however, that operations will not be resumed until such time as the state of the trade makes it advisable. These mines employ thousands of men and are practically the sole support of whole towns in the Upper Peninsula. Michigan, and a protracted cessation of work is bound to result in widespread suffering.

The body was found in Apple creek at daylight. A card on his person gave his name. The coroner is now holding an inquest.

BANKS WANT COMPENSATION.

Silver on Passage to Indian Banks Depreciated in Value.

SIMLA, June 29.—The Indian government is discussing the claim of the various banks which have £1,500,000 in silver now on passage to India and which want compensation for the depreciation in the value of the metal arising from the action of the government in stopping the free coinage of silver. It is said that the government is inclined to secure the banks against loss.

A DEFENDER FOR ALTGELD.

Ex-Congressman Bussey Supports the Pardon of the Anarchists.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—"If Governor Altgeld has made an error in pardoning the anarchists it was on the side of mercy and the people forgive that kind of error very quickly," said ex-Congressman Bussey, of Illinois. "In fact, I do not think his action in letting these men out of prison will affect his great popularity in the least. He has the confidence and regard of the masses of the Illinois people and his administration has given the highest satisfaction even to the Republicans."

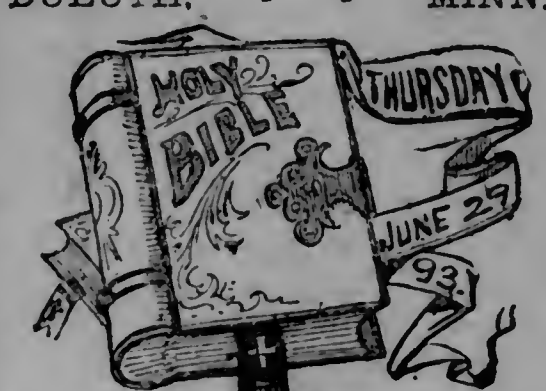

"Governor Altgeld is a sincere man and I do not believe him capable of the demagogue rule. In his work on the penal code he shows how utterly we have failed to keep up to the standard of civilization in the betterment of convicts. He holds that there is a place for vindictive punishment but thought that reformation should be the end sought for those who are not chronic offenders against the law."

Harvard Necrology.

BOSTON, June 29.—The Harvard college necrology list of the college year 1892-93 contains 148 names, of which 131 died within the year 1892-93, as against 128 for the year 1891-92. Rev. William Withington, who died in August at the age of 93 years and 10 months, was the oldest living graduate of the college, being just a year older than Dr. William Russell, class of 1826, the next in order of age. Rev. Dr. Wm. Furness, 1820, who was born April 20, 1802, is the only surviving member of the class and is still senior alumnus.

HAD NO OPPOSITION

Dr. Andrew Commings, an Anti-Paranellite, Elected to Parliament From the Southeast Division of Cork.

William Abraham Will Succeed Michael Davitt as the Representative From the Northeast Division of Cork.

If Davitt Gets a First Class Certificate by the Bankruptcy Court, Abraham Will Resign.

DUBLIN, June 29.—The contest for the seat in the house of commons for the southeast division of Cork county remained vacant by the retirement from parliament of John Morogh, anti-Paranellite, who withdrew from political life because of the recent discussion over the Freeman's Journal, promised to be interesting.

There had been a split among the anti-Paranellites in the district and two candidates of the same party affiliations were nominated. One of these was Dr. Andrew Commings, who unsuccessfully contested the south division of Roscommon county at the general election last July, while the other was Dr. Magner, who is comparatively unknown in Irish political circles.

The election in the district took place yesterday, but a measurement of the strength of the two factions of the anti-Paranellites was avoided by the withdrawal of Dr. Magner from the contest. This rendered balloting unnecessary as Dr. Commings was the only candidate in the field and the sheriff, after the customary formalities, declared him elected.

Even had there been opposition the district would have been safe for one of the anti-Paranellite candidates as the vote at the last election showed a majority of 247 votes in favor of Mr. Morogh. His Paranellite opponent received only 602 votes.

The election in the parliamentary division of Northeast Cork to fill the vacancy in the house of commons caused by the withdrawal from the house of Michael Davitt, anti-Paranellite, was held yesterday. The anti-Paranellites nominated William Abraham and he was elected without opposition. It is thought that should Mr. Davitt be granted a first class certificate by the bankruptcy court, his involuntary having caused his retirement from parliament, Mr. Abraham will retire from the seat to which he has just been elected and Mr. Davitt will offer himself for re-election.

FUNDS ARE LIMITED.

The Deprivation of Chinese Will Be Restricted.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Inquiry at the treasury department discloses the fact that about $15,000 remains for the enforcement of the several Chinese acts. On July 1 the new appropriation of $50,000 becomes available, so that the aggregate fund available for the carrying out of the Chinese exclusion act, including the Geary law on July 1, will be $65,000.

As announced by Secretary Carlisle the policy of the administration will be, in view of the lack of funds, to rid the country of all Chinese who are not engaged lawfully in violation of previously existing laws, before endeavoring to send out Chinese who came in lawfully but are now under the ban of the Geary law, because they failed to comply with its requirements of registration.

A Terrible Dead. DALLAS, Tex., June 29.—Mrs. Julia Collins, of Oak Cliff, administered poison to herself and three little children yesterday. The physicians say they cannot save the children, but that Mrs. Collins will die. Poverty and a dissipated husband drove Mrs. Collins to the desperate deed.

Salaries Increased.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Among the postmasters in the territories are increased for the next fiscal year: Cloquet, from $1400 to $1600; Ely, $1100 to $1300; Two Harbors, $1000 to $1100; West Duluth, $1700 to $1800.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical forces of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so much influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As it will be seen by the cut the long nerve extending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain is overworked by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened. Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this department of the human organism, and instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., of N. Y., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the result of his discoveries concerning the human organism, is the "Nerve Restorative" medicine, the electrical brain and nerve tonic, which is a powerful agent to all nervous and many other difficult ailments to be cured by the use of this medicine. It is a wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land. Restorative Nerve cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opium, and is a powerful tonic. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Nerve Restorative Co., 111 N. 3rd St., St. Paul, Minn. IN FAVOR OF JAMISON

An Important Ruling of the Supreme Court in Regard to State Mineral Land Leases.

Applications That Have Been Filed Prior to Selection are Declared of no Legal Effect.

Duluth Belt Line Railway Held to be Subject Only to the Gross Earnings Tax.

Five decisions were handed down by Justice Dickinson, of the supreme court, yesterday, two of which are of special importance. The first is the case of J. H. Baker et al., appellants, vs. Robert Jamison, respondent. This is the suit which stirred up so much excitement in official circles nearly two years ago, when it was charged openly that certain state officials had been in collusion with Jamison to secure state mineral lands.

Jamison won the suit in the lower court and is again victorious in the supreme court, but in the language of the street there is a string to this victory, inasmuch as the way is left open for the plaintiffs to bring another charge, charging collusion between him and some of the state officers. The plaintiffs had charged this against the state auditor. In the first action, but had not mentioned it in their complaint, hence it was not considered.

Baker had filed his application while Capt. Braden was auditor, and the land commissioner had filed them away, pending the time when the land which then belonged to the United States should be turned over to the state. No money was accepted by the state treasurer on the leases, although it was tendered. On the afternoon of April 24, 1891, notice was received that the lands had been ceded to the state and on the same afternoon Jamison filed his applications and obtained leases on the lands.

The next morning the Baker party called and attempted to secure leases. Mr. Biermann was then auditor and had a new land commissioner, who acknowledged the applications but the lands were awarded to Jamison just the same. Then followed the suit and the syllabus of the decision explains itself. It is held that in a case of this kind two applicants should have bid for the land and it should have gone to the highest bidder. Following is the syllabus:

The state, by merely selecting lands of the United States to supply deficiencies of school lands arising from pre-emption, does not acquire a title to such lands. Not, at least, until such selection is approved by secretary of the interior, and perhaps not until the lands are certified to the state does the latter acquire title. Chapter 22, laws 1889, authorizing leases of mineral lands by the state, is applicable only to lands "belonging to the state." It is not applicable to lands which have been merely selected by the state. Hence application for leases filed with the state land commissioner prior to the approval of the selection, are premature and of no legal effect, even though recognized as valid by the commissioner.

But if, after the state acquires such lands, the applicant directs the attention of the commissioner to the premature application on file, and the officer there recognizes it as a valid application, it then becomes such. Priority of application gives no superior right as between several applicants. But an authorized preference by the land commissioner of one or two applicants in the granting of a lease, without affording opportunity for competitive bidding by them, does not justify an adjudication charging the applicant to whom the lease is granted as a trustee of the same for the disappointed applicant.

Nor can such lease be set aside at the suit of the disappointed applicant, the state not being a party to the action. If the commissioner should be guilty of official misconduct by being a party in the favored application, so as to avoid the application, a lease granted thereon might be adjudged to be held in trust for the other applicant.

Complaint considered as not showing that the commissioner was interested in the application filed by the defendant. Affirmed.

Railroad Tax. Another important case was the following, in which it is decided that a railroad carrying freight and passengers is subject only to the gross earnings tax, notwithstanding the fact that it is only three miles in length, and two miles of that is cable road up a steep ascent.

State of Minnesota et al., Duluth Belt Line Railway Company, relator, vs. District Court, Eleventh Judicial district, Country of St. Louis, respondent.

Syllabus: A railroad company, organized for and doing the business of an ordinary railroad, transporting passengers and freight, held subject to taxation only in accordance with chapter 2, general laws of 1887—that is the rule of percentage on its gross earnings—although the road is only three miles in extent, the cars being operated by a steam locomotion over two miles of the road, and by cable up a steep ascent of one mile. Judgment reversed.

Other Cases. Annie E. Schofield, appellant, vs. Jennie E. Quinn, respondent. Judgment reversed.

Albert Dallemand et al., co-partners as Dallemand & Co., respondents, vs. Peter P. Swenson, appellant. Order and judgment reversed.

Frank A. Day, appellant, vs. U. H. Colyer, respondent. Order affirmed.

St. Clement's School. The closing exercises of St. Clement's school were held last evening in Normanna hall. A number of musical and literary selections were given and an opera, "Jolly Farmers," was presented. Bishop McGillicuddy addressed the teachers and scholars, congratulating them on the work of the year and giving some advice. He referred to the prophecy of Professor Sims of the uprising of Catholics as ridiculous and laughed at the idea of Satelli being here to cause war.

MUNGER-SILVEY WEDDING.

Two Young People Joined for Life in the Presence of Hundreds of Friends.

The wedding of Alice Gray Munger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger S. Munger and William Baird Silvey, at the Pilgrim Congregational, was one of unusual social prominence. The large church was filled with friends of the contracting parties, not a few of whom were from abroad. The church was handsomely decorated and most tastefully. Smiles, daisies and potted plants there were in profusion. The organ was covered with smiles, gracefully arranged and with excellent effect.

Mrs. John Loman presided at the organ and as the party entered the wedding march pealed forth. White ribbons were drawn along the pews on the aisles down which the party proceeded, by four little girls, Angela Magoffin, Barbara Ruple, Alice Gray and Olive Woodbridge. The maids of honor, Miss Maren Miller, of Duluth, and Miss Mamie Young, of Brunswick, Me., entered the church and passed down opposite aisles, followed each by two bridesmaids and three ushers. Upon reaching the altar they arranged themselves on each side of the clergyman. The groom, his best man, E. C. Jones, arrived at the altar at the same time. The bride entered at the westerly door with her father. The wedding ceremony was performed by Dr. Salter assisted by Rev. E. M. Noyes and was quickly performed.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with lace and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaids wore gowns of white silk, mulle over satin with short veils. The bridesmaids were: Misses Maren Miller, Fannie Upham, Gertrude Markell, of Duluth; Mamie Young, of Brunswick, Me.; Isabel Silvey, of Washington, and Kate Gilman, of Chicago. The ushers were: A. L. Thurman, W. C. Farrington, J. F. Merriam, Walter Turle, C. J. Kershaw and W. G. Crosby.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party was driven to the home of bride's parents, 405 Piedmont avenue where a reception was held. The rooms were profusely decorated with flowers. An orchestra discoursed sweet music and the entire affair was most delightful in every sense. Mr. and Mrs. Silvey left on the night train and will go to Chicago.

Among those from outside who were present were, Mrs. John C. Bullett, Mrs. Robert A. Smith, Miss Western and R. C. Munger, of St. Paul and Mrs. Gibson, of New York.

A Chance For Health. Is afforded those fast sinking into a condition of hopeless debility. The means are at hand. In the form of a genial medicinal cordial, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters embodies the combined qualities of a blood fertilizer and depurative, a tonic and an alterative. While it promotes digestion and assimilation, and stimulates appetite, has the further effect of purifying the life current and strengthening the nervous system. As the blood grows richer and purer by its use, they who resort to this sterling medicinal agent, acquire not only vigor, but bodily substance. A healthful change in the secretions is effected by it and that sure and rapid physical decay, which a chronic obstruction of the functions of the system produces, is arrested. The prime causes of disease being removed, health is speedily renovated and vigor restored.

Dr. Speer & Co.'s method for curing piles has effected wonderful results.

What Are Necessities?

"The learned is happy nature to explore,
The fool is happy that he knows no more."—POPE.

"I've got everything I 'need.' I just had my breakfast."

"My idea of 'necessity' is to have plenty to eat and a change of clothes."

"When I went to school I learned readin', ritten and rethmetic, and that's all I 'need.'"

"My 'pinion is that edgercation is no good only for preachers an' lawyers."

"People like me don't want no edgercation; we're all right, anyhow. I guess they's only a few of us left, fer nowadays laborin' people and all think they will be more successful and happier if they learn a little every day."

"They say that ignorant people won't stand eny show at all in soci'ty in a few years from now."

"I wonder if that will be the case?"

In one of the ablest speeches ever delivered by the "Grand Old Man" he showed conclusively that education is not a luxury, but a prime necessity to the laboring man of today.

He said: "You want amusement, but that does not exclude improvement. Do you suppose when you see men engaged in study that they dislike it? No. There is labor, no doubt, but it is so associated with interest all along that it is forgotten in the delight which it carries in its performance, and no people know that better than the working classes."

If you let your children follow out their own impulses they will ask questions, and if you provide the means of answering you will encourage them and cause delight and pleasure in research. Soon they will have a natural habit of learning a little each day, and learning will then be a recreation to them. So that all they require is an Encyclopedia in the home to secure the most practical education.

Gladstone says further that it is now possible to go straight into the very heart, the very sanctuary of the temple of learning, and become acquainted with the best works that men have produced.

"It is not supposed that workingmen, on coming home from labor, are to study Euclid and works of that character—and it is not to be desired, except in case of very special gifts—but what is to be desired is that some effort should be made by men of all classes, and perhaps by none more than by the laboring class, to lift ourselves above the level of what is purely frivolous, and to endeavor to find our amusement in making ourselves acquainted with things of real interest and beauty."

All the recorded wisdom of all great writers, past and present, is contained in the Encyclopedia Britannica; so that every shade of taste can find its liking, whether it be such subjects as Euclid or the commonest topics of everyday life—whether to learn how to measure the distance to Mars, or how to tie a square knot in a rope.

What a blessing that in this one library the laboring man can command the wisdom of the world!

In his speech on the occasion of the distribution of the prizes at the Nonconformist School at Mill Hill he compared the advantages of today with the advantages of the ancients: "All they have achieved is before you. Their great experiences are at your service and command."

"You have this enormous advantage under the peculiar condition of this age."

Again he says: "Believe me when I tell you that the thrift of time will repay you in after life with an usury of profit beyond your most sanguine dreams, and that the waste of it will make you dwindle alike in intellectual and moral nature beneath your darkest reckonings. Get knowledge, all you can."

Extravagant luxury for one may be an absolute necessity for another. It depends on what you aim at.

What would an ape care about opportunities to improve his mind?

The word MAN means TO THINK, which is the opposite from BEAST. That we cannot classify No. 2, as he does not look like a BEAST and does not think like a MAN.

We must call him the "missing link." If you are man you think. If you think you are constantly coming in contact with questions. If you supply yourself with the correct answers to these questions you become a success in life, and you honor yourself and your family. This is true, no matter what your calling.

If you answer your questions you must do it right when the question comes up, so it will be a pleasure, and you cannot forget it. This is true education. If you answer your questions when they come up and answer them correctly you must have the best Encyclopedia in print right in your home.

The world is agreed that the Encyclopedia Britannica is the best in print.

The MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE edition of this great "NECESSITY" is brought down to date and supplied on terms which could not be expected from people in the book business; but we sustain the enormous expense and perform the vast amount of labor necessary to give these terms to our friends simply to broaden and deepen the interest in education and to extend our acquaintance among the children of today who are to be the men and women of the future.

FOR SOUND CURRENCY

Secretary Herbert, of Alabama, Discusses the Silver Situation and the Policy of the Democrats.

Stoppage of Silver Coinage in India is the Greatest Blow to Free Coinage of Silver.

Overthrows the Argument That the Silver Currency Was a Benefit to the Farmers of India.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Secretary H. A. Herbert, of Alabama, secretary of the navy, in reply to an inquiry as to the silver situation and the policy of the Democratic party, expressed the following views: "I think the stoppage of the coinage of silver in India is the greatest blow that has been given to the Sherman law and to the free coinage of silver. The free coinage of silver in India has been pointed to as an object lesson by the advocates of free coinage in this country.

"It has been urged upon the farmers that India had an advantage over the United States in a higher price for wheat because the currency in India was all silver, ignoring the fact that, while they might get more for their wheat in their own currency, the price in gold was no greater and the commodities they bought with the money they got for their wheat had to be paid for on a gold basis and still overlooking the loss through high exchange.

"It has further been repeatedly said that the high rate of exchange between India and England was kept up by England for the benefit of England. It is a system for the benefit of England."

"Do you think the silver question presents a serious danger to the Democratic party at this time?"

"It is a serious question which the conditions demand should be settled. I think we have reached a crisis, and that the party in power will be judged by the wisdom they show in giving the nation a sound currency.

The secretary further said he believed the Populist party was losing ground and that the teachings of those engaged in it would have an influence in shaping the future policy of the Democratic party. He said: "Those who advanced the untenable doctrine of the Populists on the money question have formed themselves into a party, and are no longer advocates of their theories in the Democratic councils, and as a third party they are not strong enough to be dangerous. That party organization which determines the nominations of Democrats to congress and takes part in the making of presidential candidates and presidents will adhere to sound Democratic principles and stand by a sound financial policy."

CREDIT DOLLAR SUSTAINS IT.
The Silver Dollar Worth Only Fifty-Cents as Bullion.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Secretary Carlisle received today numerous callers among whom were many members of congress. With all of these the silver question formed the principal topic of consideration and the continued decline of the price of silver was naturally adverted to.

The secretary had received a cablegram stating that the price of silver was today in London 68 1/2 cents per ounce, at which rate the silver dollar as bullion was worth 53 cents. Nevertheless the point was of course apparent that the purchasing power of the silver dollar with silver bullion at 68 1/2 cents per ounce was as great today as it was when silver was worth $1.22 per ounce and the bullion value of the silver dollar was 93 cents.

It should be equally obvious that this is so because it is known that the credit of the United States is behind its silver money, as it is behind all of its other forms of money and without which none of them except gold coin and gold certificates would be worth their par value in the money markets of the world.

This fact was several times emphasized at the last session of congress when ex-Secretary Sherman and others repeatedly declared during the senate debates that there was in the treasury the bullion gold value of every silver certificate issued by the government.

THE METROPOLIS OF AMERICA.

A Claim That Chicago Has More People Than New York.

CHICAGO, June 29.—The Evening Post claims that Chicago is the metropolis of America and says: "Within the legal limits of the city there lives at this moment a permanent resident population of nearly 2,000,000 souls. Chicago's population is about 400,000 larger than New York."

"The city's growth during the past two years has been extraordinary. It has been the most wonderful in all her history. At a single leap she places herself at the head of the line of American cities and has entered into swift competition with London and Paris for still higher honors. The government census taken in June and July, 1890, gave to Chicago a population of 1,100,000 in round numbers. Two years later (in 1892) the school census gave the population as 1,438,000.

"There is no school census this year, but the city directory, which will be issued about the middle of July, will contain approximately 1,800,000 names. On a basis of 4 to 1 this would give Chicago a population of 2,160,000. That figure is probably not far out of the way. If 4 to 1 is a correct basis of calculation in New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Detroit and other large cities (and it is accepted by the leading statisticians of all those cities without question) there is no good reason why it should not be applied here. "Chicago is already in the lead in commercial and industrial importance. It is the greatest city in population. From these points of vantage it is only a step to financial supremacy. From the very nature of Chicago's material development during the last ten years, and more particularly during the last five, it is clear that the increase in population has been largely in the influx of new families. The increase has been of a character to bring the ratio of population nearer 4 to 1 than it ever has before and to establish the fact that there is a substantial basis for the 2,000,000 claim."

DISAPPOINTING TO REALISTS.

President Cleveland's Reply to Mr. Thurston Received in Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The steamer Australia arrived yesterday from Honolulu bringing the following advice: President Cleveland's reply to Mr. Thurston was received yesterday, June 20, and is very disappointing to the realists. The annexationists regard it as implying a serious doubt as to the general propriety of annexing so remote a country as Hawaii and one of such heterogeneous population.

President Cleveland's language seems to imply a doubt as to whether the majority of the people of Hawaii are in favor of annexation. They are confident that the scheme of this sort will in time disappear. On the whole, they are much gratified by Mr. Cleveland's expressions.

There is strong evidence for the belief that by the mail of June 14, Minister Blount was advised by Secretary Gresham that he was in error in protesting. That party organization which determines the nominations of Democrats to congress and takes part in the making of presidential candidates and presidents will adhere to sound Democratic principles and stand by a sound financial policy."

ANOTHER BATCH OF CONSULS.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The president today made the following appointments: Elliot N. Bowman, of Indiana, to fourth auditor of the treasury; George B. Anderson, of the district of Columbia, to be secretary of the legation at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Savara, of North Dakota, at Dundee, Scotland; Eugene Gernann, of California, at Zurich, Switzerland; James H. Madden, of Illinois, at Smyrna, Turkey; Frederick V. Kirkbusch, of Wisconsin, at Stettin, Germany; George C. Matthews, Jr., of Florida, at Para, Brazil; Otto H. Boyesen, of North Dakota, at Christiania, Sweden; Louis S. Delapine, Jr., of West Virginia, at Demerara, Guiana; J. Courtney Hixsey, of Alabama, at Ningbo, China; E. F. Crane, of Pennsylvania, at Hanover, Germany; Henry C. Smith, of Alabama, at Santos, Brazil.

A Murderer Hanged.
READING, Pa., June 29.—Pietro Luciani was hanged here this morning. The drop fell at 11:36. He was dead at 11:14. Pietro Luciani was 37 years old and came to America thirteen years ago. On June 23, when Sister Hilda Berna handed him some milk, he jumped out of bed, pursued her with an open knife and plunged the knife into her abdomen. "She died the next day. HISTORY OF A SCRAP

The Story of the Crosby-Humphreys Fracas as Told in Court in the Damage Case.

Mr. Humphreys Denies That He Resembles John L. Sullivan—Crosby Said to Look Like Corbett.

The Testimony Proves to be Very Interesting for the Spectators and Somewhat Amusing.

The suit for damages by George H. Crosby against Albert E. Humphreys came on for trial in district court this morning before Judge Lewis and afforded lots of amusement for court, counsel and spectators. The suit grows out of a personal encounter between the parties which occurred March 18 in Humphreys' office and in which Crosby apparently came out second best.

The parties were interested jointly in three state mining leases which lapsed early in March. Humphreys proposed, according to Crosby's story, that instead of paying the $100 fee for renewal, that new leases at $25 each be taken out by W. F. Gore, Humphreys' secretary. Crosby then tendered Humphreys a certified check for $75.00 and demanded a half interest in the leases. Humphreys denied that he had anything to do with the matter, asserting that the leases belonged to Gore. One morning Crosby called upon Humphreys and demanded an explanation. Hot words were followed by blows. Humphreys was out of town for several days, having gone to Virginia to confer with Southern business associates. On his return he was arrested and in municipal court pleaded guilty to assault and paid $25 fine and costs. Crosby then began the suit now on trial asking $5000 damages.

Mr. Crosby Testifies.
Mr. Crosby was the first witness called and he related the story substantially as given above. He claimed that Humphreys was the aggressor and after knocking him down jumped on him and kicked him. Dr. A. S. Chase was called to testify to the condition in which he found Crosby after the assault. He found six bruises, which he described. Three were on his body. One was just over his liver and "might possibly have been dangerous." There were other bruises on the hip.

Mr. Humphreys Physical Condition.
A. E. Humphreys was then called for cross-examination for the plaintiff. He testified that at the time of the assault he weighed 215 pounds. Questions were put concerning the defendant's mining and real estate interests to determine his wealth and ability to pay damages, but these were ruled out by the court.

Having shown Mr. Humphreys' weight and general physical condition, Mr. Crosby was recalled to get before the jury the handicap under which the latter labored in a pugilistic encounter. Crosby said he weighed only 155 pounds last March. On cross-examination he admitted that he probably looked like Corbett, as he had often been told so, but indignantly denied that he possessed anything like the champion's skill and force as a fighter.

A. H. Craswell, assistant city attorney, testified that after Humphreys paid his fine in the municipal court he advised that he had kicked Crosby and said he would do so again under like circumstances; that if he had not that privilege he would take his wife and family and get out of town. S. V. Gilbert, who saw Crosby shortly after the affair, testified as to the bruises.

The Defendant's Story.

This closed the plaintiff's case and after a short recess the defendant opened at 11:30 o'clock. Mr. Humphreys testified that he deals in pine and iron lands and stocks. Relative to the affair on March 18 he said:

"I came down town early and sat in my office before breakfast working hard to get my business in shape to go south that evening. It was about 8 o'clock or earlier. I heard some one step into the room and looked up. It was Mr. Crosby. He came in and we said good morning, everything was pleasant. I asked him to sit down, and before sitting down he said: 'Humphreys, what do you mean by returning my check?' I said: 'I haven't anything to do with that check; I have no interest in this affair.' He went on with the statement that we were taking the leases in partnership and it was something new to me. I wanted him to be reasonable. I would rather buy the leases—they only cost $75—than have a row. I told him to go to O. Gore. He said: 'I want to see you; I came for those leases.'"

"One word brought another. He was sitting in a chair, so he could not lean back nor put his feet on my desk. He said: 'I am going to have a half interest in those leases and it don't make any difference what you say. You have been skinning people in this town for a year, and you are not going to rob me.' Thereupon, on the spur of the moment, I started to slap him with both hands. He dodged and I only hit him with one. Then I tried to turn him over to kick him. I guess I kicked one of his legs to try to get him over. I hit and kicked him five or six times and then my secretary came in and pulled me off. And that was all there was of the racket. I afterwards pleaded guilty to assault."

Admits He Kicked Him.
"A man generally, where I came from at least, resents such abuse even more forcibly than I did," continued Mr. Humphreys. "On the spur of the moment I slapped him and finished it up with a few kicks I guess. I tried to turn him over to kick him in the back but he was a little too active for me and kept himself balanced well, so that I kicked him in the side. I had one little racket before in my life and succeeded in turning the man over so that I could kick him, but I could not get Mr. Crosby over."

"You are built something like John L. Sullivan, aren't you?" asked Mr. Baldwin on cross examination. No, sir," replied Mr. Humphreys with emphasis. "If you had been, I suppose you would have expected Crosby, who resembles Corbett, to have gotten away with you."

"No, I don't come of a fighting family."

"You said you had a racket of this kind before?"

"And you would again under the same circumstances?"

"I don't think there would be any doubt about it," Mr. Humphreys replied, as if he meant it.

John Olson, elevator boy in the Lyceum building, was the only other witness for the defendant. He knew both Humphreys and Crosby. The latter got into the elevator on the morning of March 18. When asked where he wanted to go Crosby replied, "To the floor where the 'arc' is."

He took him to the sixth floor," said Olson, and everybody howled from his honor down. Olson did not see the row.

Mr. Crosby was recalled and testified that he did not remember ever having had such a conversation with the elevator boy. This closes the testimony and court adjourned until 2 o'clock when the attorneys began their arguments to the jury.

After being out all night the jury in Adolph H. Schletz against the Pabst Brewing company came into court this morning and declared that there was no possibility of their agreeing on a verdict. Judge Engsig discharged them. In Conway C. Wyatt against French & Bassett a verdict was given plaintiff for possession of the roll top desk and office chair. As these articles were destroyed in the Virginia fire, Mr. Wyatt may now have to sue for their value.

In Judge Lewis' room, plaintiff secured judgment for $907.10 Otto Mattson et al. against D. R. Curtin.

IT MUST BE REPEALED

Ex-Senator Fair, One of the Largest Silver Mine Owners, Favors the Sherman Law's Repeal.

Thinks Congress Will Repeat It, Even if Silver Men Do Not Secure a Substitute.

James L. Flood Also Believes No Harm to Silver Interests Would Result From Its Repeal.

New York, June 30.—The World's San Francisco special says: "The Sherman silver purchase act will have been repealed without delay," said ex-United States Senator Fair, one of the largest silver mine owners in the country, yesterday. "The law has never been of real benefit to silver men."

"Will the silver mines shut down?" "That is the only thing left for them to do. They are all mining now, and the drain on the owners cannot be kept up much longer."

"How about the Comstock mines?" "These mines have been and are now producing 48 per cent of gold, so I don't think they will be closed, at least for the present."

Senator Fair thought congress undoubtedly would repeal the Sherman act, even if the silver advocates were unable to secure the adoption of a substitute.

James L. Flood, who has heavy interests in silver mines on the Pacific coast, said: "I cannot see what harm will result from the repeal of the Sherman act. In my opinion it would be better to accept the compromise of paying $2,000,000 monthly. This would bring values back to their original basis."

MABER WAS BESTED.

He Was Easily Punished by Dick Moore, of St. Paul.

St. Paul, June 30.—Dick Moore, of St. Paul, and "Shadow" Mabey, of Australia, fought last evening before the Phoenix Athletic Club for $500 a side. The contest was refereed by Henry Seelye, of Minneapolis.

Although much the lighter man Moore took the aggressive at the outset. In the fourth round, however, the Australian got an opening and drew first blood from the Minnesotan with a left hander on the nose. Moore warmed to his work and knocked the Kangaroo clean off his pins in the sixth.

Again in the eighth the St. Paul man made a feat with his left and caught his antagonist with his right, sending him sprawling to the floor. Only the call of time saved the "Shadow" in this round, and he came to the center very groggy in the next.

Both men fought cautiously for several rounds, but from the fifteenth to the twentieth round Moore did great execution with both his right and left. Mabey was not absolutely knocked out in the twentieth round, but Moore was awarded the match on points because the contest was not advertised to extend beyond twenty rounds.

The Copper Country, Michigan, News says that the representatives of American and European producers of copper with the exception of the agent of one small American group have agreed to renew the compact which expires today, restricting the output of that metal.

Excitement in Chile.—The Herald's Valparaiso, Chile, correspondent says: "There is much excitement throughout Chile among mine owners and dealers in silver on account of the fall in the price of silver. It is likely that all the silver mines will be closed down, except the celebrated Huanchaca mine."

More Gold Arrives.—The steamer Columbia, which arrived this morning from Southampton, brings $500,000 in gold coin consigned to Messrs. Harriss, Magonn & Co., of New York.

STRICKEN DEAD.

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads: "James C. H. H., a New York man, and apparently healthy man, was observed to stagger while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the ground. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body and pronounced heart disease the cause of death. A postmortem examination of the case is that Mr. H. was on his way to St. Louis, to attend to the business of his law firm, and had passed the previous day in the western mining country, and had amassed a fortune. If you have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonial you should lose no time in seeking relief."

From John L. Roberts, Birmingham, Ala.: "I have suffered with palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and smothering spells, from shoulders, ribs, and arms for over fifty years. For twelve years have been treated by the most prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant care. My own mind had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, but I was completely cured. Although seventy-five years old I feel twenty years younger. I claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

There is a letter from Mrs. John Kelley, of Cleveland, O.: "I had been troubled with my heart and stomach for years, but for sixteen months had been confined to my bed. I had four of the best doctors in the city, but none of them could benefit the weakness of my heart. I also had dropsy and rheumatism. I never took medicine that relieved me at once as Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure does. I am much stronger. My appetite is splendid. I gain strength with every dose. I have gained more in six weeks from your treatment than in sixteen months from all the doctors."

"Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists. It is safe, effective, and does not harm the system. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS."

GOVERNOR ALTGELD TALKS.

Says Abuse Will Not Knock Down His Arguments.

CHICAGO, June 30.—Governor Altgeld arrived in town yesterday. In reply to a reporter who asked him if he had anything to say about his pardon of the anarchists and criticism which has been made of the act since its announcement, the governor said:

"My reasons for pardoning the anarchists stand, and abuse of the governor will not knock them down. In the comments I have seen there is only abuse. There is no argument. They do not mention the fact that the man who was chief of police at the time was a man who has been investigated and that he does not believe that there was much in it. They do not mention the fact that the judges got up and said that they could not give the case a fair and impartial trial."

"They do not mention the fact that the man who threw the bomb was a man who brought into court and gave no evidence whatever at the trial; that it was not proved in the slightest measure that the man who threw the bomb had any connection with these men or was at all involved in the act by the conduct of these men, or that he had ever even heard them make speeches. In a word, they leave my reasons severely alone. Now, mere abuse cannot knock those reasons down. They are there, and they must stand or fall on their merits."

WORLD'S FAIR DIPLOMAS.

Artist Low's Design Has Been Accepted by Secretary Carlisle.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Secretary Carlisle has accepted the design prepared by the artist W. H. Low, of New York, for the diploma to be awarded by the World's fair authorities. The design is regarded as a most artistic production. It consists of two separate groups, one above the other, both surrounded by scroll work.

The lower view represents Columbus standing erect with his hand on the helm of a caravel facing westward, five young women typifying the nations of the earth being in the caravel, four seated and one erect, carrying in her hand a wreath which she is extending to America in the group above. America receives the wreath sitting under an arch.

Facing America is a group of three youths representing the Indian and Caucasian and negro races. Looking through the arch the World's fair buildings, towering on a hill, appear in the background. On either corner at the top of the scroll work is a reclining figure of a female, representative of progress.

TO RELIEVE THE STRINGENCY.

The Resumption of Hydraulic Mining Finds Favor in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—The resumption of hydraulic mining as a means of relieving the financial stringency in gold, as noted in the United Press dispatches a few days ago, has received the unqualified endorsement of Thomas Brown, cashier of the bank of California, and admittedly the best local authority on financial matters.

Mr. Brown says, when the work of the hydraulic mines was stopped twelve years ago, the mines produced $50,000,000 annually. The yield now might be lessened somewhat owing to restraining dams. He says one-third of the gold yield in the United States is produced in California, and adds that it is to be hoped that every encouragement possible will be given to hydraulic mining, so as to materially increase the gold production and benefit the inhabitants of this state and the nation.

Lottery Men Indicted.

CHICAGO, June 30.—The grand jury returned indictments against eight of the most prominent lottery men in the city. The indicted men are: George Roberts, James Neal, H. B. Martin, Jas. Dyle, J. Chrysler and one woman, Miss Maude Carriek. Immediately after the papers were drawn up they were placed in the hands of officers who were instructed to lose no time in arresting the persons named.

Charged With Embezzlement.—PITTSBURGH, June 30.—Information was made yesterday before Alderman McMaister at the instance of City Attorney Elphinstone of Allegheny, charging Robert McClure, ex-agent of the Law and Order Society, with the embezzlement of money belonging to the city of Allegheny. The case is the same as that on which McClure was acquitted Tuesday last on a technicality.

White Caps in Colorado.—DENVER, June 30.—Yesterday morning White Caps burned the dwelling and barn of Henry Queer, a well-to-do ranchman near Leroy, in the northern part of the state. It is not known why the deed was committed. They also killed two of his horses and gave him warning to leave the state within ten days. Several other families in the neighborhood are threatened.

The Bomb Thrower.—SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—According to the Call, Rudolph Schnaubelt who, it is believed in some quarters, threw the dynamite bomb at the Haymarket in Chicago, is living in this city. It is said that he devotes himself to the work of anarchist propaganda. Schnaubelt was arrested at the time of the riot but afterward released. He quickly disappeared. He has four brothers in this state.

The Monetary Conference.—BRUSSELS, June 30.—Replying to a question in the chamber of deputies, M. Bernart, the president of the council and minister of finance, stated that the time was ill chosen to discuss the probable effects of the Indian monetary question on the silver interests of the nations forming the Latin union. He added that the international monetary conference would probably be assembled in Brussels shortly.

All Will Use Them.—ST. LOUIS, June 30.—President Taft, of the St. Louis Terminal railway, is authority for the statement that the Keds and Merchants bridges will in the future be operated under one management. The new arrangement will thus allow all railroads access to the new Union depot. The deal is not a combine but is an agreement for joint operation.

New Examiner of Surveys.—WASHINGTON, June 30.—John Turley, of Tennessee, has been appointed examiner of surveys in the general land office.

MINES CLOSING DOWN.

Fully Ten Thousand Miners Have Been Thrown Out of Employment by Colorado Mines Closing.

Governor Waite Announces He is Ready to Call an Extra Session of the Legislature.

The Repeal of Attachment Laws and Suspension of Collections for One Year Are Advocated.

DENVER, June 30.—Governor Waite returned to the city last night and announced that he is ready to call an extra session of the legislature immediately to consider the repeal of all attachment laws, the passage of a stay law suspending for one or two years the collection of all debts, the passage of a special redemption law and the prohibition of gold clauses in all contracts.

The governor is an old man and he was intensely excited as he declared he would take action at once, if there was a public demand, and might act without waiting for a demand. The resolutions calling for an extra session which will come before the real estate exchange this morning will provoke a red hot discussion and there will be an immense attendance of business men.

Fully 5000 miners are thrown out of work by mines which closed down yesterday and there will be as many more today. The railroads have issued a general order to agents forbidding the receipt of ore shipments unless payment of freight is secured. Accurate information places the silver ore bulion in the hands of the Omaha & Grant smelter at 2,000,000 ounces. The drop of 20 cents means $400,000 to the concern.

If a special session is held, the right of a state to fix the ratio of gold to silver in its local currency will be advocated by some of the fiery spirits and seven state senators seen last night favor an extra session and a suspension of collections for one year. It is feared unemployed men will flock to Denver and robberies and hold-ups will be frequent.

KASSON, Minn., June 30.—Theodore Norski and wife, Julia, charged with the ruin of Anna Lehman, a 13-year-old girl, were captured by Sheriff Houston at Lincoln, Neb., and arraigned before Justice Remington. Their guilt was clearly established.

Fine Weather Has Enabled Street Contractors to Rush Their Work and They Are Doing It.

Street Improvements Are Not to Be Entirely Stopped But More Disinclination Will Be Used.

W. J. Holmes, the Bad Buyer, Thinks the Money Outlay Is Not Improving Very Rapidly.

The weather of late has been quite favorable for street improvements and the contractors have taken advantage of the opportunity to rush the work towards completion as speedily as possible. The repairing of North Central avenue was completed today by contractor Clyde and the street committee visited Eighth avenue west this morning to inspect the completion of that thoroughfare. One noticeable fact in connection with the street improvements this year is that a better class of work is being done than heretofore. This fortunate condition is due to the personal attention given the matter by the street committee and the strict adherence to the letter of the contracts required by the engineer. Whatever the failures the present council may have been accused of displaying in other matters the credit of good street improvements is generally conceded to be in its favor.

The improvement of streets is not to be stopped entirely although the council will hereafter use a little more discretion in the granting of petitions for improvement and confine such action to streets which are close to the business district or of advantage to a great number of people. The engineer is at work on plans and specifications for the improvement of Tacony street which will probably be adopted at the next meeting of the council. This avenue makes connection with Earl street, which is now being improved, and which when finished will give an outlet to the residents of Bay View Heights as well as those in Kimberly & Sykes's addition.

W. J. Holmes's Opinion.
W. J. Holmes has returned from New York where he has been for several weeks. His business relations at the financial center of the country have enabled him to feel the pulse of the money market and become acquainted with the extent and cause of the present stringency. He says that the outlook is not improving very fast and thinks that an early session of congress and the repeal of the Sherman act affords the only relief possible.

MAY REACH A MILLION

The Failure of Charles Foster and His Business Associates at Fostoria Reached Astounding Size.

It is Now Believed That the Total Liabilities Will Run Over a Million Dollars.

Every Person is Astonished by the Figures and None More so Than Foster Himself.

Tiffin, O., June 30.—The failure of Charles Foster at his business associates in the city of Fostoria, has assumed proportions which are astounding. J. B. Gornley, the assignee, filed a partial report with the probate court today from which the startling information is gleaned that the failure will in all probability approximate, if not exceed, $1,000,000. Gornley is the assignee of Charles Foster and John W. Davis individually, of Davis & Foster, and Foster & Company.

The assets of Davis are $164,500 and liabilities, $447,792; Foster & Co., assets $181,530, liabilities $213,055; Foster & Co.'s bank, assets $70,281, liabilities $26,089. The papers in the assignment of Mr. Foster individually have not been filed, but enough has been ascertained to show that the shortage is even greater than in the other firms.

These figures do not include the $300,000 for which Foster & Co. have endorsed for the three glass works, brass and iron works and Fostoria Electric Light & Power company, nor for his individual liability on his stock in these several enterprises. The figures are so vast that they are almost beyond comprehension. Foster's account in his bank is overdrawn $17,600, and that of John E. Wilkinson $17,000.

AN INJUNCTION DISSOLVED.

Mrs. Dunham Scores a Victory Over the Ex-Congressman.

CHICAGO, June 30.—In the circuit court this morning Judge Collins dissolved the injunction restraining Mrs. Dunham, wife of ex-Congressman Ransom W. Dunham from disposing of property valued at $30,000 and life insurance policies amounting to $28,000, which were placed in her name prior to the institution of proceedings now pending for divorce.

The court, however, refused to grant the petitioner's request for alimony, that part of the motion being overruled. The solicitors for the ex-congressman gave notice that an appeal would be taken on the court's ruling. This would not lie, Judge Collins said, as the appellant court had already held and decreed that there could be no appeal from the circuit court orders of this kind. The injunction which the court set aside was secured some time ago when Ransom W. Dunham filed a bill for divorce from his wife, Elizabeth R. Dunham. In the bill she was charged with being faithless to her marriage vows. She replied, setting forth accusations, if anything, of a graver character. Then she asked the court to lift the restraining order preventing her disposing of the property which Dunham had made over to her shortly after their marriage. She contended in court that the union was the result of promises to convey to her the property which the injunction covered.

A. J. DREXEL IS DEAD.

The Noted Philadelphia Died Rather Suddenly at Carlsbad.

PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—A private cablegram received at Drexel's banking house states that A. J. Drexel died today at Carlsbad, Germany. The cablegram bears the signature of D. H. The authenticity of the message, however, has not yet been learned by the firm who are anxiously awaiting a reply to their cablegram of inquiry.

Drexel & Co. at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon received a cablegram confirming A. J. Drexel's death. The message stated that he had a slight attack of pleurisy but recovered, and was then seized with apoplexy from which he died.

LIQUOR LEADS TO MURDER.

Mrs. Griffiths, While Intoxicated, Is Killed in a Most Horrible Manner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 30.—One of the most atrocious murders ever committed in this city occurred at an early hour Wednesday morning, but the details did not become known until last night and are too revolting to admit of extended mention. The victim was Mrs. Griffiths, wife of a reporter employed on one of the local papers, and her murderer was Martin O'Neil, foreman of the galvanizing department at the Union iron works.

The woman was found in a dying condition in a room opening out from a saloon on the harbor front and died while being removed to the hospital. It was known that O'Neil had been in the saloon with her, and he was accordingly arrested, though it was believed for some time that the woman had died from natural causes, as to marks of violence were found upon her until an autopsy was held.

When it was discovered that a wooden handle, attached to a bouquet of flowers, had been thrust into her body and bent and twisted until a great gash had been torn in the flesh and her internal organs mutilated in a most horrible manner. Parts of the bouquet were found embedded in her stomach. O'Neil is married and has a family. He and Mrs. Griffiths were drunk and O'Neil claims to remember nothing of the tragedy.

Mrs. Griffiths formerly lived in Philadelphia, but came here some years ago and has been living in Alameda street. She was a young woman of very attractive appearance. Recently she had become addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors, and had been in the habit of visiting the saloon in which she met her death.

SERIOUS TROUBLE FEARED.

Over Five Thousand Miners Now on Strike in Kansas.

PITTSBURG, Kas., June 30.—The strike here is assuming a rather exciting form. The representatives of the 5500 miners now on strike here had a meeting Wednesday night and yesterday made a demand on the 800 strip pit miners in this field to quit work. If the strike pits are shut down it will throw 1500 zinc smelter men out of employment.

Excitement was created here yesterday when about 1000 striking miners marched up the principal streets headed by a brass band, their intention being to stop the surface mining, but action was deferred until the return of President Walters, of the United Mineworkers, who is now in Missouri. It is feared that grave trouble is impending.

At the Keith and Perry coal mines at Weir City the company is firing in mines No. 6 and 8 and officers are serving notices on the men to vacate their houses at once. Agents are securing men to take the places of the strikers, and as the strikers are destitute and desperate serious trouble is feared.

HE STARTED FOR DULUTH.

An Employee of the Omaha Road at St. Paul is Missing.

ST. PAUL, June 30.—T. C. Tyrrell, an employee of the Omaha, is missing. At least, neither his wife, who is in a delicate condition, nor any of his business associates or friends, have seen him for over ten days past.

Tyrrell, who was yard clerk for the Omaha at East St. Paul, and is a man of about thirty, is said to have left the city not quite two weeks ago on a trip to Branford and Duluth, to cover not more than three or four days. He was almost immediately swallowed up, for even his wife, according to her statement, has heard no word from him.

He was connected with the Order of Foresters, being the municipal officer of one of the lodges, and his friends, who are now hunting him up, are at a loss to understand the mystery.

A FOUR MONTHS' SESSION.

The Columbian Commission Will Begin a Long Meeting Tomorrow.

CHICAGO, June 30.—The World's Columbian commission will begin a continuous session of four months tomorrow morning. The session will last until the night the fair closes, unless the governmental appropriation gives out before that time. In that case the meeting will be brought to a sudden termination. It is probable that this will be the last session, but one in which members of the national board will participate.

The commission does not legally expire until some time in 1893, and it is expected that congress will vote a small appropriation sometime between now and then to enable the members to get together and make a final report of the part they played in the World's fair.

This meeting will probably be held about the time the affairs of the exposition are wound up and when nothing but a memory of the great fair remains.

NOT THE LEAST FOUNDATION.

The Story About Discourtesy to German Postal Officials Denied.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The attention of Postmaster General Bissell was called to the statement that the representatives of the German postal department now in this country had met with a cool reception by him and that they would soon return to Germany with "no friendly feeling for him or his cohorts."

General Bissell declined to be interviewed on the subject. Capt. N. M. Brooks, the superintendent of foreign mails, to whom the dispatch was also shown said that there was not the least foundation of truth in the statement. The postmaster general had received the German representatives with great courtesy.

CLOTHING HOUSE ON FIRE.

A Dangerous Blaze Checked by the Chicago Firemen.

CHICAGO, June 30.—At 1 o'clock this morning a disastrous fire broke out in Willoughby, Hill & Co.'s clothing house at the southeast corner of Madison and Clark streets. The fire originated, it is thought, in the top floor and was discovered by the watchman of the building.

The fire looked very dangerous for a while but prompt work was done by the firemen and the loss, caused principally by smoke and water, will not exceed $50,000.

LIFE INSURANCE POLICY

Been Waiting For.

In the early days of Life Insurance it was thought necessary to encumber the policy contract with numerous conditions and restrictions, and not a few of these have been continued until the present time. These limitations have necessarily made the contract more burdensome and less valuable than it would have otherwise been, and caused much annoyance and no little loss to policy-holders. Progress in knowledge, in morals, and in business methods has, indeed, brought some improvements, the most notable being the non-forfeiture provisions first introduced by THE NEW YORK LIFE in 1860.

This company believes the time has now come for another radical departure from old methods, with respect to limitations on the conduct of the insured. Life Insurance is safe or possible only on the supposition that, to mass of mankind, life is more precious than money. Yet its history shows a certain timidity, or reluctance on the part of the companies to accept this principle to its fullest extent. The result has been that life policies have never furnished immediate, complete, and unquestionable protection.

THE NEW YORK LIFE.

After an experience of nearly fifty years now takes its stand upon the principle that, the present physical conditions, habits, etc., of an applicant being satisfactory, it is safe to insure him absolutely, without imposing any restrictions whatever with respect to occupation, residence, travel, habits of life or manner of death. Its

"Accumulation Policy."

Therefore, contains only the one condition—that the premiums be paid as agreed.

If the Insured Pays the Premiums, The Company Will Pay the Policy.
